A Duluth Clothing House Exclusively Men.

ESTABLISHED 1881.

The Autumn Suit---what shall it be? A serious question to the young man whose hard-earned dollars are to be invested in the clothes. A question of doubt and fear---wearing clothes is serious business. If they don't fit or if they shock your taste, then the joy of life is discounted.

We have left the beaten track and taken higher notions in selecting materials for Nobby, Stylish Suits. The real Scotch Suitings are meeting with such favor that we are already duplicating them, so far as we can get the goods, and already filling in the sizes. $15, $18, $20 up to $25.

For small boys we might tell stories of Suits at $3, and other grades, cheap but good--but you know it already. The special message today is of the Three-piece Suits for little men, 3 to 9 years, cutaway jacket, vest and Knickerbockers, $5 to $12.

The reputation of our Clothing Store is staked, this season, upon the advanced points of style and form of the garments we offer. The sales have doubled this month. Doesn't that show that we have struck the right chord? We think so.

The new Clothing space is Bright, Broad and Beautiful.

We pay the round trip fare to all customers from Old, South and West Superior, and all customers from New and West Duluth, Rice's Point and Lester Park, when buying goods amounting to $3.00 or over, and to all customers from Two Harbors when buying goods amounting to $10 or over.

WINDS DO HOWL.

Gales in the Channel do Incalculable Damage to Shipping and Farms.

Many Vessels are Wrecked and Their Crews Drop Into Foam-Topped Waves.

Life-Savers Utterly Unable to Save Life or to Assist the Wrecked.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Another furious southeasterly gale is sweeping over the British coasts and is causing an immense amount of damage. Many ships are ashore and their crews are drowned. Following so closely upon the many recent storms which have spread death and destruction on the coasts of England, Ireland and Scotland, and which have done an immense amount of damage to the crops, besides flooding whole districts, this latest storm is more than the British farmers can bear.

To give an entire list of the wrecks reported this morning would be difficult. A dispatch from Hythe, Kent, says that the schooner Edrimi foundered and that the vessel's captain, his wife and son were drowned.

A telegram from Sand Gate, not far from Hythe, says the British ship Bienvenue has been driven ashore there. The crew of the Sand Gate life station could not launch their boat. At each successive wave she was driven higher and higher upon the rocks. When the crew of the Bienvenue, lashed to the rigging, saw the futile efforts of the life savers to launch their boat and their failure to convey the line of breeches buoy to them, they gave up in despair. Hosts of volunteers went to the assistance of the regular life boat men and three times tried to get the life boat through the terrible surf but still without success. All this time the situation of the men in the rigging of the vessel became more desperate. One by one the numbed, weakened sailors dropped from the vessel's rigging into the sea and the sight nerved the volunteer life savers to renewed exertions.

Late this afternoon the efforts to save the crew of the Bienvenue resulted in serious loss of life. The Hythe life boat which finally got afloat after over a dozen fruitless efforts has been capsized while trying for the honor of reaching the ship-wrecked crew. Seven of the life savers have been drowned. Seventeen men are left clinging to the rigging of the Bienvenue and cannot be saved.

At Hastings, on the same coast and not very far from Sand Gate, the life boat is making a desperate and unsuccessful struggle to reach a barque ashore there. The prospects are that all her crew will be drowned. The rocket lines and life boat have failed to reach the stranded craft and it is feared that she will break up before assistance can reach her. Strange to say, in spite of this fearful weather, where life boats can hardly live and where stout vessels are being broken up, a small dog managed to swim ashore from the barque.

A fair idea of the force of the storm can be gained from the fact that the entire steamboat systems between Dover, Folkstode and Bolougne have been suspended in spite of the fact that the boats engaged in the services are accustomed to face the most severe weather imaginable. Many other wrecks are reported all along the channel coast.

From the inland districts come reports that the floods are increasing rapidly and on all sides are the telegraph poles and wires again blown down. Further excessive damage to property is reported from the country districts.

SENOR MATTA TALKS.

The Chilean Minister Believes America Has Rubbed it In.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Herald's Santiago correspondent has telegraphed his paper an interview had by him with Senor Matta, the Chilean minister of foreign affairs, whose reply to the demand of the United States for satisfaction on account of the Baltimore outrage, which has created so much dissension. The Chilean minister, in the course of the interview, expressed the opinion that the United States representatives there seemed to think they could in every way dictate to Chile as to what she should do and should not do under various conditions. This stand on the part of the United States representatives he added was untenable.

He denied the stories so persistently spread that Chile was unfriendly to the United States. Senor Matta said that the Chilean authorities would, upon the completion of the judicial inquiry into the attack upon the Baltimore's seaman, act speedily and fairly in arriving at a conclusion.

The correspondent says that throughout his conversation with the Chilean minister the latter spoke in a bitter vein, showing that he keenly felt the bitter attitude of the United States, and that he was annoyed that so great a nation should press matters so defiantly.

A Million Apiece.

STRATFORD, Conn., Nov. 11.—James, William and Robert Meachem, have received word from England that by the death of another brother's widow they are heirs to half of an estate of $6,000,000. The widow died childless and the fortune reverted by her husband's will to his six brothers.

She Meant It.

ST. PETER, Nov. 11.—A patient at the insane hospital here from Minneapolis, named Mrs. Maloney, deliberately committed suicide by setting herself on fire. She got up on a chair, threw her apron over the gas jet and thus set herself on fire and was fatally burned.

An Alliance Insurance Company.

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 11.—The state superintendent of insurance has notified the Farmers Alliance Mutual Benefit Life to quit business. The state farmers alliance decided to drop the Topeka company.

Back to Work.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—The men at Jones & Laughlin's mill, who have been on strike, returned today pending an investigation into their grievances.

Rooms and first-class day board at the Euclid hotel, 117 West Second street.

ANOTHER BURCHELL.

A Canadian Goes to Frisco and Mysteriously Disappears.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—What looks like a Burchell case has just come to light here. Three months ago Thomas Hendry, a former manager of the Hudson Bay company at Victoria, left his wife here and went to Los Angeles seeking investment for $5000, which he carried with him in bills. He wrote several times detailing places he had visited, and then the letters suddenly stopped. From that time his wife has been unable to secure a single clue to his fate. She sought the aid of the police and made a thorough search, but without result.

Being a proud English woman, with wealthy connections in Winnipeg, she carefully concealed the fact of her husband's disappearance. She believes he has been foully dealt with or has wandered away while temporarily insane. The Los Angeles police believe he has been decoyed to some lonely canon and murdered for his money. He has wealthy relatives in Canada who, when they learn of his disappearance will probably push the search for him.

THE TWO SLEEPERS.

One Succumbs After Six Months, the Other Dying.

DETROIT, Nov. 11.—George A. Wiard, of Montague, who went to sleep on May 1 and did not awaken thereafter, died Sunday night. His protracted slumber followed a very obstinate attack of the grip. About Aug. 1 he moved slightly and uttered a few words, but he did not regain consciousness. Before this singular affliction Wiard was a powerful young man, weighing 170 pounds. At his weath he weighed 50 pounds.

Miss May White, of Stockbridge, has been sleeping five months. Her physicians can arouse her each day, but after an hour or more of conversation she sinks into a profound slumber. Her weight has been reduced from 135 pounds to 70. In her waking moments she speaks hopefully of recovery, but it is believed she cannot long survive.

CONTINUING BELL MONOPOLY.

The Bell Telephone Said to Have a 14-Year Sinch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The report is current that the commissioner of patents has issued a patent or taken some action which will attract a great deal of attention in the country. The effect of it is said to be to give to the Bell Telephone company a patent on some of the important inventions which it controls for an additional period of 14 years.

No information is furnished as to details; but it is assumed by those familiar with the litigation that the patent which has been issued or the action which has been taken is the result of one of the long-pending "interference" cases, both sides of which are said to have been owned by the Bell company.

The Sayward Case.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The important announcement made in the supreme court by Attorney General Miller during the argument in the Sayward case, that the United States and Great Britain had agreed to submit the Bering sea controversy to arbitration, was the first intimation that the correspondence on the subject that has been carried on for some time past between the two countries, had at last resulted in a satisfactory agreement.

Attorney General Miller refused to talk on his revelation further than to say that an agreement as to the questions to be submited for arbitration had been reached and only awaited the sanction of the senate before being placed before the persons that will be selected to settle the matter.

A NEW THROUGH ROUTE.

San Francisco Will Now Get One Competing Road.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 11.—The Rio Grande Western road admits that it will at once commence building west from Ogden and will not stop operations until it has reached San Francisco. The route is now surveyed to the Sierra mountains, but no route over the range has yet been decided upon, although there are three under consideration.

Hard Times in Italy.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Times' Rome dispatch says that the speech of Rudini at Milan has caused a slight rise in rentes, the premium on gold is rising and silver has almost disappeared from circulation. Banks will not redeem notes in silver and fractional currency cannot be obtained even at premium. Government notes offered in payment for telegraph tolls are refused by the officials of the telegraph offices.

LABOR'S KNIGHTS.

The General Assembly of the Knights of Labor in Session at Toledo.

General Master Workman Powderly Makes a Report and Gives Counsel.

He Thinks Those Seeking Political Preferment Should Resign Their Positions.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 11.—The Knights of Labor in general assembly spent the morning in discussing the report of the committee on credentials, and this afternoon it is expected that the report of the committee on law will be reached. Telegrams of congratulation were sent this morning to the Marble Workers' National union in session at Baltimore and the farmers' alliance in session at Sedalia.

General Master Workmen Powderly's report covers many importants topics. He first takes up the work accomplished by the efforts of the order in the line of reform. He advises that the general assembly leave the work of framing local laws to the local assembly. On the question of politics, Mr. Powderly insists that when an officer seeks political preferment he should retire from his official position in the order. He speaks of the good influence exerted by the adoption of the noted section 343 by the last assembly, which gave the chief officials power to discipline members who defamed the order or anyone belonging to it in the newspapers. The general executive board should be given power to hear testimony.

Mr. Powderly gives his approval to the industrial conference to be held in Washington next February. He congratulates the knights on the growing strength of the opinion that the government should operate the railroads and thinks the time near at hand when this will be brought about.

He next took up the question of ballot reform and claims much credit for the order because of the fact that in 18 states a secret ballot had been secured. He suggests that the following preamble be added: That all laws shall be submitted to the people for their scrutiny and approval before they are passed upon by congresses or legislatures.

The report closes with a touching reference to the death of Richard Griffiths, formerly worthy foreman of the order.

The various delegates gave very interesting reports of the temperance movement in foreign lands. The regulation committees were also appointed and routine business taken up and considered.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 11.—The largest suit ever filed in Alabama was started today. It is that of the government against the Tennessee & Coosa Railroad company and others, and involves 75,000 acres of land along that road. The government claims that it never gave up the right to the land and will ask for a receiver. Much of the property has been sold by the railroad company and improved. The amount of money involved is several millions.

BANKERS MEET.

Will Act on Silver and Bank, Instead of National, Currency.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—Bankers and financiers generally, from all sections of the country, convened this morning in Greenwald hall. The seventeenth annual convention of the American Bankers association was called to order by Hon. Morton McMichael Jr., of the First National bank of Philadelphia.

Unusual efforts had been put forward to secure a full attendance, as the convention will consider important propositions on the silver question, and also to take some action towards inaugurating a movement for the substitution of bank currency for governmennt issue.

After routine opening business, a paper on "Recent Railroad Legislation and its Effect Upon the Finances of the United States," was presented by Professor Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale. Geo. S. Coe, president of the American Exchange National, of New York, inaugurated a debate upon "The Bank System and the Currency of the Future." Wm. B. Greene, secretary, strongly advocated a plan to establish a fund for standing rewards for criminals who have committed crimes against the banking community. It is probable that the plan will be carried out.

AFFAIRS IN BRAZIL.

Reports of the Condition of Affairs Emanate in London.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The state department has heard nothing from Minister Conger about the reported unsettled state of affairs in Brazil. It is stated on excellent authority that the reports from London, of the secession of three of the provinces of Brazil, undoubtedly emanated in London to influence the stock exchange to the benefit of England and that is simply an endeavor on the part of England to make the situation of affairs in Brazil appear as complicated as possible, hoping by such means to cripple the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Brazil.

Admiral Mello, a strong believer in the republican form of government of Brazil, is leader of the opposition party in the Brazilian navy and he has already openly protested against any change in the form of government and he particularly protests against De Fonseca's alleged determination to reduce the number of the members of the chamber of deputies to 80.

An Oil Fire.

MCDONALD, Pa., Nov. 11.—McDonald has had another very narrow escape from destruction by fire at an early hour this morning. The pumper at the Butler well was guaging his tanks when the gas ignited from his lantern. With a flash the tank of oil was enveloped in flames and the oil on the creek was burning fiercely as it floated along, communicating the flames with everything on its banks. The known losses aggregate $25,000, partly insured. The Butler well is yet burning, and the loss cannot be accurately estimated.

A Little Mill Burns.

FINDLAY, Ohio, Nov. 11.—This morning the flouring mill of McMannes & Arnold took fire and owing to the high wind the fire gained such headway that the efforts of the entire department failed to check it, and the mill with 250,000 bushels of wheat was destroyed, causing a loss of $50,000; insurance, $12,000.

Tenny a Horse Wreck.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—It was currently reported at Guttenburg yesterday that the great race horse Tenny has been again broken down, but investigation proves that this is not entirely true. He is in a bad way, however, and there is a possibility that he will never race again. Some weeks ago he was blistered preparatory to being turned out for the winter. Instead of healing properly, his legs have been in bad shape ever since.

Hanging Too Easy.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 11.—Henry Curtis, colored, who killed an old man named Waller Sept. 5, 1889, was hung today. The murder was a most cowardly and brutal one. He awakened Waller about midnight, struck him a fearful blow, rendering the old man senseless, and wrapped the body in a blanket, saturated with kerosene, and burned him.

Strike on the Southern Pacific.

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 11.—The grievance committee of conductors and brakemen of the Southern Pacific road, is in this city with his committee and today will have a conference with the general superintendent. The entire Southern Pacific system is involved. The men demand an increase in wages all around.

To Restrict Paper Money.

MADRID, Nov. 11.—The prime minister and governor of the Bank of Spain conferred today and decided that it was necessary to take steps to reduce the gold premium and improve the position of the bank. Accordingly the recent law restricting the note issue will be rigidly enforced.

Uneasy in Equador.

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Nov. 11.—Municipal elections were commenced Nov. 7 and have been attended with bitter political feuds, which have caused intense excitement and bloodshed. The police opened fire upon the populace and wounded several persons. Further trouble is feared.

Mrs. Parnell Censured.

DUBLIN, Nov. 11.—The National Press bitterly condemns Mrs. Parnell for ordering the Paris fund to remain locked up and claims that she has conspired with Mr. Harrison to keep the money from the evicted tenants.

A Heavy Loss in Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 11.—A disastrous fire destroyed four big stores in this city this morning and the total loss incurred is estimated at $125,000. The insurance is about one-third that amount. Padget's furniture store suffered heavy loss.

The West Not in It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Judge Dill, of Iowa, and ex-Assistant Secretary of State Porter, Tennessee, are to be selected as two new interstate commissioners.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Nov. 11.—As anticipated yesterday, the two storms that were to have joined forces and are now central over Lake Superior moving East. They have been accompanied by rain and snow in nearly all sections and how Duluth escaped is something out of the ordinary, as rain fell at every station around here and every indication pointed towards a heavy storm in this section.

The cold wave mentioned yesterday has materialized and is rapidly moving down this way from the Northwest, but in the absence of reports from the entire North it can not now be told whether it will be severe or or not. The lowest temperature reported this morning is 6° at Helena, Mont., it was 12° at Miles City, 16° at Bismarck, 22° at Pierre and North Platte, Neb., 30° at Moyrhead and La Crosse, 32° at Duluth and St. Paul, 38° at Chicago and 44° at Cincinnati. The warmest place is Buffalo 50°.

The cold wave flag was hoisted for the first time this season in the city and the temperature is expected to go to 20° or lower by 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Cautionary Northwest storm signals are ordered for all points on Lakes Superior and Michigan and for Green Bay.

DULUTH, Nov. 11.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Nov. 12: Fair, colder.

B. H. BRONSON, Observer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. — For Wisconsin: Brisk and high westerly winds; cloudiness and light rain or snow; decidedly colder.

For Minnesota: Decidedly colder; northwesterly winds; cloudiness and light flurries of snow; decidedly colder and fair Thursday.

For Dakota: Decidedly cold northwesterly winds; fair weather except flurries of snow in eastern portions; continued cold and fair Thursday.

BLAST FURNACES.

The citizens of Duluth do not generally realize the vast importance to the city of the success of the enterprise now about to be inaugurated by the opening of the great blast furnace at West Duluth. As the Herald has before pointed out, this is the first furnace ever built on Lake Superior—or near the ore and not near the fuel—to smelt ores with coke as fuel. There are in operation several small and one good sized furnace smelting ore with charcoal, but the great demand of the manufacturing world is for coke iron, the product of charcoal furnaces making but little figure in the vast output of and call for pig iron.

There has been nothing done of late years in the Northwest so fraught with big possibilities as this smelting iron with coke, and it is a matter for congratulation that it is to be done here by men of experience and ability and faith. It is the only experimental matter in steel making at at the head of the lakes. Once get the suitable pig iron on the ground and it requires only skill and capital to produce steel forms of all kinds,—plate, beams, rails, merchant forms, and all the diverse shapes and qualities of steel. Steel can be produced from pig iron anywhere. It takes more than this to make pig iron. Advantages of location, freight and labor are necessary. These the men who are to operate Duluth's furnace believe this city has.

Such a furnace as this of Duluth will consume 200 tons of ore daily, 6000 per month, 72,000 per year. Lake freights on wheat to lower lake ports are now 8 cents a bushel, the equivalent of $3.24 a ton on ore, and there is no prospect that they will be any less this year. In such a condition of affairs and with coal freights as now, at 10 cents a ton, which is likely to recur with perhaps less force frequently, a Duluth furnace has an advantage that cannot be equalled. Next season's outlook is for much the same traffic relations. At the opening of navigation every elevator and warehouse at Duluth, Chicago and every Western point will be filled with an amount of corn, wheat, flour, and other breadstuffs, there will be a heavy demand for coal and merchandise in the West and a great amount of iron ore will be required in the East. Freights will rule higher all the year.

This is in favor of the furnaces at Duluth, and is of the deepest interest to anyone who believes, as does The Herald, that at Duluth is to grow up one of the greatest centers of blast furnaces, rolling mills and steel plants, which will consume at home a great proportion of the rich ores mined at our doors on the Vermilion, Gogebic and Mesaba ranges.

JUST ONE POINTER.

The gas and water company has 177,000 feet of mains in Duluth. On this length of mains, 87,000 feet of abutting property is improved and 90,000 is unimproved. Of the improved property, 59,000 feet is using city water and 28,000 is not. Thus out of a total of 177,000 feet of mains 59,000, or exactly one-third, uses water, while 118,000, or exactly two-thirds, is not supplied. Thus the earning capacity of the plant without any further extension might be trebled at the company's rate and with the present average character of improvements. But this average will in future be very materially raised by the construction of tenement houses, apartment hotels, and other larger buildings which will vastly increase the consumption of water. Many dwellings, too, will use it more extensively, and thus, even at a lower rate, the earning capacity of the plant may be multiplied several times within its present limits. The capitalists who established the plant bore the brunt of the burden and suffered considerable loss. The city has a chance to buy it just as it is becoming a source of profit. Vote for the bonds.

AND THIS IS POLITICS.

Duluth News: It is also said on good authority that E. G. Swanstrom, foreman of the late grand jury and assignee of T. O. Hall, is so anxious to have the latter convicted, that he has given Mr. Tear to understand that the Scandinavian vote next fall depends upon the conviction of the defendant.

We have nothing to say in defense of Mr. Hall, and have no doubt the courts will do him justice, but the above statement if true shows a shameful state of facts.

University extension has reached Duluth on an educational campaign and we are glad to welcome it. Commerce and culture should go hand in hand, but commerce is so big this year he may have to put his arm around culture to help her along. Let her come, and that very quickly. We are for the movement. It means illumination to the everday mind, the bringing of university advantages close to those who have not enjoyed them within college walls. Professor Judson, of the State university and the highest authority on the subject, will give a free lecture at Temple Opera Friday night on this now absorbing theme. Brief introductory remarks will be made by Professor R. E. Denfeld and C. A. Towne. Wake up and hear them, or wake up afterwards.

When a year ago Major McKinley was gerrymandered out of his reelection to congress where he would have been useful to both parties, everyone with any political foresight saw that he was the natural and necessary next republican candidate for governor of Ohio with victory assured. The prophecy has been fulfilled and he has received his reward. In private character above reproach and one of the purest minded of our public men, he will make an able and dignified executive every way worthy, as his predecessor has also proved himself, of the great state over which he will preside. In his behalf, as well as that of Governor Campbell, it should be remembered that the Ohio executive has not the veto power nor even the privilege of signing bills when passed.

One of the certain causes of Governor Campbell's defeat in Ohio was his party forcing him to defend the indefensible. The independent free coinage of silver by the United States under existing conditions at home and abroad would prove not only a great bonus to the mine owners, which might better be saved to the people, but would ultimately result in financial disaster the dimensions and far-reaching effects of which the wisest cannot foresee. It would, in the first place, be class legislation, to which every citizen should be opposed, but beyond that, because of the full legal tender of the depreciated silver dollar, it would in time greatly disturb the finances of the country, withdraw capital from investment, and cripple every industry.

The Marinette Iron works, which have just finished for the Imperial mill a 1000-horse power engine that is a marvel of perfection of its kind, have made a contract with Capt. McDougall to build him a triple expansion engine also of 1000-horse power for one of his new whalebacks. These are both marine engines and the first of their class ever built between Milwaukee and the Pacific. But then this is no surprise, as we now make nearly everything in Duluth, trunks, furniture, railway cars, stationary engines, flour, lumber, sash and blinds, and many other lines, while along with the last came boots and shoes. Duluth, the solid, do move.

The Herald has no use for gerrymandering by whatever party it may be practiced, and the world knows they all do it, but everyone must concede that when a state ticket is carried by 45,000, as was the case in New York, the legislature would be carried by the same party were there an honest apportionment. Such frauds on the ballot are corrupting and contemptible beyond measure, and any party permitting them can gain little sympathy in a campaign of stop thief. The returns justify the assertion.

The typhoid epidemic a year ago was attributed largely to bad water furnished by the gas and water company. If that belief is true another epidemic may come, for the supply is practically the same. There are some citizens in this town that we could not spare just now for all the gas and water plant is costing us. Who can set the value on a single life, much less on that of a public-spirited hustler? Register tomorrow and vote for the bonds.

The Duluth pilgrims are meeting with royal receptions all along the line. They spent last night at Fargo, and tonight will leave Devils Lake at 11 o'clock, arriving at Neche in the morning. Most of us are here but our hearts are with them. They will return in time not to desecrate Sunday.

The city, if it purchases the gas and water plant, will have to pay about $375,000 in cash and assume the balance in debts which it can refund at a very low rate of interest. If Duluth grows as rapidly as we all believe it will, the debt will be paid out of net earnings of the plant.

Tomorrow, from noon till 9 p. m., is the last day to register for the gas and water bond election. If you didn't vote at the special water bond election in August you must register before you can vote again. Thus saith the law.

There is to be no war with Britain. The powers that have agreed to arbitrate the Bering Sea dispute. Thus does civilization civilize.

Tomorrow from noon until 9 p. m. is the last chance to register. About 7000 voters are not on the list.

Now let congress convene if it dare and, as Mr. Cable's crooles would say, "begin a grind." The country has a full crop and can stand a good grist.

PERHAPS the reason the presbytery jumped astride Dr. Briggs was because he carried only two masts on his gospel ship.

NOTES ON UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

The annual meeting of the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching took place yesterday at Philadelphia. Addresses were made by Provost Pepper of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. E. J. James, president of the society, and by Dr. DeGarmo, president of the Swarthmore college. Secretary Henderson presented a report of the work of the society during the past year. The leading position which Philadelphia has taken in the introduction of university extension in this country, and the successful efforts which culminated in the formation of a national society, made this first annual meeting an occasion of special significance.

A world's conference on university extension, to meet at Chicago in 1893, has been called. The universities of Cambridge and Oxford and the London society have already agreed to send delegates, and it is hoped that Scotland, France, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Germany, Austria, India and Cape Colony may be represented. The great universities of the Eastern United States are interested in the questions, and the new University of Chicago is already strongly committed to the idea. Now that university extension in the United States reaches from ocean to ocean, the need for consolidation, for careful and well-advised advance, becomes imperative.

The statement is frequently made that the mission of university extension is especially to the poor and lowly. This is true only because it is for the whole nation. President Andrews, of Brown, says: "Extension work particularly appeals to college graduates, women of leisure, business men and teachers. In the lecture-room and classes will be found all kinds of people—ladies, young and old, business and professional men, workingmen, mechanics, clerks, teachers and scholars."

During the past year the Cambridge university extension of England has awarded certificates to more than 1000 women and about 400 men; while to 30 women and 18 men the vice-chancellor's certificate has been awarded.

HE DIED A DRUNKARD.

Death of Col. John F. Mines, L. L. D., Known as Felix Oldboy; One of Keeley's "Five Per Cent."

The death from alcoholism of Col. John F. Mines, L. L. D., in New York, will attract almost as much attention as his article on the Keeley cure for drunkenness in the North American Review for October. In that article Col. Mines described his life in Dr. Keeley's institution and testified to his own complete emancipation from the craving for drink. The article was well written, and its author's joy over his newly acquired freedom gave it a very cheerful tone.

It was in April last that Col. Mines' treatment began, and since a day in April, when he took some whisky by Dr. Keeley's advice, until about two weeks ago, he had drunk nothing. Two weeks ago Col. Mines began to drink again. On Wednesday last he was found drunk in the gutter, was sent to the workhouse on Blackwell's island, and died there Thursday morning.

Of course a great deal will be made of this story. The public, which is watching the Keeley cure with interest, will give at least as much attention as it deserves to the case of every backslider. It should be remembered, however, that the backsliders are few, and that the publicity given by Col. Mines to his reformation may easily make his relapse seem more important than it is. The Keeley cure professes only to take away the appetite for liquor, not to prevent its being acquired again. How Col. Mines again began to drink is not known. He seems to have begun suddenly, to have had the old thirst return upon him with a rush. He was a willing patient, and had not tasted drink for two months before treatment began.

Lake Superior Stone Better.

Northwestern Architect: According to press reports the supervising architect of the treasury has followed a rather peculiar line of reasoning in determining on the material with which to face the walls of a government building about to be built in Duluth. He is reported as favoring a well-known Indiana limestone as against a Lake Superior brown sandstone because of greater resistance shown to crushing by the former. The sample of brownstone tested was inferior in strength to the best samples, but unless the requirements of the building are vastly different from others of its class, its strength would not be tested in practice to a degree worth considering. Good grades of Lake Superior brownstone are successfully used in 12-story business blocks where their resistance to crushing is tried many times as much as in the average government building. There is nothing about the exterior of the Duluth government building, as published in this journal this month that would indicate a demand for an unusually hard stone. From the general appearance we would think the crushing load on a square foot in the building would be about the same as that under which the square inch tested gave way. A proper inquiry regarding stone to be used in such a building would be directed mainly to its weathering qualities. It is safe to say that for resistance to the action of frost, sun and shower, or the corroding action of smoke laden city atmosphere, the better grades of Lake Superior sandstone have shown themselves better than any limestone used in the Northwest. Furthermore, it has a way of preserving its original appearance in smoky city atmospheres very much better than most stones—in particular better than the limestone alluded to, which in Chicago becomes as black as a boot.

Dollars for Your Thoughts!
A CHANCE FOR ARTISTIC AND LITERARY TALENT.
We need TWENTY or MORE original and striking designs for Newspaper Advertisements of SANTA CLAUS SOAP. The manufacturers, Messrs. N. K. Fairbank & Co., authorize us to pay for approved drawings with appropriate reading; or $5.00 each for designs or reading matter only. This offer is open to all who have facility in illustration. The competition will close December 10, 1891. About January 1, 1892, we will pay for accepted designs, and return the others.
Ten Dollars Each
Directions.—Make drawings with black ink on heavy white paper, or card board. Do the work in outline. Elaborate shading will not print well. Space in papers will be about four inches square. Draw to larger scale if you prefer, but have design square. The idea is most important. If that is good we can have it redrawn and still give you credit. Avoid doggerel in which soap rhymes with hope, &c.
Points.—Santa Claus is a pure, high-grade Soap—made for laundry and general household use—a favorite wherever known. Generous praise will be well bestowed. Sold by all grocers, wholesale and retail.

LISTEN TO REASON AND MAKE MONEY.
Splendid Opportunities.
The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this way however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your eisure, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or petsons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

DULUTH JOBBING TRADE

It Shows a Total of a Round Twenty Million Dollars for the Selling Year Now About Ended,

With Splendid Increase in All Departments and Many New Lines Present and Expected.

The Marinette Iron Works Company Is to Build a Triple Horse Power Whaleback Engine.

It would hardly be believed that Duluth is doing a jobbing business in a few staple lines, and exclusive of flour, salt, lumber and coal, of over $7,000,000 this year. Such, however, is the fact as vouched for by conservative jobbers in the various lines of trade. The following estimate of business for the present year is made by jobbers who are in a position to know what they are talking about and who are not in the habit of exaggerating. It is in direct comparison with a business of $1,500,000 in the same lines four years ago.

Groceries	2,500,000
Hardware	1,800,000
Cement, plaster, hair, etc.	600,000
Dry Goods	700,000
Footwear	500,000
Dressed meats	1,000,000
Liquor and cigars	600,000
Fish, fresh and dressed	200,000
Produce and feed	800,000
Other minor lines	500,000
	9,200,000

Besides this splendid total come the heavy lines of lumber, salt, flour and coal, the salt referred to being that sold by Twin City jobbers to their own customers and ordered by them direct of Duluth, they thus shipping this heavy line of goods from this city to their own customers, without its passing through their hands at St. Paul or Minneapolis. It does not, therefore, come properly under Duluth sales at all. These heavy lines swell the total above as follows:

Total as above	9,200,000
Flour	3,800,000
Coal	4,500,000
Lumber	2,500,000
Total of business	20,000,000

The surpassing advantages of Duluth as a jobbing center have been often brought forward and then figures need no argument. It must be remembered that in dry goods and boots and shoes the year has not seen a full twelve month's trade, the Duluth Dry Goods company and the Shoe company beginning business on the fag end of the spring traffic. Expected increases in the trade for the coming year include the establishment of drug and clothing houses and the opening here of a large Northwestern headquarters by a New York concern known the world over as the biggest in its line. Besides this the dry goods company will erect a building of its own, leaving its present stores entirely to the shoe company, and the Stone-Ordean company will have new 6-story stores.

St. Paul Will Excurse.

Mayor Davis has returned from St. Paul. "Night before last," said he, "the St. Paul business men formed a commercial club for the purpose of booming the town. They don't look with pleasure down there on Duluth's excursion into the country and will probably have an excursion of their own soon. They are alarmed at the position Duluth is fast assuming in the jobbing world."

ENGINES FOR WHALEBACKS.

Marinette Company Gets a Contract that Will Probably Precede Many.

Tuesday afternoon Manager Prescott, of the Marinette Iron works, closed a contract with Capt. McDougall for building the first triple expansion engine ever constructed between Milwaukee and San Francisco. It will be built at the Marinette company's shops at West Duluth and will go into one of the biggest McDougall whalebacks now planned. It to be delivered at the shipyard before the opening of navigation. The engine, which is designed by Mr. Mahon, the Marinette company's marine designer, who has built as many of the modern marine engines as any man on the lakes, will weigh something like 80 tons, and its value will be somewhere between $20,000 and $25,000. It will generate about 1000 horse power.

The Marinette company has just completed and is setting up in the Duluth Imperial flour mill, a fore and aft compound, marine type, Corlis valve 1000 indicated horse power engine, for driving the 3500 barrels of machinery of one side the mill. This is also the first machine of its style, or anything near its power, ever built between Lake Michigan and the Pacific coast. It weighs 80 tons, stands about 35 feet high, has steam cylinder 32 inches diameter, low pressure cylinder 58 inches and a piston stroke of 4 feet. Its flywheel is 21 feet in diameter and is 40 inches broad on the face and weighs 20 tons. The transmission of power from this engine is hemp rope, the flywheel being grooved for 1¾-inch ropes, which will run the entire machinery of half the mill.

McGOLRICK'S IDEAS.

He Favors the Faribault Transfer; Ireland and Irish Politics.

Bishop James McGolrick, of Duluth, arrived in New York Monday, after a five months' tour of the British isles. He said:

"I have the greatest confidence in the ultimate success of the Irish cause. The Parnell faction is very small indeed now. Many of those who are following the Parnellite banner are men who owed their positions in parliament and elsewhere to Parnell, and from a sense of duty and gratitude they stood by him after his difficulty, and through a false sentiment they still continue to do so. In my opinion Parnell's death cannot help being a good thing for Ireland."

"What is the position of the English liberal party?"

"Just the same as it has been all the time—in favor of home rule for Ireland. The conservatives recognize the trend of public opinion, and they have been compelled to adopt a home rule measure in self defense. Between the two parties Ireland is bound to get some measure of home rule. A. J. Balfour, the former secretary for Ireland and now the conservative leader in the house of commons, has proposed a very good measure. It provides for the election of magistrates, etc., but, personally, I prefer Gladstone's measure."

Bishop McGolrick thought the rioting at Cork and the anti-Catholic faction in America did not amount to much.

Speaking of the parochial school transfers at Faribault and Stillwater he said: "It is an excellent idea, and I believe it is bound to be generally adopted throughout the country. We want to be one people speaking one language and thoroughly American. We don't want German, Norwegian or Irish ideas or customs fostered into this country. Of course, there will always be some who will continually revile the catholics and seek to make capital out of it. As to sisters wearing the dress of their order in the schoolroom, they, of course, could not be expected to leave it off; but protestant children are sent to them in boarding schools where they wear them, and no objection is made."

MR. MELBER'S IDEA.

The Incline Engineer on the Hill as a Residence Section.

Engineer Melber, who has been building cars for the Seventh avenue incline, will depart for Pittsburgh tomorrow. "You will find," said he to a Herald man "that the top of your hill will be most rapidly developed by the building of the cable line, and it will be only the matter of a short time before you will have other lines running up the hill. That has been the experience in every progressive hill town. Pittsburgh has at least a dozen cable lines and every one of them pays. Instead of busting the existing lines a new one seems to help them every time. I have been looking over the prices of your lots here and believe that the property on the top of the hill is very cheap." It will not remain so long."

There is now no likelihood that Mr. Melber will have a hand in bridging the canal. It seems that the city wants to have him to do the work, if he can figure with the city satifactorily, but the charter requires that work must be let only in competition. The committee in whose charge bridge matters are generally left have proposed to Mr. Melber that he furnish plans for $1000, but he says it would not pay him to bother with the scheme unless he at least had the superintendency of construction. It is possible that some agreement will be reached later under which Mr. Melber will submit plans.

Lumber Notes.

Hon. Hugh Price, Wisconsin's World's fair commissioner, has arranged for securing the mammoth cork pine log of W. R. Sutherland, of Ashland, for forestry at the World's fair. It is 24 feet in length and will scale 5500 feet. Cork pine is rapidly disappearing in this section. One plank he cut was 16 feet long, 4 inches thick and 44 inches wide, without a knot.

The biggest winter's work ever done in the pineries of Pine county, along the St. Paul & Duluth, will be done this winter. The Brennan company will put in over 30,000,000; the Willow River company over 15,000,000, and others almost as much. Crews are now at preparatory work. On account of recent forest fires the timber has to be cut to save the lumber.

The Herman sawmill at New Duluth has shut down for the season. The Richards mill has about 1,000,000 feet of logs yet to saw.

To Receive Their Bishop.

At the regular meeting of the A. O. H. held last evening arrangements were made for the reception of Bishop McGolrick. The society will assemble at its hall at 6:15 Monday evening in full regalia. A delegation will also leave the city on the limited in the afternoon and meet the bishop at Hinckley and accompany him to the city, where he will be met by all the societies at the Union depot.

Where the Dresses Came From.

The wife of a bookkeeper in one of our mills has had so many new clothes this fall that the neighbors wondered how her husband could afford it.

It came out recently that they were all old clothes, colored over with Diamond Dyes. She says that now her wardrobe is full, she is going to fix up her husband's clothes in the same economical way.

City Clerk's Office.
DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 3, 1891.

To the Electors of the City of Duluth:

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the present election law requires the board of registers to make the registry list of those voting at the last previous election and of such persons in addition as present themselves for registration. A person not voting at the special election of August 4, 1891, must present themselves for registration the days for which are Thursday, November 5 and Friday, November 6, 1891, and Thursday, November 12, 1891. I give this notice because of so few having voted at the election held August 4, 1891, and desiring to vote at the election to be held November 19, 1891.

Very respectfully
FRANK BURKE, JR.,
City Clerk.

PISTOLS ON TRAINS.

A Lively Scene Follows a Robbery on a South Shore Duluth-Bound Passenger This Morning.

A Verdant Provincial from New York is Easily Caught on a Shallow Monte and Confidence Game.

One of the Robbers Caught, but the Other Gets Into the Forests of Superior With the Boodle.

There was an exciting episode just this side of Old Superior on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic train that arrived here this morning at 6:45.

It seems that a New Yorker, who doesn't want his name to get out, had been playing cards with a couple of three card monte men and one of them said something to insinuate that the New Yorker didn't have any money. The latter drew out $600 in bills to give his accuser the lie and the latter grabbed the roll. Thereupon the third man, a pal of the thief, seized the latter and told the victim to go call the conductor to help the pal arrest the grabber. The New Yorker bit and while he was gone the thieves stopped the train and jumped off.

Conductor Sims and a dozen others immediately gave chase and after the conductor had fired two shots into the air the pal of the thief threw up his hands. He was about to use a 44-calibre revolver when arrested. His confederate escaped, being a very swift runner, and took the money with him. The prisoner was lodged in jail at West Superior, where he is well known as Dutchy. He is a bad-looking citizen, dressed in fair clothes, and claims that his name is John Houck and that his home is in Baltimore.

H. D. Fisher, the man who founded Florence, Wis., was on the train and saw it all after the money had been stolen "It was exciting," said he to a Herald man. "I was a little later about getting up than most of the passengers in the sleeper, and I had just stepped out into the aisle when a man came along from the back part of the sleeper and tried to get past me. He said 'we must get off this train at once. Let us get by,' and he was very excited about it and had a look on his face that showed me he had been doing something wrong, so that I got right in his way and stopped him. Then he rushed back and I heard a great noise in the rear of the car. At the same time I was shouting at the people in the car to stop them.

"In a moment the signal was given to stop the train and I noticed that the rope was pulled from the rear. A moment later the conductor and train hands rushed in, but by the time they had got to the rear end of the car the thieves were off. The conductor gave the signal to back toward Old Superior and when we had gained considerable on the runaways he and others jumped off and gave chase. The capture was very cleverly made."

Conductor Drake, of the sleeper, tells a slightly different story. He says that three men got on at Saxton, two of whom sat down in a double seat in the day coach occupied by the New Yorker. These two gambled a little by themselves and the pal came up and pretended to arrest them, but finally sat down at a four-handed game in which the New Yorker joined. The New Yorker finally showed his money. One of the men got off when the train stopped at Atlantic Junction and the other two a little later showed that they had been there before by putting on the air brake after they had reached the rear platform of the sleeper. The captured man had to be thrown before the handcuffs could be put on him, and before West Superior was reached he offered Conductors Sims and Drake $100 each to release him. The man who is fleeced is quite gray-headed and was on his way to Butte. He has $15 left.

STORES OPEN EVENINGS.

A Compromise to be Made by Retail Clerks and Employers.

The meeting of the Retail Clerks' union last evening was well attended and quite a number of important matters pertainmg to the welfare of the retail clerks were discussed. Several applications for membership were received. Among those admitted to membership was Alfred C. Bevers, a tailor, and a prominent member of the tailors' union, but while he works according to the tailors' scale his hours are the same as those of clerks. In Mr. Bevers the union feels it has a valuable addition to its membership, as he is a union man of long experience. The organization though comparatively small at present was never on a firmer foundation, and is doing a great deal of hard work for the good of clerks.

An effort is being made, with fair hopes of success, to bring all merchants of the city into line on a certain hour for closing which probably can be brought about by a compromise. While the majority have expressed themselves as in favor of continuing the present system of early closing, no doubt closing an additional hour or so later each evening might be more satisfactory to all concerned. This would apply more especially to the clothing and boot and shoe houses for probably without an exception the dry goods houses are well satisfied with the hours for closing as they now are—some of these, and among them one or two who were decidedly opposed to the early closing movement when first inaugurated, have given their word to members of the union that they would not make a change under any consideration unless it might be to close half an hour earlier, 6 o'clock.

A few weeks ago the official badge of the R. C. N. P. A. was adopted by the local union and a quantity ordered which have now arrived and will soon be worn by members. Cards calling the attention of union men to this badge will soon be printed and placed in the meeting places of the various unions of the city.

FOOLHARDY GASFITTERS.

Two Are Almost Asphyxiated by Water Gas This Morning.

There was considerable excitement across the street from the city hall this morning, where two pipemen, employed by the gas and water company, were overcome by gas. They had been sent to change the gas meter in Farrel & Sullivan's plumbing shop, and Charles Price, quite a smart looking fellow of middle age, had gone inside a little space just large enough to contain his body, in order to do the work. The escaping gas soon compelled him to crawl out and a pitiable sight he was. Pete Johnson then went in and didn't know enough to get out in time. The people in the shop finally noticed that he was almost gone and pulled him out. The two men were dosed with milk as an antidote and citizens dragged Johnson up and down the sidewalk to resuscitate him. It will be some days before he will recover. Price had only partially recovered when he risked his life again by going in. He finally had to be taken out.

The Water Question.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Regarding our water affair, I see in your report of the meeting held at Svea hall at the west end Mr. Haskins claims that it would be a hardship and a burden to the people on the hill to ask them to pay for the water whether using it or not. Now, I don't think Mr. Haskins is acquainted with the situation on the hill any better than Mr. Baker, for I can state here and prove my statement that I have been compelled to pay from 25 to 30 cents a barrel for water for the past three years, and I can produce the names of many others in the same boat. Now, if the hill people are opposed to being taxed for water that won't cost five cents a barrel, I should like to know who they are and what their water is costing them at present. A CLIFF DWELLER.

The Calendar.

How many men who have a calendar of the year hanging beside their desks—how many of the people who can't keep house without an almanac—know that about 300 years ago a very important change was made in our reckoning of time? Up to the time of Julius Cæsar, the Romans divided the year into 10 months, of very unequal lengths. One of the chief purposes of a calendar is to mark a fixed date as the beginning of a year, and to do this, it should be always at the same distance from the spring and fall equinoxes. In the time of Cæsar, the science of astronomy was not very exact, and the small error of 11 minutes in the length of the year was made. In the Sixteenth century the churchmen, who had a great many religious festivals, found that whereas the equinox was on March 25 when the Julian calendar was made, in 1582 it had fallen back to March 11. The great festival of the church, Easter, was thus getting back into the winter. Pope Gregory XIII, came to the rescue, and after consultation with the learned of the day, issued, in October, 1582, a brief by which the date was arbitrarily advanced ten days—and that is our present calendar. Russia, under the Greek church, did not follow this, and still keeps the old style. To always have the correct date in your home or office, get one of the calendars issued by "The Burlington," and to meet your engagements in other places, buy your railroad tickets over that line. All further information will be given by agents, or can be had by applying to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

BUTTERWORTH QUO

Would Establish Schools in Italy in Place of Old Churches.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Ben Butterworth is in hot water and may lose his position as secretary and solicitor general of the World's fair. In a speech delivered at the Standard club Tuesday night he is reported to have said:

"Italy is suffering from overtaxation. What the church leaves the army takes. If I owned Italy I'd hold an auction and invite all America and I'd sell 20,000 crucifixes and madonnas and 1000 churches and I'd establish schools in lheir stead. The power of the weak old man—I speak it as reverently as I can—is waning."

By the "weak old man" the catholics say Mr. Butterworth meant the pope, while the crucifixes and madonnas that he proposed to sell are the souvenirs given the pope by the powers of Europe. Catholics are, therefore, indignant and may demand Mr. Butterworth's resignation. Secretary Butterworth claims that he was misrepresented.

To Get Around that Appeal.

On Monday last L. Mendenhall and Attorney Billson, representing the Duluth Street Railway company, urged the council committee on streets, alleys and bridges to recommend the opening of a street through the property owned by W. E. Richardson and others on the line of the new route of the Woodland Park railway. They represented that the company had secured right-of-way through all the property except 20 acres in which W. E. Richardson owns one-fifth interest, and they said that although Mr. Richardson had secured an injunction restraining the company from crossing this property, the owners of the other four-fifths interest had signified their willingness for the company to build across. The idea is to circumvent Mr. Richardson's injunction by having a street opened through the property and then the building of the road could not be prevented.

Rice's "A Knotty Affair."

Mr. John C. Rice will bring a company to the Lyceum theater Saturday night, that for refined, high class comedy, is hard to beat. This is the third successful season of "A Knotty Affair," and they come to Duluth with the New York cast, and the people of Duluth must go prepared to laugh. There are in all twenty-two in the company, among whom are Ross and Feuter, Sally Cahen, John C. Rice, Bessie Clayton and a host of others equally as good. Don't fail to see them.

"Natural Gas" is coming to town Monday and Tuesday next, and all the lean men will grow fat, and the fat get thin, over its new and catching songs, its graceful new and picturesque dances and side splitting fun of Donnelly and Girard. "Natural Gas" is better than ever it was before and it doesn't come one cent higher than it did last season.

The Pioneer Fire.

Late yesterday afternoon the fire on the Pioneer dock gained somewhat, but today Chief Smith says it is under control. There are now five fire engines and a tug throwing 4700 gallons of water per minute on the pile of coal, and the Imperial mill will furnish a stream of 800 gallons per minute this afternoon. The water has washed down about 5000 tons from the pile and has made it possible to get at the fire. There is not the least danger that the hard coal will be touched.

Masked Robbers Dynamite an Express Car Between Milwaukee and Chicago This Morning.

They Overpower the Men, Smash the Car With Bombs and Take Safes.

Amount Taken Unknown but Believed to be Large; Many in Pursuit.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 12.—An express train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, en route for Milwaukee and the Northwest was, at 1 o'clock this morning, held up by train robbers about a mile this side of Western Union junction and the express car was dynamited and robbed. The sum secured by the robbers was not large, as the larger portion of it was in the form of drafts.

Last evening five or six men left Racine on a freight train, which they left at Western Union station, remaining there until the express came in sight. They boarded the train and made their way to the tender. About a mile north of the station, the fireman began shoveling coal, when he was startled by a noise and on turning about was confronted by a rifle in the hands of a masked man. Another gleaming barrel was pointed at the head of the engineer. The fireman was compelled to go forward and extinguish the headlight. This accomplished, both he and the engineer were marched at the head of the robbers, who followed to the express car.

One of the robbers rapped on the express car door and ordered Messenger Murphy to open it. This the latter refused to do. Then a bomb was thrown through the window. Still the plucky messenger refused to open the door. Another bomb was thrown, this time at the door. An explosion followed, the force of which can be imagined, when it is known that the heavy timber sill of the car was broken in two. A large hole was made in the door and one of the robbers sprang into the aperture and covered the messengers with revolvers. Both men had been thrown down by the concussion.

The explosion had thrown the inside of the car into the greatest confusion and the safes were buried beneath boxes and packages. Fireman Averill was compelled at the point of a revolver to get into the car and uncover the safes while the robbers took care of the engineer and stood ready to receive any of the passengers or trainmen. Two of the three safes were thrown out and dragged off a short distance, when after a delay of about half an hour the train was permitted to proceed.

When the robbers made their assault on the express car they fired several shots into the air, probably with a view to intimidate the passengers and train hands, who were not in their hands, and preventing them from taking a hand in the game. This, of course, attracted the attention of the flagman, who started for the village and dispatches were sent to the authorities. Prompt action was taken and detectives were sent out in a special. There are now 22 detectives working on the case.

The express car on reaching Milwaukee was taken to the shops for repair. Among the goods taken out was a bale of cloaks, fairly blown into ribbons, having the appearance of being put through a threshing machine. A number of hats, known among ladies as "shapes," were torn to pieces. Messenger Murphy's clothing was stripped into threads and it is a miracle how he escaped with his life. Safes of the Adams Express company were in the baggage car en route for Milwaukee. The Fire and Marine Insurance bank had a sealed safe on the train which came through all right. About 1000 money packages are received from railroad station agents here daily and there were some 30 of these on the train, but they were not in the express car.

MORMON RUSSIANS.

Missionaries From Utah Playing on the Starving Russians.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—The authorities of the famine stricken province Samara are dealing with a new evil in the shape of an invasion of Mormon missionaries from America. These are conducting an active campaign among the poor peasants who are induced by their circumstances to readily believe any story about the promised land being at a distance away from Russia. The Mormons invariably select for their victims families that have several girls.

The authorities are aroused to the determination to put down Mormonism in Samara and the missionaries will have to seek pastures new.

This Equals $140,000,000.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—The department of taxation estimates that 300,000,000 of roubles will be required to deal with the famine.

Russia's Minister to Resign.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—It is reported that the minister of finance is suffering from nervous prostration owing to the trouble about the Russian loan and the famine, and that he will resign.

Looking For a Thieving Tailor.

TOWER, Minn., Nov. 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—A. Richards, a man in the employ of C. J. Bergquist & Co., merchant tailors, left town last night, taking with him a pattern for a valuable suit of clothes and an extra pair of pants. Richards has not yet been apprehended by the police.

The Japan Earthquake.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Only meager details of the terrible earthquake in Japan are contained in the Japan Daily Herald of Oct. 28, which was received yesterday. There was no sudden shock, it partaking of an easy rocking motion. The oscillations were from east to west and north to south.

Chinese Fires.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Advices from China received yesterday say that 300 houses were destroyed by a big fire in Hankow on Oct. 3. Thirteen thousand people were made homeless and it is thought that a number of lives were lost. Another fire at the same place only two days after the first one destroyed 200 other dwellings.

THIS IN AMERICA.

Takes the Arm of the Law to Wave the Stars and Stripes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The stars and stripes waved aloft last night after a scene of excitement unequalled since the Haymarket riot. Over 1000 anarchists or anarchist sympathizers had crowded into Turner hall to commemorate the day four years ago, on which their fellow anarchists were hung. The speeches were extreme and red emblems covered everything. The climax came during the incendiary utterances of Wiessman, editor of the New York Baker, a German trade paper.

Inspector of Police Hubbard, accompanied by Lieut. Gibbons and a squad of officers in citizens' clothes, were seen to quietly approach the stage. They ordered the American flag placed among the flaming crimson banners. Instantly there was a profound sensation and the police were hissed. Mrs. Lucy Parsons shrieked out: "Hang the murderers of my husband."

In a second pandemonium reigned. A hundred excited men pushed forward. Nevertheless Inspector Hubbard ordered a suspension of the meeting until his commands were obeyed. Fifty uniformed police were in a trice placing their hands on their clubs and revolvers preparatory for a fight which seemed inevitable.

It was fully 10 minutes before order was restored. The flag, meanwhile had been reluctantly hoisted to a place over the stage.

No Flag in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Cooper Union hall was packed with anarchists. Red flags and banners, bearing inscriptions in English and German, were prominently displayed. In front of the speaker's stand the picture of Lingg, who blew his head off rather than hang, was displayed draped with crape. A memorial address was delivered in German by Robert Steiner, editor of the Chicago Arbeiter Zeitung.

INSANE OVER HIS OWN CASE.

Dr. Keeley's Opinion of the Cause of Col. Mines' Death.

DWIGHT, Ill., Nov. 12.—Dr. Keeley is greatly disturbed over the death of Col. Mines.

"Poor fellow," said he, "I knew he had slipped, for I heard it when I was in New York. He was beyond all human aid then. His reason was gone. He had fits of mental aberration and seemed incapable of being governed or guided. He was one of the unfortunate 5 per cent who are beyond the reclaiming power I hold. No earthly power can save them, I believe.

"When I returned from Europe and landed at New York I searched high and low to find Col. Mines, but he had disappeared; gone, no one knew whither. Since last April he had not tasted intoxicating liquor until a week or 10 days ago, when he fell and sank so low that he died. He was a bright mind, and of him I had high hopes. His death has shocked me severely."

"Did your bichloride of gold treatment impair Col. Mines' vitality when he returned to liquor?" the doctor was asked.

"Not at all. I think he went insane over his own case and then drank."

MAKING TIN PLATE.

Successful Experiment at the Rolling Mills at Bay View.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 12.—Tin plates were successfully rolled at the Bay View plant of the Illinois Steel company yesterday. The experiment was tried with a view of determining the feasibility of making tin here, and it was pronounced a success. As a result Milwaukee, in all probability, will have a tin plate mill. Plate to the amount of 500 pounds was turned out in the experimental run, and it was smooth, even and of good quality in every respect. It was rolled to the fineness indicated by 30, wire gauge.

The Illinois Steel company, or the men composing the company, are interested in tin mines in the Black Hills, and there has been a good deal of talk about the establishment of tin plate mills near the mines or at Chicago. At Milwaukee the company has a mill which can be utilized without much change, so that if a tin plate is added to its works it is believed that the plant will be located at Bay View.

Exile for Monarchists.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—No news has been received at the Brazilian legation here to indicate the secession of provinces from the republic. Far more interesting than the statement of threatened secessions is the assertion made by an official here that the Brazilian government, finding the monarchists more numerous than they had supposed, would cut the Gordian knot by exiling the leaders who are working for the restoration of the empire.

Pennsylvania's Vote.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 12.—The official vote of Pennsylvania is as follows: Auditor general, Gregg, (rep.) 411,548; Wright, (dem.) 354,167; Hague, (pro.) 18,150. State treasurer, Morrison, (rep.) 409,990; Tilden, (dem.) 365,357; Drayton, (pro.) 18,070. For constitutional convention, 172,771; against, 416,542.

Slavin's Big Talk.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A cable dispatch to the Herald from London says Slavin has stated that he will probably sail for New York on Nov. 29, with the intention of enforcing Sullivan to make a match or retire.

New York's Legislature.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 12.—There is no change in the canvass of votes as regards the assembly, which stands 65 democrats and 63 republicans. The senate shows a democratic majority of one, but the republicans give notice of three contests.

Stretching a Line About Cordage.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—A mortgage of $6,000,000, covering the property of the Boston, the Standard and other cordage companies was filed today. This is a move in the trust process.

Will Wage Baseball War.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—At its meeting here the National league decided to make a 25 cent admission, thus coming down to the Association scale. Chicago's protest against the '91 pennant going to Boston was overruled.

Talks Peace and Acts War.

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—The transfer of the four regiments of Ascot to the Galican frontier today is regarded as a singular comment on the kaiser's talk about peace to the deputies of the chambers.

BRAZIL DENIES IT

The Dictator's Government Reports all Tranquil Along the River of the South.

But it Hurries off Its Transports and Troops to the Revolting Provinces.

People in Rio Kept in Utter Ignorance of the State of Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Senor Mendonca, the Brazilian minister, today received the following cablegram from his government in regard to the situation in that country:

Rio de Janeiro.—Continue to deny the alarming reports spread through Europe in regard to the restoration of monarchy and the disturbance of public order in Brazil. Rio de Janeiro is perfectly quiet, business satisfactory and lively, with confidence in the government. News received here daily announces perfect quietness in all the states except Rio do Sul. Deny London Times telegram and declare that there is no general discontent in the country. The government will shortly fix a day for the congressional elections, according to the election laws.

Restoration of the monarchy opposed almost universally as a matter definitely settled. Ouray-Preto, Nabuco and all the old monarchists are enjoying perfect freedom. Exchange is conducted with security and confidence in the government's stability in general, the bank of the republic is not giving artificial quotations and the English banks are dealing in exchange with freedom; they declare that the reports to the contrary are circulated by the enemies of the republic.

Rio Janeiro—Uruguay has become alarmed at the state of affairs in Brazil and has massed troops along the frontier. The revolt in Rio Grande do Sul began on the night of the 9th. It spread rapidly and at last accounts the greater part of the state was occupied by the rebels. The governor deemed the revolt so serious that he asked the general government for reinforcements. Fonseca has sent four gunboats, three monitors and two transports, loaded with troops, to the scene of the uprising. Residents here are ignorant of this and believe everything is peaceful and the discontent is not worth noticing.

COOLNESS IN CHILE.

English Minister Kennedy Under the Ban of Displeasure.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Herald's Valparaiso dispatches this morning say there is considerable coolness at present between the Chilean authorities and the British minister, Kennedy. It dates from Nov. 1, All Saints day, which was the occasion of a great demonstration in honor of those who lost their lives while in the services of the junta. Among the great throng who visited the cemetery in Santiago was Minister Kennedy. His coach became blocked at the entrance to the cemetery, during which Mr. Kennedy's coachman became involved in a quarrel and finally was forced to seek flight to escape the fury of an angry mob. This incident put Mr. Kennedy in an indignant frame of mind and ever since he has evinced a spirit of unfriendliness toward the authorities.

Owing to the defeat of the conservative candidate at Tuesday's session of the senate, Minister of the Interior Irrairzaval and Minister of Agriculture Mortinez have resigned. Minister of Foreign Affairs Matta has also surrendered his portfolio. Senor Altamarano held a consultation with President-elect Montt with a view to forming a new ministry composed of liberals and radicals.

EXPECTS INDEMNITY.

Italy Looks for a Salve to Feelings Wounded by America.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The information is given on what is claimed to be high diplomatic authority that the Italian government is very hopeful that congress will vote a small indemnity to the families of the alleged Italians who were killed in New Orleans and even if the indemnity is not made, that Italy will establish the entente cordiale severed by the recall of Minister Fava from Washington. In this event it is said to be probable that Baron Fava will again be placed in control of the Italian legation here.

An Old Shipping Firm Breaks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—F. H. Smith & Co. failed today. In their assignment they give preferences which will approximate $150,000. The liabilities are over $300,000, nominal assets are the same, but actual assets are much less. The firm has been in difficulties for some time and the preferences are for money borrowed or held on deposit. They are owners and agents for sailing vessels and have done a large business in New England and the British provinces, Florida and the West Indies. They have been in business for 20 years and were considered a very sound company.

Smugglers Causing the Trouble.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—Bank of Spain shares yesterday dropped from 389 to 370 on depressing financial rumors and in view of the alleged hitch in the negotiations with the Rothschilds regarding the new Spanish loan. To the Spanish smugglers is attributed a considerable portion of the loss of revenue which should otherwise fall into the hands of the government.

Recapture Prisoners.

WAUPUN, Wis., Nov. 12.—The three prisoners who escaped from the state prison last evening were recaptured this morning by two men. The convicts were taken back at once.

RECIPROCITY WITH BRITAIN.

Part of Greater Britain Will Give Equal Terms With England.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The list of reciprocity agreements which began with Brazil several months ago and which includes Spain, San Domingo, Costa Rica and other countries, may be extended to the British West Indies. Sir Nevill Lubbock, who will represent all the British West Indies, except Barbadoes and Jamaica, has arrived in Washington. Soon commissioners will reach here from the two islands and all will confer with the state department.

"The reciprocity section of the McKinley bill," said Sir Nevill to a reporter, "gives the President power to reimpose the duties on sugar, coffee, hides, etc., when imported from any country which exacts from the United States upon imports of agricultural or other products, duties that he may deem to be "reciprocity unequal and unreasonable." My mission in Washington is to endeavor to show that we will give to articles imported by us from the United States the same privileges and advantages that we afford to goods even imported from Great Britain."

"What will happen if no agreement is reached and the duties here are reimposed?"

"We will send all our sugar to the United Kingdom. At present we send all of it here except a fancy grade, which goes to England. We would like to continue our trade with this country.

BERLIN'S BANKS.

One Result of the Late Failures and Frauds.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The banking house of Friedlaender & Sommerfeld, which suspended payment on Nov. 7, owing to the sensational collapse of the firm of Hirschfeld & Wolff, was today officially declared bankrupt. This step was taken at the request of the chief creditors. The chief clerks of both the collapsed firms (Friedlaender & Sommerfeld and Hirschfeld & Wolff), have been arrested.

Some idea of the financial agitation on Monday last, in consequence of the recent failures, may be judged from the fact that Riechs' bank alone discounted bills to the amount of 6,000,000 marks. Finally the crowd of persons who were desirous of depositing money and valuables was so great that the bank was obiiged to set apart separate rooms for their accommodation.

NEWS HARD BOILED.

Mount Gilead, Ohio—All prisoners in the county jail picked the lock and overpowering the sheriff escaped. None have so far been retaken. Among them was Gano, a wife murderer, and two burglars.

Friends of the defendant, say the shooting was done by another negro named Henry Suder, who has since been captured. Collections are being taken up to raise money for a retrial.

Vienna—Ex-King Milan is to receive an additional 2,000,000 francs from Servia as a part of the price for his compliance in living away from Servia. He is having too good a time to desire to return.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—E. de Kowski, organist of the catholic church of Pains, eloped with a pretty 15-year old girl, a pupil. De Kowski, who is on the shady side of 50, leaves a wife.

New York—Lawyer Lawrence, of Pittsburgh committed suicide. In a letter he gives no reason for his act but simply acts but simply says all his bills will be paid by his father, Hon. George D. Lawrence, of Monongahela City.

STRICKEN SPAIN.

Floods Again Sweep Over the Land; Storms on the Continent.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—Heavy gales and excessive rains are again prevalent throughout Spain and are once more causing an immense amount of damage. Telegraphic communication is interrupted on all sides and further death and destruction from the floods are anticipated. On the northern and western coasts the storm is especially severe. Several wrecks are reported.

Brussels—A cyclone swept over Belgium. The wind blew at a terrible speed. Great damage has been done. Four persons were severely injured. Reports from various points show that the gale has done considerable damage in the provinces.

London—The English storm is less severe today, but prevails to a considerable extent in Ireland and much damage is reported at Shibbereen.

A BINGHAMPTON DON JUAN.

Married Six Times and Leaves Three Living Wives.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Nov. 12—Dr. Charles A. Barnes, of Mechanicsville, was arrested here charged with abduction. An officer arrived from Mechanicsville last night who says Barnes has been married six times and has three wives living. Two years ago he was married to Miss Fenton, daughter of Rev. Mr. Fenton, of New York city. The couple moved to Round Lake, N. Y., and Barnes and his wife separated soon after a child was born to them. Mrs. Barnes had some money left her by her father, which Barnes endeavored to get control of. Failing in this, Barnes, on the evening of Oct. 22 last, stole the child. He has secreted the child in this city and officers are searching for it.

A Lucky Accident.

DURANGO, Iowa, Nov. 12.—A train on the Kansas City road, which left Chicago at 6 o'clock last evrning and was due in St. Paul at 7:30 this morning, left the track two miles north at midnight. The baggage car and first and second coaches were thrown over on their sides down the 7-foot bank. The three sleeping cars also left the track. The cause of the accident has not yet been ascertained. No passengers were injured and many of those in the sleeping cars were not awakened.

Gould Lets the Vanderbilts In.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—It is rumored that the Vanderbilts have bought $10,000,000 of Manhattan elevated railroad stock from Gould, and that they will take an active interest in the property. It is also stated that this will prevent the consummation of a new rapid transit scheme.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Nov. 12.—Generally fair weather prevails this morning, except at Moorhead and Des Moines, where it is snowing and Port Huron, Mich., where it is raining. The cold wave extends over most of the country, being the most severe in the West and Southwest. The coldest place is Medicine Hat, N. W. T., where it is 2 below zero. It is zero at Fort Assiniboine, Mont., and at Pierre, S. D., 2 at Calgarry, 10 at Helena, 8 at Huron, S. D. and North Platte, Neb., 10 at Concordia, Kan., 16 at Buffalo, 42 at Cleveland, 34 at Chicago, 38 at Cincinnati and 20 at Fort Smith, Arkansas.

It is not probable that the temperature will fall decidedly here, although it will continue to get colder for some time, but everything indicates that the center of the cold wave will pass far to the west of this section.

DULUTH, Nov. 12.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Nov. 13: Fair, except light flurries of snow; colder.

B. H. BRONSON,
Observer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. — For Wisconsin: Colder; cloudy and light rain or flurries of snow; fair Friday.

For Minnesota: Colder; generally fair, except occasional light flurries of snow during the day; continued cold and fair Friday.

For Dakota: Continued cold; generally fair weather; northerly winds, becoming variable; slightly warmer and fair Friday.

SOME OBJECTIONS CONSIDERED.

In another column will be seen a communication from Rev. E. M. Noyes on the local issue of the day, in which he presents arguments against the purchase of the gas and water plant, expressing indecision as to how he shall vote on the proposition.

His chief reason for opposing the purchase is that it will create a large municipal indebtedness which will tend to prevent investments by Eastern capitalists. This would be a valid objection under ordinary circumstances, but not when applied to a gas and water plant. The bonds, besides having the credit of the city back of them, are first of all a first lien on the plant itself which at any time after the purchase will be worth more than the price. Thus the bondholders have double security and will accept a very low rate of interest—much lower than the company can secure. The plant is not like street improvements to be worn out every few years, but its depreciation from natural causes is but one-half of 1 per cent a year, while its earning capacity for the last three years has increased at the rate of 30 per cent per annum, and it has a practically assured income that will pay the interest on the bonds and provide a sinking fund for their liquidation at maturity. The shrewd business man goes a step further than to inquire the debt of a city, and looks around for the assets. If when he questions us we could tell him the water plant affords a net revenue of $100,000 a year, or enough to support our public schools, this would seem an inducement for him to invest among us. Such results have been realized elsewhere and will be realized here, either in surplus earnings or a saving to to the people by cutting down water rates, which is in effect the same thing. The capitalist who would be dismayed by such a debt is not of that shrewd and discriminating class that invests in the West.

It is further objected that at the figures offered we are paying for much worthless work. The matter of worthless work in the earlier day's of the plant's existence should, we think, go along with the alleged profits which the option holder is to make, leaving the question in its original form, Are you ready to pay $1,050,000 for a plant with an earning capacity even now that justifies it, while only one-third of the property abutting on its mains uses water, a plant which all admit we should own, a plant that can never be bought cheaper, and a plant which with the worthless work alluded to has cost over $2,100,000?

The haste of the movement is made a further objection which many have raised while hinting at jobbery. Mr. Noyes, however, declares the charges of jobbery to be absurd and has no objection to Mr. Sargent making a commission for his risk. The question of delay till the spring election was carefully considered, but it was deemed best to give the people a chance to accept the option which runs only till December 1, and if they rejected it there would still remain the same opportunity for the city to deal direct with the company next spring or the year after. Had the council refused to call an election and no satisfactory terms could afterwards be made—for the stockholders are wealthy, as well as hot under the collar, and don't have to sell—or if an epidemic of typhoid fever should come upon us again, would not the city fathers be upbraided for their inaction? But if an election was called, a degree of haste was imperative, for the whole deal must be closed before the first of the month. This haste on the part of the council for what they believed to be the right and interest of the people, forces no man to vote for the bonds. There is nothing compulsory in the matter, and surely after five years of discussion—how much longer it had been going on we know not—every citizen must have his mind made up as to the desirability of municipal ownership, and have some general idea of the value of the plant. If, in addition to this, he knows the net earnings of a business are $100,000 a year, it ought not to take him more than three or four weeks to tell what he is willing to pay for it, especially after receiving the advice of an expert.

We are getting the plant for its debt and by paying 70 cents on the dollar for the stock, most of which has cost its holders more. We shall have assets and a revenue as full value received for the proposed debt. We are not paying within $150,000 of what the plant has cost or sunk, and that amount would, perhaps, cover all the worthless work that has been done. As to haste, there has really been none. If you receive a three days's option on a valuable property, it is not haste to give a yes or no within that time. And so with this plant, it cannot be called haste that the council have given the people an opportunity to express themselves in the manner provided by law and within the time allowed by the option.

ACTUAL COST OF GAS.

Bronson C. Keeler, writing in the Forum for Nov. 1890, quotes from an address before the American Gas Light association in 1883 by Mr. Forstall, who was then its president, in which the actual cost of making 1000 cubic feet of gas was itemized as follows:

Coal	25 cents
Labor and superintendence	15 "
Purifying material, etc.	05 "
Repairs, distribution and general expenses	20 "
Total cost	65 cents

Mr. Keeler states that the average price paid for gas in this country is $1.75 while in the United Kingdom it is only 71 cents. On the continent of Europe the average is $1.20. In England 168 plants are owned by cities, and the average cost of production is 48 cents, while the average cost to private companies is 52 cents. In Philadelphia, the largest city operating a gas plant in this country, and where the management has been the least satisfactory, an offer of $20,000,000 has been refused for the plant. That city has contracted with a private company to deliver water gas in the public holders or reservoirs for thirty-seven cents per 1000 cubic feet. This is getting it down pretty cheap, but Wheeling, W. Va., according to Mr. Keeler's statement, beats the world. The city bought the plant in 1868 for $176,000 (this price being for a gas plant only) and paid for it out of its earnings. The works have since been rebuilt out of the earnings without a cent of tax, making the plant worth $500,000. The cost of making gas by the city is thirty-two cents, and the total cost, including all expenses for labor, etc., is thirty-five cents. It is furnished to consumers at seventy-five cents. The streets, markets, school houses, hospitals and public buildings of every description are lighted free, and yet the net revenue to the city is $27,000 a year.

In this connection it should be stated that Wheeling in 1890 had a population of 19,280, and in 1868 when the plant was bought had about the same population that Duluth had in 1885. In 1880 its population was 30,737, which has increased considerably since. The cost of building a plant is somewhat less there than here because of cheaper labor and the character of the earth's crust, which in Duluth is hard baked. But if wheeling should make gas at 35 cents, and sell it at $2.50 as is done here, there would never need to be a government appropriation to improve the Buckeye river. What else could they do with the proceeds?

ON UNCLE JERRY'S TRAIL.

The Minnesota board of health is after Uncle Jerry Rusk with a branding iron because of his system of cattle and meat inspection. The board charges that Jerry forbids his inspectors to explain their methods even to health officers, or to discuss the diseases of cattle in papers before scientific bodies. The inspectors, it is charged, have no specific directions, but are left to their own discretion in passing or condemning animals having tuberculosis or lumpy jaw, either of which should cause their rejection. While trichinous pork is excluded from the foreign market, its sale is permitted here. About 3 per cent of the hogs slaughtered for the foreign market are condemned, and those, with all others of their kind, are consumed by Americans. Jerry has no power to destroy condemned meat or animals, but should, it is claimed, notify the state authorities and let them act as the local law provides. The more rigid the foreign inspection the more disease we have for home consumption. The state board of health will accomplish a great work if its efforts correct this crying wrong.

Remember the free lecture on university extension at Temple Opera tomorrow night, by Professor Judson, of the Minnesota university, the highest and most interesting authority on the subject. You will be enlightened as well as entertained.

Once more we call the attention of voters to the fact that they can register at their regular voting place up to 9 o'clock tonight, and no further opportunity will be offered before the gas and water bond election Thursday of next week, Nov. 19.

Liberty is not secured by killing kings but by raising up a race of men who are worthy of it. Dom Pedro is ostracised but a dictator rules in his stead. What has Brazil gained? Possibly saved herself from an unworthy succession to secure a worse one.

It is said Engineer Keating's report will be less favorable to the gas and water company than that of the expert, Mr. Davis.

Register before 9 o'clock tonight. This is your last chance.

BOOKS AND BOOKMAKERS.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward's new book, "The History of David Grieve" will soon be at the booksellers'. The book follows the career of a disciple of the Elsmere doctrines in work among the poor. Macmillan & Co. have received large advance orders for the book, and before long one may expect to be asked "Have you read 'David Grieve?' It will be an international copyright book at $1.00.

Rev. Alfred J. Church, the well-known author of "Stories From Homer," etc., has written a novel of the time of Nero, which Macmillan & Co. will publish under the title of "The Burning of Rome."

* * *

D. Lothrop company have just published "The New Womanhood" by J. C. Fernald with an introduction by Marion Harland, "Bird-dom" by Leander S. Kayser, "The Story of the United States" by Elbridge S. Brooks, "Gain by Loss" by Rose Porter, and the 1891 bound volume of "Pansy;" also new edition of "Cloud and Cliff" by Willis Boyd Allen, "Nursery Finger Plays" by Emilie Poulsson, "Rob" by Margaret Sidney, Charles Lamb's "Dissertation Upon Roast Pig," and a holiday binding in white and gold of Dr. McKenzie's "Christ Himself."

* * *

A very attractive account of "The Rise of the Pottery Industry" is to appear in the December Popular Science Monthly. It will be illustrated with figures of early American ware, the apparatus used in making it, etc. This is the tenth article in the Monthly's illustrated series on American industries. Professor W. M. Davis has found a place near Meriden, Conn., where volcanoes have been, and will describe his discoveries in a fully illustrated article in the December Monthly. The fourth and last of Professor Frederick Starr's papers on "Dress and Adornment" will appear in December. It deals with religious dress.

Early in 1892 Houghton, Mifflin & Co. will publish under the title of "The Spirit of Modern Philosophy," the lectures given by Dr. Josiah Royce, of Harvard, in Cambridge last winter. The lectures were listened to with great interest and, having been carefully revised, will form a work of remarkable value.

Professor Norton has collected from the unpublished writings of James Russell Lowell a volume which will be published shortly under the title "Latest Literary Essays and Addresses." It will contain papers on Gray, Landor, Walton, Milton, Shakespere's Richard III and some others.

Booklets are fast taking the place of Christmas cards on all the booksellers' shelves and the cards seem to be out for good. It is for good, too, for the booklets are far more sensible presents than the old style cards. Among the publishers Houghton, Mifflin & Co. lead in those little books, beautifully put together. They have this fall issued among others Whittier's "Snow Bound" and Holmes' "One Hoss Shay" with companion poems. One is bound in suggestive white, the other in old leather with heavy clasps. Both are beautifully illustrated and are splendid specimens of the printers' art. Each is sold at $1.50 by local booksellers.

Frederick A. Stokes & Co., of New York, are getting up more handsome and delicate lithograph pictures year by year. Their beautiful groups of faces, children and delicate ideas in colors to be seen in the book stores are far ahead of the Prangs' work, and are the only things that at all resemble Christmas cards that are going this year. They get out a little calendar for 1892, the quarters of the year being represented by differently costumed misses, that are exceedingly neat. Their books for children have many new ideas, and their paper-doll "brownie" book is an excellent creation.

Averse to the Purchase.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The Herald is daily presenting some forcible arguments in favor of the purchase of the plant of the gas and water company. I belong to the large number of those who are somewhat undecided how to vote upon the question and there are one or two arguments against the purchase that I have not seen presented. It may be granted that the present rates are exorbitant. Experiment, for instance, has demonstrated that illuminating gas need cost but 65 cents per 1000 feet, and we pay $2.50. The fact that the company earns no dividends even at that rate, on account of its enormous expense in completing its plant, does not help the consumer. It may also be granted that municipal control of gas and water service, both in Europe and America, has proved far better than corporate control.

But, on the other hand, many look with dismay upon such an immense increase to the city's debt. The first question a capitalist asks about a Western city is "What is the debt?" and the answer has much to do with his decision about investing. Two millions is a large sum. It may be argued that it bears income enough to carry it, and that the income will increase, but it is none the less an addition to our debt that may make us pause. Again, if we buy at these figures we pay for much worthless work. The present company was doubtless badly deceived when it bought the plant. It was put in to sell. Mains had to be relaid and the whole plant practically duplicated. This cost a large sum. But why should we step in and reimburse the company for its loss on this unfortunate purchase?

Many do not like the haste of this movement. It is absurd to make charges of jobbery. If Mr. Sargent mrkes a fair sum on such large deal, so much the better. But shall we gain anything by hastening the purchase rather than waiting for more extended investigation and careful study of the issues involved? It is argued with some force that whenever we buy, the price will be based upon an expert's estimate of the earning value of the plant, and that with the existing feeling between the company and council, the price it may never be less. That may be true. If it is true, it may be wise to buy now, but for one is shall be glad to read Engineer Keating's report after he has checked over the report of the expert. EDWARD M. NOYES.

HOW TO OBTAIN SLEEP.

Half the People of Duluth Troubled With Insomnia; The Way to Rest.

"Americans are frightfully highstrung people," said a physician to The Herald reporter yesterday, "and as a result they suffer greatly from sleeplessness. If you were to get into the confidence of Duluth men and women you would find that fully one-half of them find it difficult to get needed rest."

"Do Duluth people suffer more than those of other places?"

"Probably not. But of course I am brought into the confidence of many who suffer from this cause, and I speak of them particularly."

"Is the disease curable?"

"The best answer I can give to that is a letter from a friend of mine in Arlington, R. I. It was written about two months ago, and as he said I could use it in any way I wished, it will be no breach of confidence for The Herald to publish it."

The letter reads as follows:

"My dear doctor: "For over a year I have been troubled with what physicians said was malaria, which was really a general nervous debility and insomnia. My whole being was aches and pains, with severe headache and lack of appetite. I have been for two weeks at a time with not more than an hour's sleep a night. I lost flesh and was generally depressed."

"But now I sleep well, eat well and feel well, while my weight has increased from 101 to 134 pounds. This was all due to the use of Paine's celery compound and I pronounce my radical cure the result of using that grand yet simple compound."

This letter was from Mr. J. C. Taylor, a well known citizen of Arlington, R. I.

"Let The Herald readers know what my friend wrote, and what I have said," continued the doctor. "Let the sleepless laugh if they will at a simple remedy like Paine's celery compound curing insomnia. But let them take it. I'll wager my reputation that it will positively cure any one who will try it and save them from physical debility and mental disturbance that threatens the grave or the insane asylum.

LISTEN TO REASON AND MAKE MONEY.
Splendid Opportunities.
The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this way however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your eisure, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or petsons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

The New Big Coke Blast Furnace Will "Blow In" for Active Business the First of Next Week

It Will Make Bessemer Pig Iron Exclusively, for Steel Ship Plate, at Least for the Present.

At the Start 100 Men Will Turn Out About 100 Tons Daily, to be Increased Later.

"We will operate with about 100 men at the start" said Manager Bertolet, of the Duluth Furnace company this morning, "and we will turn about 100 tons of pig iron daily. We don't know what the furnace will do and after we find out shall probably increase both our force and output. It is quite probable we can get 150 tons a day out of it. We shall make only one grade of iron now—Bessemer pig—and it is made solely for conversion into steel.

"We have a contract with the steel works at the other end of the St. Paul & Duluth bridge, which starts from the corner of our grounds, for our entire output, though if we find an opportunity to sell any large quantity of foundry iron to iron works here and in the neighborhood, we shall be able to make that class of pig also. We would be obliged to get other ores from a greater distance to make the softer foundry pig iron.

"The furnace will run on two-thirds Gogebic soft ores and one-third Chandler soft from Ely on the Duluth & Iron Range road. These soft ores are liable to freeze in the cars in transport, but we are putting in steam pipes, as we can take care of that difficulty very easily. We shall begin to receive ore in a day or two and already have a lot of coke in the stock house. Probably the furnace will get into blast early next week, and it will take about 24 hours to change it ready for operation. We will make four casts daily.

The West Superior steel plant, which is to use the pig of the Duluth furnace, expects to begin work in its Bessemer converters about Dec. 15, and the furnace will have about 3000 tons of pig for it to begin on. It will roll ship plate almost exclusively at present, and is under contract to supply the McDougall ship yard.

OWN PUBLIC WORKS.

Every City Should own Water Plants and Sreet Car Lines.

The agitation now going on that cities should acquire their own public works is not confined to Duluth alone. Other cities, particularly Washington and Milwaukee, are in the midst of a similar contest which embraces not only the water plant, but the gas works, the street car lines and the electric light plants. In this connection an unusually interesting report has been submitted to President Harrison by the commission appointed to investigate the condition of the streets and subways of Washington under the provisions of a recent act of congress.

This report is based not only upon investigation in Washington, but also upon a study of conditions in other cities, American and foreign. It presents some very important recommendations, and is regarded as so important by the President that he will lay the report before congress with the recommendation that it be printed for distribution to every large municipality.

The central idea is that the municipality should own its streets in every sense of the term. It should own the car lines that traverse its streets. As an illustration of the advantages of municipal ownership Paris is mentioned. The municipality owns all the street car lines, and every 10 years leases on competitive bid. As a result the city receives annually 5,000,000 francs and street car travel is cheaper and better regulated than in any other city in the world.

Next comes the question of the ownership of gas works. These also should be owned by the municipality. In support of this Philadelphia is cited, the reports of the directors for years past being quoted to show the complete success of the plan. The general conclusion here is that, in spite of political scandals, the people have been better served than under private ownership. The city has received a handsome revenue and has saved a large sum.

To illustrate the advantages of municipal ownership of water works Baltimore is cited. Under this head the report concludes that with municipal ownership the supply of water is far more generous and of superior quality at a much smaller expense, and that the city's own supply for sanitary and fire-extinguishing purposes is out of all proportion to what it is in other cities. In this connection it is interesting to recall some of the statistics given in a late census bulletin. This showed that of 50 largest cities 35 own their own water works. The fact was also brought out that while the average cost of the water works per inhabitant was $31.20, where private companies owned, it was $21.35 in the case of water works owned by the cities.

Like conclusions are expressed by the report as regards the ownership of electric lighting and other works affected with a public interest.

IS STILL KICKING.

Minneapolis Organizes a Great Objection to the Duluth Freight Rates.

Minneapolis has been very quiet since the railways equalized their rates to Duluth and so gave us an advantage over that city by which we are receiving daily about 150 cars of wheat from the Southwest. Now, however, the millers and grain men have made ready for a final fight and held a meeting yesterday afternoon with the railways.

A committee from the Minneapolis chamber of commerce met a body of railway traffic men, and formally complained to them of the "discrimination in wheat freight rates in favor of Duluth." The railroad men took the matter under advisement and will meet again in St. Paul Tuesday. The Minneapolis grain men are convinced that a continuation of the present policy will result in the great detriment of their city as a wheat market. The freight rates to Duluth are approximately two cents less 100 pounds than to Minneapolis. The Great Northern inaugurated a cut which all the other lines were compelled to meet, and the Minneapolis lines were compelled to bear the brunt of the fight.

Charles A. Pillsbury was spokesman and chairman of the grain men yesterday. He recited to the railway magnates the causes which led up to the present difficulty. He told of discrimination which was being practiced in favor of Duluth as against Minneapolis in the making of freight rates, pointed out the alleged injustice of such a course from his point of view, and in behalf of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce asked that the matter be remedied.

Growth of University Extension.

The growth of the university extension scheme is almost phenomenal. Though scarcely two years have elapsed since it was first given practical consideration it has developed so rapidly that now no doubt remains the advantages of the higher education will soon be open to all, and that those who have not the time or means to attend the college or university will have ample opportunity to secure the benefit of the university curriculum, with the additional advantage of selecting for themselves the studies they desire to pursue.

Graded in Ten Days.

General Manager Fisher, of the Duluth & Winnipeg, says the line from the main track at New Duluth to the river to connect with the bridge to Superior will be graded in ten days. He states that the rumor that the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern and the Duluth & Winnipeg had formed a sort of partnership arrangement was false. "We are glad to see them build and will do all we can to help them," he said. "They will probably use our tracks into Duluth from above Cloquet for a while."

Lumber Notes.

The Michigan Lumber company, which operated a small shingle mill at Superior until a few days ago, when it was burned, will not rebuild. It lost its lease and its plant and building valued at $5000.

The Peyton, Kimball & Barber sawmill will close Friday for the season after a cut of 15,000,000 feet. The company has about 3,000,000 feet of logs on hand.

Fatal Accident at Cloquet.

A Duluth & Winnipeg engine while backing up to Carlton last night, ran into a handcar which contained six persons. All saved themselves by jumping, except Christine Lebeck, wife of the St. Paul & Duluth section boss, who was caught and dragged some distance, receiving injuries from which she died.

To the Sea by the South Shore.

The South Shore will next Sunday change its service so that passengers can go from here to New York via Mackinaw and Detroit in 48 hours, a gain of 12 hours. A through sleeper from St. Paul via the Duluth road will be taken by the morning train out of here to Detroit.

City Clerk's Office.

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 3, 1891.

To the Electors of the City of Duluth:

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the present election law requires the board of registers to make the registry list of those voting at the last previous election and of such persons in addition as present themselves for registration. A person not voting at the special election of August 4, 1891, must present themselves for registration the days for which are Thursday, November 5 and Friday, November 6, 1891, and Thursday, November 12, 1891. I give this notice because of so few having voted at the election held August 4, 1891, and desiring to vote at the election to be held November 19, 1891.

Very respectfully
FRANK BURKE, JR.,
City Clerk.

The approaches to the new Central avenue bridge are about completed and the street car company will begin laying iron tomorrow.

H. B. McArthur is treating the boys today over the arrival of a baby girl at his house yesterday.

The grading of First and Second avenues east is being pushed and the contractors expect to have their work about completed by the time winter sets in.

George Ross, a machinist at the car works, left yesterday for Madison, Ill., where he will work in the car shops just started at that place.

The Masons Celebrate.

Members of Euclid lodge received citations Wednesday to attend a special communication. When the lodge was convened Worshipful Master Burnside stated that as Brother C. A. Phelps was about to depart from West Duluth, it was thought best to call that meeting to show the feeling of the lodge and bid him God-speed in the field to which he was going. Lodge retired to the banquet-room, where a substantial and finely-arranged supper, served by Mrs. Berkes, was in readiness. After the edibles were duly discussed the master opened the toast box with the toast, "Masonry in Everyday Life," which was responded to by Rev. Gates. The following toasts next offered: "Can a Mason be a Minister," response by Rev. Dr. Forbes; "Can a Mason be a Lawyer," response by D. M. DeVore; "Old Friends Must Part," response by C. S. Weaver. Mr. Boyd objected to the toast assigned him and said he would take the field which he proceeded to do in his usual happy mood. Mr. Burnside gave a short history of the lodge, saying among other things that Brother Phelps was one of the first to sign the petition for a lodge in West Duluth, and the first one to take a demit. Mr. Phelps was called upon to followed by Mallory and Huntoon. Mr. DeVoroe then moved that every man must make a speech, sing a song, tell a story or put a dollar in the hat. The first man to do the latter was Brother Coon. There were about 40 present.

Some Bond Statements.

This morning's Tribune contained the following:

"Have they sold the bonds? Where are the bonds? What are they going to do about the bonds? These questions can be heard now at all hours of the day propounded by interesting citizens. But no one seems able so give a satisfactory answer. Here is what E. W. McCormick said: "They claim the delivery of these bonds has been made. They claim checks have been given. I have inquired at all the Duluth banks and if these checks have been given the clearing house reports should show them. But I can't get any track of them. I wonder where Poirier is; what is he in hiding for? I haven't been able to find him. No one seems to know where he is. I think it is an outrage for the council to even consider a bid for 95 cents when they have one calling for a premium of 1 per cent."

Village Attorney Phelps was shown the above and said: "The bonds were signed and delivered to Mr. Spitzer and drafts were received before any injunction papers were served, or before any such were even thought of. I make this statement positively and time will tell which is right." Mr. Phelps further said that the drafts accompanied the bonds East and that the deal was not made through the Duluth banks or clearing house. The bonds were not sold for 95 cents on the dollar.

As to the statement that "no one seems to know where Mr. Poirier is," Mr. Poirier went to St. Paul Monday morning and will be back Saturday or the first of next week.

WILL LOAD OUT LATE

Vessels in the Grain Trade Expect to Make Use of the New December Clause in Insurance Policies.

By This They Will be Able to Leave Duluth Clear up to the First of The Month.

Newly Made Treasury Arrangements Give an Impetus to Canadian Shipments Via Duluth.

All of the Transit line boats are now on their last trip to the head of the lakes, with the exception possibly of the Vanderbilt, which may yet leave Buffalo for Duluth. The Northern line boats are all booked for another trip and the last to come to Duluth will not leave Buffalo until the 19th. For many weeks past this line has done nothing but carry flour and it will have to hustle to clear its sheds. All of the lines will have vessels running out of here as late as the 30th inst, and if the weather permits some of them will be running in December.

The English Lloyds, who have just begun to do marine insuring on the great lakes, have this year agreed to allow vessel risks to run five days beyond the usual limit wtthout increasing the rate. This was done to catch business and it has had the effect of causing the other insurance people to follow suit. Heretofore the rate for five days after Nov. 30 has been 20 per cent of the rate for the whole season, and for 10 days it has been 40 per cent of the season rate. The change could not have come at a more opportune time for the vessel interests than just now, when the tonnage to move is enormous and the carrying rates offered are large.

BONDED WHEAT TO BUFFALO.

A Recent Ruling Allows Manitoba Wheat go From Duluth via Buffalo.

Collector of Customs Johuson informs The Herald that during the past few weeks this port has shipped 300,000 bushels of Manitoba wheat in bond to Buffalo, whence it will go via New York to Europe. He estimates that this amount will be increased to 500,000 bushels before navigation closes. This is a new departure made possible by a recent ruling of the treasury department.

Hitherto the Manitoba wheat has had to go through Montreal, because the shipper was otherwise compelled to pay duty when the wheat reaches New York and putting it on sale there, or of shipping through to England without paying. The Northern Pacific is receiving 60 cars of bonded wheat a day here.

One School Room Closed.

The third grade of the Jackson school taught by Miss Everhart was today closed by the board of education on account of there being a small amount of diphtheria among the pupils of that room Dr. Goffe, the health physician said: "We have now just 12 cases in the city, one half of which have convalesced, so that we will remove the cards from the doors within a day or two. We have a man who makes a round of the diphtheria cases once a day. I know of only one serious case at present. During the month of October two deaths were due to diphtheria and thus far this month none have occurred. A few cases have been among children attending the Jackson school, but more have been found among those in the Franklin than among those of any other school. A while ago the cases were all in the Franklin district, while now there are fewer."

The Play "Incog."

After the terrific bombardment of that inane species of entertainment known as farce comedy and which is really nothing but a common variety show, a play that presents fun with reason, full of sparkling dialogues, ludicrous situations and which posseses a well defined and continuous story requiring capable actors to interpret it, is refreshing. To the latter class belongs "Incog," which opens at the Temple next Tuesday night, "Wilkinson's Widows" and "The Private Secretary," and these plays are rapidly driving farce comedy from the field of first-class theaters. "Incog" is the latest and funniest of these legitimate farces and although not yet three months old it has taken the cities of Indianapolis, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco by storm.

A Verdict for the Assignee.

The jury in the suit of E. G. Swanstrom, assignee for T. O. Hall, vs. Swordling & Hickox, gave a verdict of $1055.42 for the plaintiff.

A Good Ending.

Judge of Probate Ayer today appointed Girdon Wallace Watless, of Carroll, Iowa, administrator of the Emery estate and put his bonds at $100,000. This arrangement is satisfactory to all parties concerned and ends all difficulties. Mr. Wattles was one of two administrators petitioned for by the remonstrants.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The committee on arrangements for the proposed Parnell memorial meeting on Nov. 15, met last night. Reports showed that the success of the affair was assured. JAMES' ASPIRATIONS.

He Would Marry No Woman Who was Blemished in Reputation.

The $30,000 slander suit brought by Miss Bonesteel, the ex-intended of Jimmy Boyle, against H. W. Pearson was opened late yesterday afternoon, the plaintiff being the only witness. Her testimony went to show that when she asked Mr. Pearson why he wanted her to quit the room rented from him he replied that he had to protect the other tenants, as complaints had been lodged against her on account of the visits of men. She also claimed that Mr. Pearson had said to Boyle, to whom she was engaged, that she was a sporting woman.

This morning Boyle was put on the witness stand. All through the trial he has acted in a very friendly way toward the plaintiff for one who had broken off an engagement with her. When Mr. Ayers cross-examined him they both became quite warm and had several lively tilts. Mr. Ayers, in referring to the fact that Boyle had accompanied Miss Bonesteel on a visit to Mr. Pearson, ventured to remark, "You are easily led." "Do you think so?" queried Boyle. "Well, you'll find out that I am not before you get through with this." The breath of everyone in the stuffy little courtroom was taken away when Boyle corroborated Miss Bonesteel's statement that Boyle's income amounted to from $50,000 to $60,000 a year. He said the books of his chop house and saloon would show that amount of net profits as his share. His reason for breaking off the engagement was that he didn't want to marry a woman with a blemished reputation. His wife must be able to hold up her head in any society and be untarnished in reputation. He had heard from various sources that it was the talk that Miss Bonesteel was a sporting woman and was being kept by him. They had been engaged since July, 1890, and he was intending to get married inside the convenient space of two years.

Mr. Pearson was the first witness for the defense. He testified that he knew nothing about the turning off of the gas until a week after it had been done by the gas company, who had been left in the lurch by a previous tenant of that room. Miss Bonesteel came to his office on that day to ask him why it had been turned off and after they had arranged the matter Pearson told her he thought he would have to have the room in a week or two, as he wanted it for certain purposes. At a second interview she seemed to divine what his real reason for wanting the room and insisted on knowing it. He finally told her that other tenants have been complaining about her. Later she came four times to demand who her accusers were, once in company with Mr. Boyle, but he would not divulge the names. Then they threatened him with trouble in the courts.

FELL ON A VISE.

Engineer of the Street Railway Power House Fractures His Skull.

Daniel McLaughlin, day engineer at the Duluth Street Railway company's power house, met with a serious accident this morning. No one saw him when he was injured and so no one knows just how the accident occurred, but the fireman, who discovered him lying on the ground, thinks it was as follows:

McLaughlin was cleaning the exhaust steam condenser and in order to get at it stood on a large pipe which was about five or six feet above the ground. His feet must have slipped on the pipe, and in his efforts to save himself he must have turned a somersault in the air, striking a pipe vise some 10 feet back of him on his forehead and cutting his forehead quite severely above his left eyebrow.

He was taken to St. Luke's hospital. His skull was found to be fractured. His life will probably be saved.

TO GO SOUTHWARD

A Naval Demonstration by United States War Vessels on the Chilean Coast.

Late Brazilian Reports Grow More Positive in Their Tone of Revolution.

A Second Balmacedan War Seems Likely in Dom Pedro's Country.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—It is quite evident that the President and Secretary Blaine do not propose to let Chile long remain in ignorance of the fact that the United States has made substantial progress in the building of a navy. The news leaks out that there is to be a change in the assignments of a number of vessels, which will result in the concentration of such a fleet of war ships in the harbor of Valparaiso as to amount to a naval demonstration.

Orders have been sent, it is said, to Rear Admiral Gherardi to proceed at once to Valparaiso and assume command of the South Pacific station. Rear Admiral Brown, now in command there, will be detached and placed on waiting orders. Rear Admiral Walker will retain his flagship, the Chicago, and relieve Gherardi in command of the North Atlantic station. Rear Admiral Benham will be sent on board the Newark to take command of the South Atlantic station with headquarters at Rio Janeiro. The Atlanta, Concord and Bennington are all to sail on Saturday or Monday for Chilean waters. The Charleston has already been ordered to return from the Asiatic station to the South Pacific.

These orders will result in placing under the command of Admiral Gherardi at Valparaiso a fleet composed of the Philadelphia, San Francisco, Baltimore, Charleston, Boston, Atlanta, Yorktown, Concord and Bennington while the Newark will be within comparatively easy call at Rio. This concentration of war ships will carry nearly 100 guns and more than 2700 men.

The selection of Admiral Gherardi to command this fleet can be regarded as significant. He is known as the principal diplomat among the officers of the navy, and it will be remembered that he, in a sense, superseded Minister Douglass in the futile negotiations with Hayti for the possession of Mole St. Nicholas as a coaling station.

Secretary Tracy and other officials of the navy department deny the above story. Admiral Gherardi, they say, will cruise in the south oceans.

WORSE IN BRAZIL.

The Situation There, According to all Accounts, is Extremely Bad.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Even the most alarming reports from Brazil are confirmed today by a dispatch received by a leading financial house having large interests in Brazil. This message, so far as untangled from the cipher complications in which it has been wrapped, says, in substance:

"Affairs here look decidedly bad; upheaval probable; result uncertain; several provinces revolting; troops joining opposition; Fonseca cannot count on navy; health bad; fighting going on some where; Fonseca's men defeated; exchange dropping; garrison at Rio uneasy; finance blue; paper money under cloud; prices of everything rising; presence strong British fleet good effect; opposition gaining every hour; much bloodshed possible."

From the above synopsis of the situation it will be seen that the worst is to be feared.

Of course the fact is not lost sight of that English financiers and merchants are not adverse to receiving and spreading bad news from Brazil. They are not in favor of the United States reciprocity treaty with that country and some of them would make handsome profits at a slump in Brazilian securities. Further fighting is reported in Brazil and the opposition forces are again credited with a victory, but the spot where the battle was fought is not stated, but it is supposed to have been in the vicinity of Santa Anna, near Porto Alegre, the capital of Rio Orande do Sul. A number of other towns, in addition to Porto Alegre, are reported to have hoisted the flag of the national party of Brazil and large bodies of troops are being raised with the ultimate intention, it is said, of advancing upon the dictator's headquarters at Sao Paulo.

It is now said that Da Fonseca's idea in leaving Rio Janeiro for San Paulo was undoubtedly caused by the two facts already mentioned in these dispatches; namely, that he makes his base of operations there because it is near Santos, a port he is said to be certain he can count upon, because he can there prevent a juncture between the forces of the province of Rio Grande do Sul; finally, because his advisers are said to be of the opinion that the political atmosphere of Rio Janeiro is not, at the present moment, thoroughly beneficial to the dictator's health.

Santiago—Several provinces are already up in arms against the dictator and a battle has been fought somewhere in which Da Fonseca's supporters were defeated. In addition to the revolt in the province of Rio Grande do Sul it is stated here that the interior provinces of Matto Grosso, Goyaz and Para have joined issues. It is stated here that the plan of campaign of the leaders of the national party is that Rio Grande do Sul, Goyaz, Para, Pernambuco and Minas-Geraes shall concentrate all the fighting men possible and that these forces shall make a combined forward movement upon the dictator's strongholds in San Paulo and Rio Janeiro, and, to use their own expression, drive him and his supporters into the sea, and elect a president of Brazil who will govern for the people and according to the people's laws.

Got Out a Rat Hole.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 13.—Early this morning policemen swooped down on Tom Kelly's gymnasium on Market street. The doors were barred, but the officers forced an entrance and found the room crowded with about 100 persons watching pugilists Bob Farrell and Ed Ahearn. The principals were locked up. The spectators were locked up in the gymnasium and six stalwart officers guarded the front door. Everyone of the spectators escaped through a secret exit.

CANNOT HANDLE THE YIELD.

Over 30,000 Barrels of Oil Wasted Daily at the McDonald Field.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—The Standard Oil people have thrown up their hands and admit for the first time that the wonderful McDonald field near Pittsburgh is too much for them. They have all along declared that their pipe line constructors and tank builders could keep pace with the development of any territory that had ever been known, but for the last three days 30,000 barrels of petroleum, worth 50 cents a barrel, have been floating away on the surface of Robbs Run, through the inability of the National Transit company to either pipe or tank it.

This has happened, too, in spite of the fact that the company has for two weeks been putting up one new tank of 35,000 barrels capacity daily. All this time the shipments have been 50,000 barrels and over every 24 hours, but, as the production has been from 70,000 to 80,000 barrels daily, the stocks accumulate in spite of tho herculean efforts to relieve the field. The oil report shows that for the last month there has been an increase in gross stocks of about 700,000 barrels, and for several days the Standard has been selling, having put out 50,000 barrels yesterday alone.

DON PIATT DEAD.

The Veteran Free Trade Editor Ends His Career.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13.—Word is received here announcing the death of Don Piatt at his home, Macochee, yesterday afternoon. Col. Piatt has resided quietly at his country home in Logan county ever since his retirement from active journalistic work. In 1888 he was called at the urgent request of Mr. Cleveland to found Belford's free trade monthly magazine. He remained at that work upwards of a year. At the time of his death he was engaged upon an elaborate biographical history of Gen. George H. Thomas.

Col. Piatt was born in Cincinnati in 1819, and was educated at St. Xavier college, and in 1851 was appointed judge of the court of common pleas of Hamilton county. He was secretary of legation of Paris during President Pierce's administration. During part of the civil war he was on the staff of Gen. Robert C. Schenck. He published a sharply critical work, "Memoirs of the Men Who Saved the Union."

HAD A THIRTEEN CREW.

Therefore the Vessel Sunk and Eight Were Drowned.

DUBLIN, Nov. 13.—The gale continues to scatter wrecks along the coast of Ireland and there has been considerable loss of life. The British bark Gylfe, Capt. Wilson, 984 tons, from Quebec with timber, has been wrecked at Court on McSherry bay. The coast guard and reinforcements arrived and rescued four seamen and the captain of the bark out of a crew of 13.

Strange to say, the man who was drowned in the breeches buoy upon leaving Quebec attempted to leave the ship, saying that he knew that something would happen to the Gylfe if she sailed for Liverpool with 13 men for her crew.

The floods in Somersetshire and other parts of the islands are growing worse, and the farmers are experiencing heavy losses.

Sam Small Beaten.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 13.—Sam Small, the noted evangelist, was attacked this morning and severely beaten by Tom Miner, an Atlanta saloon keeper. The liquor man's fists were wielded with great force. Last Sunday Small delivered an address and charged Miner with having deserted his family, leaving them to starve. Miner struck him. Small fell to the floor and before he could rise Miner kicked him in the face. Small's face is badly bruised, his under lip is cut and he has lost three teeth.

A Record in Steel Making.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—The Edgar Thomson Steel works at Braddock were put in operation after a rest of two hours for a 24-hour run, to test the capacity of the works. The idea was to eclipse if possible the record of the South Chicago rolling mills for 24 hours, which is 1700 tons. The test ended as 6 o'clock this morning at which hour 1907 gross tons of finished steel rails had been produced. This breaks all previous records.

A Severe Florida Fire.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov 13.—An extensive fire occurred in Ybor City, a suburb of this place, where the principal industry is cigar making. The fire started in a small house in the center of the town and spread rapidly in all directions. The loss will probably reach $300,000 and the insurance will reach half that amount. Most of the residents are Cubans.

A Murder by Robbers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—A horrible double murder was comitted last night, the victims of which are Mrs. Gretshen Lenzenhager, who kept a saloon at 444 South Clark street and her 15-year old son George. The woman was choked to death by unknown robbers, who then beat and choked the boy until his life left his body.

A Fight and a Riot.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 13.—Dan O'Donnell, of Scranton, and "Reddy" Flynn, of Cincinnati, champion lightweight of Georgia, fought six rounds. The stakes were $500 and receipts. Two hundred sports from coal region towns attended, and the referee gave the fight to O'Donnell on a foul. A riot followed.

He Dealt From the Bottom.

RANGOON, Nov. 13.—The charge against Lieut. Lowry, of the British army, is unfairly dealing at poker from the bottom and center of the pack. He is being tried by court martial at Rangoon, India.

Exploded in Oil.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—The tow boat Tide struck an oil line in the Ohio river this afternoon and an explosion followed. The boat was consumed in a few minutes. Capt. John Dippold and six men were lost.

Co-operation Doesn't Co-operate When Human Nature Falls Into Thievery and Fraud.

A California Banker Wrecks the Co-operatives Who Started With Much Flourish.

Small Farmers in the Fruit Districts are Ruined by the Transaction.

MADERA, Cal., Nov. 13.—The Madera bank failed today, carrying down in its ruins the John Brown colony. The bank had a capital of $25,000. This failure means the complete ruin of the co-operation project.

The bank had a capital of $100,000, of which $25,000 was paid up. It has now failed for $85,000, which means the complete ruin of the co-operative projects. John Brown was one of the original settlers of Madera, and three years ago started the colony project on an original plan. His idea was to use five-acre tracts for raising grapes and fruits and to cultivate them for colonists who would pay small amounts monthly. A mortgage was put on the land by the bank. This could not be paid and it brought on the crash.

It is found that the capital stock of the bank had been over issued and the signature of the president forged to false stock.

W. F. Baird, until recently vice president and manager of the Bank of Madera, is short in his accounts to the amount of nearly $100,000. It is understood he used money belonging to the colonists for his private schemes and as his losses grew he issued forged notes and deposited them in place of money used. The forging of checks and drafts followed, and later, over-issuing of stock. Baird forged the signature of President Roberts of the bank. No arrests have been made yet, as Baird has made slight restitution with large promises.

The California National club, of San Diego, did not open its doors today. The suspension is due to shrinkage of deposits and failure to realize. It is believed the depositors will be paid in full. The bank has a paid up capital of $500,000 and a surplus of $100,000.

Not Proven on Treasurer Woodruff.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 13.—The jury in the case of ex-State Treasurer Woodruff entered court at noon today and reported that they were unable to agree upon a verdict. They were discharged. The jury stood six for conviction and six for acquittal.

An Embezzling Postmaster.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Arthur W. Boyington, postmaster at Highland Park, a suburb of this city, was arrested today on a charge of embezzlement. His shortage is about $2000. He admitted his guilt and is held in $3000 bail.

FOR THE EIGHTH TIME.

The Richardson-Street Railway Case is up Again.

The case of W. E. Richardson vs. the Duluth Street Railway company, came up today for the eighth time. This time it is the company that asks Judge Searle to express an opinion as to whether the injunction granted against it is in force. If the judge decides in the negative the company will probably proceed to build its new line to Woodland Park.

There are now three appeals before the supreme court, on one of which arrangement has been made. The company first appealed from the granting of the injunction, then Richardson appealed from the dissolving of the injunction and lastly the company appealed from Judge Mills' fine of $50.

WAS NOT BULLDOZED.

Bismarck Tells the Exact Story of His Rupture With Billy.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Prince Bismarck gives a confidential friend the following exact account of his quarrel with the emperor:

"Saturday, March 15, at 8 o'clock in the morning, while I was still in bed, I was informed that the emperor was waiting to see me. When I entered the room the emperor received me with the following words, spoken in a tone of the most vehement reproach: 'A short time ago you forbade the ministers to make their reports directly to me, but I absolutely wish that my ministers shall present themselves personally to me.'

"Your majesty," answered I, "by virtue of the law I alone am authorized to make direct reports to you. It is absolutely necessary to follow the law if the proceedings of government are to have a firm, united character. Within the last few weeks some ministers have got into the way of making reports to you. It is in opposition to the law. But I will yield to your wishes and propose a change in the law."

"In a still excited tone his majesty said: 'In the workingmen's question also my plans met with your persistent opposition. I look to measures which I consider useful being carried out thoroughly.'

"'I do not oppose the improvements which your majesty thinks of introducing, but my years of experience tell me that some of them need certain modifications which are absolutely necessary and I shall have the honor of submitting them.'

"'No, no; no modifications,' interrupted the emperor. 'I wish my orders to be carried out just as I gave them.'

"The severity of this expression at last exhausted my calmness and I said: 'I think I can perceive that my services do not please your majesty and that some thoughts exist of getting rid of me.'

"The emperor made a confirmatory gesture with his hand, upon which I continued: 'In that case there is nothing else for me to do but to hand your majesty my resignation. I should only like to remain in office till May, so that I may personally defend the military bills in the reichstag, as I fear that my successor may find it difficult to break the opposition in parliament.'

After a few painful moments of silence his majesty said, still most excited, 'there is still a word to be said about your mysterious negotiations with Dr. Windthorst. I know you receive him in your house, and I forbid these meetings.'

"During all this I kept my temper, but I now broke out and said: 'I know quite well that for some time I have been surrounded by spies and tale bearers. It is true that I have invited Dr. Windthorst in order to discuss certain things with him; but it is my right and my duty,' and more, not even your majesty, will be able to prevent my doing so.'"

After these words, spoken in the greatest excitement, the emperor dismissed the chancellor with a simple movement of the hand.

EMBEZZLED CROWN FUNDS.

A German Banker Stole Funds for a Memorial to Wilhelm.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—There is a renewal today on a small scale of the financial uneasiness of the commencement of this week. This feeling is caused by the fact that rumors are circulating on the bourse to the effect that a prominent banker of Charlottenburg, near this city, has been arrested on the charge made by himself of appropriating and pawning bonds entrusted to his care. The banker referred to is said to have gone to a police station and to have frankly accused himself of the crime mentioned.

The banker, Herr Maass, says that his liabilities are about 1,750,000 marks. He admits embezzling funds of his clients and also a considerable amount of the money subscribed for the erection of a church in honor of the late Emperor William.

WILL YOU DO IT?

If the men who put their money into the gas and water plant five or ten years ago had invested it instead in Duluth real estate, what would it bring them today? Would our friends Alderman Long, Ed Ingalls and others who are kicking on a possible profit to the stockholders sell out their real estate investments for what they cost them a decade or lustrum ago? Is there a man in Duluth whose property abuts the water main who will sell it for what it cost in 1885 plus the improvements? Is there a property owner between Lester river and Fond du Lac, on or off of a water main, that will do it? Is there generosity of such magnitude anywhere within the sixty square miles that Duluth is to claim as her own on New Years day 1895? When Rev. E. M. Noyes' church sold its lot on the corner of First avenue east and Second street two or three years ago, did it sell for just what the property had cost it? Didn't it get some $13,000 for what had perhaps cost a song, maybe the Old Hundred, a little time before?

These, it seemeth to us, are pertinent questions. If all other property has quadrupled through no act of the owners but as a mere incident of our municipal growth, shall we say the gas and water plant (whose value depends on valuation) is worth only what it cost and demand that the stockholders surrender their interests at that price? Is this business? Is it common honesty as between man and man? If an individual owned it would we demand or expect such a transfer? Would not the average citizen say, well, he invested his money, took the risk, and ought to have a good profit out of it? This is the way rational men ordinarily talk.

A gas and water plant is not unlike a newspaper business in the manner of estimating its value. The Chicago Times even in its depreciated condition sold recently for a price somewhere up towards a million, and yet its type and presses may not have cost over $100,000. A successful newspaper if it saves its subscription list and bills receivable can burn up its plant or give it away for old iron and come out the next day or two better and brighter than ever, its value being almost wholly in its earning capacity. It takes folks, and lots of them, to make possible the marvelous success of the New York World and Herald. It also takes folks, and a goodly number of them, to make a water plant profitable. But Duluth has passed the struggling, losing era for such an enterprise, and placed the local company on a paying basis where its business is worth more than the cost of its plant. In view of the future greatness of Duluth, which from day to day The Herald has so confidently predicted, we believe the plant worth to the city very much more than it cost. We have asserted that Duluth five years hence would have 100,000 people and we have no prophecy to take back. If this prediction is true, the gas and water plant will then be worth $4,000,000 or $5,000,000, and we shall not now stultify ourself, even though some declare the papers are all bought up, by any attempt to depreciate the value of this property. We are for Duluth the solid, we have faith in her future, we believe 100,000 population is close at hand, we are confident the market value of the plant will double the option price in five years, and we are just as confident—whatever the plant may have cost, whether $1,000,000, $2,000,000 or only half a million—that it can never be bought cheaper. We are therefore for the purchase and opposed to typhoid fever scandals that can harm us more in a single season than the price of the plant. We are for the purchase next Thursday. Don't make a mistake.

FORCE BILL AND FREE SILVER.

The vote on free silver coinage in congress last winter is no criterion as to the real sentiments of the members of that distingue but now extinct body. It must be borne in mind that the silver bill and the force bill went hand in hand, and one was used to beat the other. Men of both parties voted for free silver to drive the Henry Cabot Lodge and George Frisbie Hoar radicals off of the force bill. That Massachusetts and the East generally might understand them and call a halt on the gospel of force and its advocates, many openly declared they would vote for free silver as long as the force bill was an issue. It is no secret that free silver killed the force bill, and let us be thankful for so great a blessing. The free silver republicans voted against force at the polls in exchange for democratic votes for free silver. Teller of Colorado managing the republican free silver campaign and Gorman of Maryland the democratic anti-force campaign in the senate. Both sides were cleverly handled, the outcome being the passage of a free silver bill by a gold bug senate, and the defeat of the Force bill by a republican senate which without such a combination might have passed it. It was a bitter contest, the Southern members as well as many from the North looking upon the Lodge bill as a return to the reconstruction and carpet bag era which proved not only disastrous to the South, but unfortunate to the whole country. In the house, too, the same sentiments entered into the contest, but the senate free silver bill was smothered in committee and never came to a direct vote. Free silver was used as an antidote for force, and no member's financial views can be fairly judged by his last winter's vote.

GAS AND WATER PLANT'S DEBT.

The gas and water plant has $295,000 6 per cent bonds due in 1905, $969,000 5 per cent bonds due in 1908, and $265,000 bills payable bearing from 8 to 10 per cent, making a total of $1,529,000. In addition to this total amount there is some accrued interest and possibly a few small accounts not reckoned in.

The $265,000 bills payable can be paid at once or very soon, and it is probable part or all of the bonds may be exchanged for the thirty-year 4½ per cent city bonds, as that would extend the sixes sixteen years and the fives thirteen years. Thus the whole debt is likely soon to be bearing but 4½ per cent, a rate that will not be burdensome and can be met by the earnings of the plant.

The Missouri delegation has opened up a boom for Hon. Richard Parks Bland of that state as speaker of the house in the Fifty-second congress. Mr. Bland at the close of the present hilarious body will have been twenty years in congress and might well write a book. In view of the free silver complexion of the house and the emphatic utterances of Dick P. on the subject, he being the author of the Bland act of '78 in striving to pass a bill that would permit a freer issue, his election to the speakership, should a sharp contest arise between Mills, McMillan, Springer, Crisp and Wilson, is not beyond the possibilities. Of all the candidates, McMillan has one advantage, his voice having a metallic rasp that scratches the frost off the skylight and makes him heard in all parts of the hall while Bland seems to have a bale of cotton in his mouth.

There are fires in the soft coal on the docks of all three of the big coal companies, the Pioneer, Northwestern and Lehigh. This is another evidence of eternal justice and of the casual observation of our forefathers that all men are created equal. The aggregate loss and expense before the flames are extinguished will probably reach $100,000, to cover which we understand there is insurance.

In another column will be found a very complete anatomical description of the Merrill-Ring sawmill at West Duluth, close by the now famous Mitchell-McClure vivisector of the forests. The new mill, which will begin operations in the spring, has an annual capacity of 40,000,0000 to 50,000,000 feet and will prove a valuable and most welcome addition to the manufacturing interests of Duluth. Thus we grow

The matter of the administration of the Emery estate has been very happily adjusted to the satisfaction of all concerned. Mr. G. W. Wattles, of Iowa, was yesterday appointed administrator by Probate Judge Ayer, D. G. Cash and E. C. Gridley being his bondsmen for $100,000. We are pleased at the outcome, for we feel that all Duluthians should dwell together as brethren.

The registration yesterday was much larger than on the two previous days, and it is now probable that the total vote at the special bond election next week will be upwards of 2000. This is a gratifying probability in view of the fact that only 560 voted in August and all others had to register. Now that you are on the list be careful and vote right.

It is all right to poke fun at the cranks, but Henry George was the first advocate of the Australian system of voting for the United States, and the Knights of Labor pushed the matter, till now everybody approves the principle and eighteen states have adopted the reform. The other twenty-six will soon follow suit. Let us therefore rejoice with a great joy.

Laboring men are not opposed to the purchase of the gas and water plant. At the meeting last night of the assembly, composed of representatives from the various local unions, a resolution favoring the purchase was adopted. Only the walking delegates are ferninst, and they will not be so for long.

The Milwaukee Herald offered a prize for the best plan of an attraction for that city at the World's fair and the committee of award was divided between an Indian village and a 7-story beer mug with elevator, music and pleasure garden in the upper story. If they could sell beer to the Indians they would have both.

IT IS easier to be right than be president. Take it easy.

BY THE WAY.

Times are more bustling now on the Duluth board of trade than at any time since wheat was first sold here. There isn't the quiet on the floor that has prevailed in former seasons, and yet there is not the roar and racket that make the New York stock exchange and the Chicago board of trade notorious the country over. More men are to be seen on the Duluth board nowadays than ever, yet the number will probably rarely exceed 45, and many of them are visitors or people not actively connected with the board. I was talking the other day with one of the members of the board and he said: "Duluth doesn't care to make much fuss. Here we are, doing the greatest wheat business the world ever saw, and yet there are many more men dealing in Chicago. The business that the few houses here do would be divided among 200 houses in Chicago. Our house alone received 450 cars of wheat today."

Everybody who has seen the "Old Homestead," which closed its engagement at the Lyceum last night, will remember the scene where Uncle Joshua sees a letter carrier emptying the contents of a letter box, and after seizing the man he takes for a thief tells the policeman who explains the situation: "Gosh! I didn't know that was Mr. Wanamaker." When Uncle Joshua delivered his little apology last night a couple in the parquet were convulsed with laughter, as was everybody else. When the noise had subsided the lady turned to her escort and asked: "Who is Wanamaker?"

Duluth's public library last Saturday sent out the greatest number of books in its brief but eventful history. A total of 432 volumes were distributed—as large a number as libraries of five times its size in cities manyfold greater than Duluth can boast of. The record made by the Duluth library ever since it opened has been surprising, and it is owing, in some part at least, to the system that has prevailed—of making the library as free as possible in every way to the people to whom it belongs. There are not half a dozen public libraries in the United States—perhaps not one—that combines so many administrative features of value and help to the taxpayers as does this at Duluth.

When Maples Set Their Leaves Afire.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]

The cricket sings in monotones
The air is full of golden dreams;
How perfect dying nature seems
When maples set their leaves afire.

Bright summer is not yet asleep—
I found her by the beeches wide,
And where belated violets hide
Their purple hoods beneath the hills.

And where, by fences old and gray,
That hoard the wealth and light of moon,
Pale, sapless grasses bow in June,
Lift silver fingers to the sun.

White autumn mists about her feet,
And yellow-coated leaves are seen.
Her bridal gown of richest green
Is bordered with a scarlet hem.

The cricket sings in monotones,
The air is full of golden dreams;
How perfect dying nature seems
When maples set their leaves afire.

MANY NOVEL FEATURES

The New Merrill & Ring Sawmill Carries Out Ideas not Exemplified Elsewhere in Mill Construction.

It Will Attract More Attention Among Machinists Than Any Sawmill That is Now in Existence.

It Represents a Cost of $200,000 and Will Saw Lumber all the Year, Day and Night.

"We shall have a mill when it is done," said Superintendent Charles R. Little of Merrill & Ring, who are building a mammoth sawmill on Grassy Point, "we shall have a mill that will see visitors. There will be many features about the mill that are not present in any sawmill in the world and if we didn't think they were big things we wouldn't put them in.

"We have followed out two main ideas in building this mill, one is to keep the logs and lumber up, so that whatever handling is by manual labor will be downward, the other is to have plenty of power and to make every bit of machinery in the mill couple to any engine or to any one or more boilers. Then we have a new grade sorter which, if successful, will revolutionize the business of sorting lumber. The mill's contract with the Cranberry Lumber company also calls for a dock from which vessels, railway cars or wagons can be loaded, so we shall bring water and rail together by having a dock 2700 feet long, at one side of which a railway track will connect with the West, and down the middle of which will be a wagon road for local trade."

The Merrill & Ring mill is now so far along that little more will be done on it till after the firm's old mill in Saginaw closes, when what machinery there that is wanted here will be moved to Duluth. The mill will have a new Wick's gang, 52 inches, extra heavy, with a steel shaft 11½ inches in diameter: a circular, which will be brought from Saginaw; a band, which with all its machinery was made by the Marinette Iron Works company of this city, and all the other usual machinery. Its steam will be furnished by a battery of 10 steel boilers, each 16 by 5½ feet, built by Wicks Bros., of Saginaw, and there will be four separate engines, stationed in the mill proper, under the log deck. Steam from the boilers goes into a drum from whence it is sent to the engines, so that any one or any number of the 10 boilers can be used separately.

There is no need of economy in fuel or steam, so the builders of this mill will use only the ordinary slide valve engines, as being better than the most costly and efficient engines. One will be coupled direct to the band and its machinery, one to the gang, one to the circular and one will run the conveyors and electric lights. Carrying out the idea expressed in the boilerroom the engines are arranged to be used interchangeably for the subsidiary machinery of the mill. Every conveyor in the mill is arranged for double duty, so that the length of conveyors is only half that usual. By an ingenious arrangement of screens, sawdust and slabs are separated and the bottom of the conveyor does as much work as the top. One conveyor directly across the mill and two lengthwise do all the work. All are on the lower floor.

On the sawing floor all the machinery is high, the boards leave the rolls at such an elevation that all hand labor at edgers is downward. At the back end of the mill all timber runs on a set of chains across to the sorting shed. At the entrance to this is the trimmer, with 12 saws in a length of 24 feet. At one end the boards are all placed even, so that trimming is easy. Besides the trimmer is a carrier that will automatically convey any board back to the edger, if it is seen that it should go there. Beyond the trimmer is the mechanical grade sorter. "We are not saying much about this yet," says Mr. Little, "because we haven't had it in practical operation. It is an idea of Mr. Ring's and my own and models have done well. If it is a success it'll be the first grade sorter ever made practical and will do the work with four men that is done by 20 in such a mill as that of Mitchell & McClure.

"Our lumber cars are now being made here by the cars works," continued he; "as they are double the usual size we will operate them by a small locomotive or an electric motor, instead of the usual horse power. Our dock will have about 16,000,000 feet of piling room and we shall pile on the shore side also. You will see that from the time a log leaves the water till it is piled on the dock, it never changes its general direction of travel. We will be able to cut up to over 40 feet on the circular side. All our new machinery is built and furnished by the Marinette works here."

The mill has a contract to cut 25,000,000 feet a year for the Cranberry Lumber company and will probably cut nearly as much more for its own owners. It will run night and day and probably winter as well as summer. It represents an investment of $200,000 in cash and a good deal more in brains. It, and the Mitchell & McClure mill close beside, form the two finest and most modern sawmills in the world and represent an investment, outside of old machinery brought here, or of timber and logging railways, of $500,000.

Homes For Workingmen.

Work has begun on a lot of 12 houses to be put up by Merrill & Ring for some of their workmen. The houses will cost about $1000 each and will be fitted with steam heat and city water. The will be rented to employes at low rates.

GETS FIFTEEN THOU.

R. L. Dulaney of This City Settles With the Pennsylvania.

Robert Dulaney, who with his wife were badly hurt in a Pittsburgh accident a year ago, has compromised with the Pennsylvania Central Railroad company for $15,000. W. W. Henry, Mr. Dulaney's partner, who is now in Pittsburgh, writes that both Dulaney and his wife are looking well, except for the crippling received in the accident.

The Saving by the Duluth Route.

In a late interview Jay Cooke, speaking of the Northern Pacific road, said: "The original intention was to run the line from Puget Sound to Duluth—Duluth, a place that had but six houses when I first visited it, 23 years ago. We wanted a line from water to water. By the lakes it is no further from Duluth to Buffalo than from Chicago; yet from Puget Sound to Duluth is 600 miles less than from San Francisco to Chicago. Then, too, the distance from Japan to the Sound is 800 miles shorter than from Japan to San Francisco, so in Asiatic traffic there is a saving of 1400 miles."

VERDICT FOR PEARSON.

The Bonesteel-Boyle Claimant Gets Nothing of her $30,000.

The jury in the slander suit of Bonesteel vs. Pearson took the case under consideration about 5:30 last evening and was out until 2 o'clock a. m. When court opened this morning the verdict was read. It was in favor of the defendant. When the judge made his charge he instructed the jury that they must not consider the part of the complaint asking $10,000 for injury to reputation, as the evidence had not sustained it. The only question was whether the plaintiff was entitled to damages by the breaking off of the engagement.

The judge's charge served very favorable to the defendant, and any fair-minded person who listened to the evidence could hardly fail to feel that the defendant was grievously wronged by the bringing of the action. The plaintiff and her alleged intended husband drew out of the defendant by much importunity the statements alleged to be slanderous and no one was to blame but themselves. The young woman had nothing to gain and everything to lose by bringing the action.

What's the use of spending so much money for clothes when with Diamond Dyes old dresses, feathers, ribbons, etc., can be made to look like new?

A package costs but 10 cents, yet it often saves dollars. They come in all colors, are easy to use, make rich and unfading colors and are the great money savers of the age.

The Calendar.

How many men who have a calendar of the year hanging beside their desks—how many of the people who can't keep house without an almanac—know that about 300 years ago a very important change was made in our reckoning of time? Up to the time of Julius Cæsar, the Romans divided the year into 10 months, of very unequal lengths. One of the chief purposes of a calendar is to mark a fixed date as the beginning of a year, and to do this, it should be always at the same distance from the spring and fall equinoxes. In the time of Cæsar, the science of astronomy was not very exact, and the small error of 11 minutes in the length of the year was made. In the Sixteenth century the churchmen, who had a great many religious festivals, found that whereas the equinox was on March 25 when the Julian calendar was made, in 1582 it had fallen back to March 11. The great festival of the church, Easter, was thus getting back into the winter. Pope Gregory XIII, came to the rescue, and after consultation with the learned of the day, issued, in October, 1582, a brief by which the date was arbitrarily advanced ten days—and that is our present calendar. Russia, under the Greek church, did not follow this, and still keeps the old style. To always have the correct date in your home or office, get one of the calendars issued by "The Burlington," and to meet your engagements in other places, buy your railroad tickets over that line. All further information will be given by agents, or can be had by applying to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

for approved drawings with appropriate reading; or $5.00 each for designs or reading matter only. This offer is open to all who have facility in illustration. The competition will close December 10, 1891. About January 1, 1892, we will pay for accepted designs, and return the others.

Directions.—Make drawings with black ink on heavy white paper, or card board. Do the work in outline. Elaborate shading will not print well. Space in papers will be about four inches square. Draw to larger scale if you prefer, but have design square. The idea is most important. If that is good we can have it redrawn and still give you credit. Avoid doggerel in which soap rhymes with hope, &c.

Points.—Santa Claus is a pure, high-grade Soap—made for laundry and general household use—a favorite wherever known. Generous praise will be well bestowed. Sold by all grocers, wholesale and retail.

LOSS OF COAL GREAT

Destruction of the Three Coal Fires at the Head of the Lake Will Easily Aggregate $150,000.

Lehigh Fire Out, Pioneer Fire Nearly so This Afternoon, but the Latest is the Worst of All.

Dense Volumes of Smoke and Steam Rise From the Northern Pacific Dock of the Northwestern Company.

It is probable the loss by burning coal at the Duluth docks of the Pioneer and Northwestern Fuel companies will easily reach $250,000, when is included the cost of extinguishing the flames.

The Pioneer company's dock has been burning a week and is now about extinguished. Over 5000 cubic feet water per minute have been poured on the fire for several days, but this had no effect until streams were directed to washing down the coal piles as in hydraulic mining. Then the burning masses of coal were uncovered and the damage to this company is about over. Loss will aggregate at least 30,000 tons soft coal, valued at over $100,000, while the labor of 200 men has also been used in putting out the blaze.

An attempt was made yesterday afternoon to use salt at this fire and a carload was piled above the burning mass and washed down on it. The scheme did no good, however, as the salt water was no better able to reach the fire than the water alone. It has been pretty well settled by this fire that pouring water from above is of no avail. The streams turn to steam before they reach the blaze, and ascending in vapor aid, rather than decrease, the force of the flames.

A fire in the Northwestern Fuel company's dock No. 2, just north of Elevator B, was first discovered at midnight. Early this morning it was blazing high in the air from almost the center of the dock. As the dock is built on piles with a space of several feet under its timbers, the fire spread rapidly under the coal piles. It is now confined in a space 200 by 300 feet by sunken railway tracks on two sides and by trenches dug in the coal by many scores of laborers. The company is carrying coal from this space and dumping it wherever it can, on parts of the dock not in danger and in the water, from which it can be dreged later. Several piles of coal 20 feet high and 30 or more in diameter have sunk, as the piling beneath was burned and other large piles are a mass of red and glowing fire. A considerable part of this fire is in hard coal. The fire will probably be confined to the space in which it now is, as the dock planking between the sunken tracks is being torn up as fast as the superimposed coal can be removed.

The fire tug, a sand tug, the tug Effie L, a city steamer, engines of the dock, and the fire apparatus of elevator B, of the Lake Superior company, are pouring water on the fire, with the apparent effect of making a good deal of steam and smoke. The loss is hard to estimate but cannot be less, in the end, than $150,000 as a vast quantity of coal is burning.

The Lehigh Coal company, which has been fighting fire three weeks at its Superior dock, has just put it out.

The big Minneapolis engine at work at the Pioneer dock broke down last night, but is ready again for business this afternoon.

The coal companies are fully insured on all their coal blanket policies, many of them in mutual coal dock companies. The loss to the coal people, therefore, will be small.

THE MARKETS.

Prices Start Well but Fall off Toward the Close.

In sympathy with the strong and higher opening quotations from all other markets and good buying orders, the wheat market opened strong with large trading in cash at ¾c over yesterday's close. The futures were nominally held at the same advance, but ruled very dull until after a decline had set in. The early strength and activity was short lived, and prices rapidly followed the breaks in other markets and declined.

Cables quote English markets firm and unchanged; French and German markets dull and prices falling. Total clearances from four Atlantic ports were 604,509 bu wheat and flour, and today will aggregate over 1,000,000 bu. The last hour here was very dull and weak, with declining tendencies.

Cash 1 hard opened at 95c, declined to a close at 94c. No. 1 northern opened at 93c, sold largely at that, closed at 92c. No. 2 northern sold at 88c and closed at 87c. No. 3 closed 83c, rejected 73c.

December 1 hard dull and closed at 92¾c. No. 1 northern opened at 92c, declined to a close at 90¾c.

May 1 hard sold at $1.01 and closed at $1.00¾. No. 1 northern opened at $1, sold off and was irregular, closed at 98½-¾c, after sales at 98½c.

PERSONAL.

Frederick Prentice and wife, of Ashland, are in town at their hotel.

Joseph L. Colby and Colgate Hoyt arrived in this city at midnight last night and will go to the Pacific coast tomorrow night.

Miss Clark, from Glasgow, Scotland, arrived in Duluth this morning to make her home here. She is a sister of Simon Clark, and was accompanied on the voyage by her sister, Mrs. Chalmers and her son John, who left Duluth a month ago to bring her here.

Hiram Duryea, of New York city, is in the city today. He is a member of the Superior and Duluth Loan & Debenture company, and a brother of President Duryea, of the starch trust.

Mrs. F. D. Culver and children returned this morning from a visit of several months at their old home in Canandaigua, N. Y. They were accompanied by Mr. Culver's father, who is on his way to South Dakota.

IN THE LAND OFFICE.

The Famous Hyde-McDonald Case Being Heard Again.

The great land office fight is on once more and the council chamber has been secured for the hearing. This morning Messrs. Marble and Derby tried to have a new stenographer appointed on the ground that they could get it done for less money. But the majority know that Judd Stearns and his assistants are accurate and they wouldn't yield to the request. Considerable time was lost in admitting the deposition of Sarah A. Moyer, taken under a commission issued by the register, in the subdivision known as Billson vs. Moyer, which deposition went to show that Moyer was dead.

Fred W. Johnson, who owns a half interest in Nye's studio, testified in behalf of Emil Hartmann. He claimed to have made the negative and positive plates for a photograph of certain exhibits in the Wheeler case. He stated that the paper which he photographed looked as if some of the writing had been eliminated with chemicals, but Mr. Reddington mixed him all up and showed that he wasn't very familiar with the action of chemicals. This finished the work of the forenoon.

Professor Tallman, of Chicago, is on the stand this afternoon to testify as an expert in regard to the tampering with the writing in the acknowledgement of the Sioux halfbreed scrip. His testimony is in the same line as that of Ames.

A Sad State of Affairs.

Julius Larson was arrested last night by Humane Officer Hoskins because he would not take care of his little 7-year-old son, who is an idiot. Larson had, a couple of weeks ago, quietly left the child at the home of some relatives and slipped away. They could not afford to support the child, hence the arrest. This morning the father was allowed to depart. The case is a pitiable one. The child is in such condition that it must have constant attention. No one would be willing to undertake its care and it is not old enough to be admitted to a state institution. The mother is dead and the father cannot earn anything if he is to look after the child. When he went away this morning he seemed to be in despair, but said he would try to do the best he could to support the boy. He was without a penny.

Oleo Confiscated.

State dairy commissioner yesterday made a haul of about two tons of oleomargarine at Armour & Co.'s packing house and carted it away. He claims that the state law is violated by the concern, but in just what respect it is impossible to ascertain. Armour & Co. have not tried to conceal the fact that they were selling oleo. They have a government license. It is understood that a number of other dealers in Duluth will be in trouble before the expiration of 24 hours.

A Third of Our Voters.

About 2000 persons will be excited to vote at the approaching bond election. The registration yesterday was larger than on the other two days. In the First ward the total registration is 168, Second 125, Third 554 and Fourth 665. The estimate for the Fifth is 350 and for the Sixth 150.

It is said that J. H. James has within a short time struck it rich in section 2-58-18, which is owned by the James Exploration company. Mr. James was asked what truth there was as to the report, but he said there was nothing to it.

Explorations have been begun on the e½ of the sw¼ of 28-59-15. Capt. John Mallman has charge of the crew. This property is in the neighborhood of the Biwabik.

Explorations have been resumed at the Stone property in 48-58-14, Capt. Morcom being in charge. The work at present will be done entirely with a diamond drill. The property lies beside the tracks at the Iron Range crossing of the Mesaba range.

At the Great Northern property, Capt. Trezona thinks he will reach the ore before another month. They are drifting to the south and are now in about 160 feet.

The drill on section 30, near Ely, has reached a depth of about 340 feet and is being moved again to the north side of the formation for further tests.

The Retail Clerks union will hold a special meeting this evening at their hall in the Hunter block. All clerks not members who desire to assist in the early closing issue are invited to be present. CHAS. FREIMUTH, President.

Take Notice!

When the doors of the store open at 8 o'clock Monday morning they will open the way to the greatest sale of Ladies' Merchandise ever conducted in the Northwest. We do not each day tell you that we are selling Merchandise at manufacturer's cost, etc., as we give the majority of people credit with being intelligent enough to know that no merchant can continually give a dollar's worth of anything good for less than a dollar, and that a dollar's worth of trash is of no value to anybody and that no merchant is doing business purely for amusement. The absurdity of the "every day special sale" device has long ago been recognized as "bosh" by the fair-minded. If you will read our add. in tomorrow's Tribune you will notice we are not trying, by a contortion of phrases, to attract attention, but by the low prices we quote on Staple Articles that are as familiar to you as to us, that we have something to sell, and if you need that something you can buy it cheap. BE DECIDED SOON.

The Famous Hyde-McDonald Land Case is Being Pushed Along at Washington.

A Decision Possible in Three Days Says One of the Department Officials.

One of the Most Famous Land Cases Ever Known in the Balance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—[Special to The Herald.]—It was learned at the interior department today that the celebrated Duluth iron land case of Hyde against Warren, Merritt and Chandler is being rapidly pushed through the different channels in the department, and that a decision might be made in the very near future.

It will be remembered that the case was last given a hearing before Secretary Noble and his assistants on Oct. 19 and 20, when Thos Hyde pleaded on his own behalf and when there was a great array of legal talent representing the various claimants with the single exception of Hyde, who had no money to employ counsel and fought alone.

Attorney General Shields, of the interior department, was questioned about the matter by the Herald correspondent today. He sat with Noble as one of the judges at the last hearing. Shields was evasive about the matter. He said finally that a decision might come within three days and it might be three months hence.

Assistant Secretary Chandler today affirmed the decision of the commissioner of the general land office, of March 23, 1889, in the case of Richard Downman vs. N. B. Thayer in which the commission affirmed the action of the register and receiver of the Duluth land office in rejecting Downman's application to contest the homestead entry of Thayer made May 9, 1889. Chandler holds that the contest affidavit is not sufficiently strong.

LACEY ALL RIGHT.

Secretary Foster Believes it is Impossible to be Infallible.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Secretary Foster says that the recent bank failures do not prove that the system is defective or that Comptroller Lacey has neglected his duties. It is impossible, he says, to have a banking or any other system perfectly proof against fraud. Mr. Foster says only about 10 banks have failed during the past year out of 4000 which he considers a small percentage. It is probable he will ask for more bank examiners and better pay for them to secure a higher class of ability.

THE WM. TELL ACT.

A Case Where an Amateur Tell Couldn't Shoot.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Adda Meinot took her 17-year-old son to a museum, where one of the attractions is a William Tell act. Yesterday she playfully put a potato on her head, remarking to the boy that he could not shoot it off. The boy had a revolver and aiming it, pulled the trigger. The bullet lodged in the woman's neck and she will die.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Newark—John Morris, a confectioner, aged 42, jumped from a buggy in which he and his wife were riding to the water below. He had been on a spree.

Toledo—By fire in Sills & Rook's lumber dock a loss of $100,000 was incurred. Half the stock was destroyed.

Chicago—Louis Adler, a wholesale cloak merchant failed. His assets he values at $300,000, more than enough to meet his liabilities. Slack business caused the failure.

Cheyenne—The Cheyenne national closed its doors after a run of an hour. The liabilities are $260,000, and the bank is insolvent with $40,000 in exchange in Chicago and New York. The failure was caused by the breaking of the California bank at San Diego, and the bank had no time to collect its assets. J. W. Collins was at the head of both institutions. Senator John Sherman is a stockholder of this bank, and John J. Knox, of New York is another.

Berlin—Baroness Von Waldersee, the morganatic wife of Louis, duke of Bavaria, is dead. Until her marriage she was one of the best known artists on the Munich comic stage. To marry her, the duke renounced his right to the succession.

The Pig Goes Marching On.

FROM BRAZIL.

The Dictator's Power Believed to be on the Wane.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—In spite of instructions sent to Brazilian ministers all over the world to deny the existence of any disturbance all the statements made in regard to the situation in Brazil are fully confirmed in every particular.

Dispatches received here from Brazil this morning add that the opposition continues to gain strength and that the national party is being reinforced daily by the garrisons of towns which have declared against the dictator. The nationalists at the rate they are said to be gaining strength, hope to restore order in Brazil within a few weeks and to establish more firmly the republican form of government which is their aim according to advices. The short spasmodic movement towards the restoration of the empire, which was one of the consequences of the dictator's high-handed action in dissolving congress has apparently been drowned out by a wave of honest republicanism.

It should be added that there is serious trouble brewing in Rio Janeiro itself. Business there still continues but a vigilance committee has been appointed and this really means that the power has passed out of the dictator's hands.

The revolt against Fonseca in Rio Grande do Sul has been so far completely successful. In a fight in which 5000 men of all arms were engaged it is reported that the government troops, under Gen. Isadore Gonzales, were defeated and the insurgent cavalry started on a move toward the North. It is also reported that Governor Castillio of Rio Grande do Sul, has decided to join the insurrectionary movement. For this reason his resignation has been asked by Fonseca. The revolt now involves all the towns of the state with the exception of Porto Alegro.

Of the entire navy only the gunboat Camden has taken up the cause of revolution. The balance of the navy has remained faithful to the dictator.

ENTIRE FAMILY BURNED.

A Little Girl's Discovery at a Fire in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 13.—One of the most disastrous fires in years from the fact that an entire family were consumed, occurred in a row of tenement houses on North High street. On the first alarm flames were seen shooting from the roof, no firemen could get into the building. Two hours were consumed in gaining control of the flames. All were rescued, as believed.

Late in the afternoon a little girl with childish curiosity rummaged through the ruins and found a naked arm, which led to a search and the ultimate discovery of five blackened bodies. The entire family of Charles Bethers was destroyed while sleeping. They were Charles Bethers, aged 30 years, Elizabeth, his wife, aged 28, Carrie, aged 9; Myrtle, aged 6; and James, aged 3.

A full investigation will follow and not a little criticism is passed upon the action of the fire department in not making a thorough examination before leaving. The room was only ten feet from the ground and the entire family might have been rescued.

BOIES ON TARIFF.

The Iowa Governor Apes Grover With the Same End in View.

DES MOINES, Nov. 14.—The Bandana club, of Leavenworth, Kan., held its annual banquet last night. Governor Boies, of Iowa, was urged to attend, but was unable to do so. He sent a letter on his tariff views, which is interesting because he is considered here to be the leading candidate for the democratic nomination from the West.

He writes of the toil of the farmers and of their debt which he says is caused by laws made for the avowed purpose of protecting great industries. It is the mission of the democratic party to unravel the false system, to make plain that a protective tariff, beyond that necessary for revenue, should become a thing of the past.

THE PUNISHMENT FIT.

What Could be Severe Enough for a Crime Like This.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Nov. 14.—David Cummings was arrested yesterday on a charge of train wrecking. He confessed while drunk, that he removed the spikes from a rail on the Pacific road last January which caused the wreck of a train just on the outskirts of this city. Engineer and fireman were injured in the wreck. Cummings has already been recognized as the man who placed his child on a railroad track not long ago, hoping to have it run over and killed. A brakeman rescued the child.

AMMUNITION OVERLAND.

Secretary Tracy Orders Ships and Ammunition Sent to Frisco.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Orders were received at the Brooklyn navy yard to have the Atlanta, Bennington and Concord ready for sea today. An important part of Secretary Tracy's order was that 100,000 6-pound cartridges be sent immediately to San Francisco by express. This is the first time since the war that ammunition has been sent overland.

A Coffee Blockade.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 14.—There is almost a complete blockade of the Brazil ports of Rio and Santos from which the bulk of the world's supply of coffee is exported. This is due to insufficient custom house facilities and inability to handle vessels. Unless this situation is relieved prices will advance as the supply here will soon be exhausted. This trouble is said to be creating more concern in the trade than rumors of war in Brazil. At Santos five vessels are waiting for cargoes of coffee for the Baltimore market and at Rio are seven.

Were Simply Counting Their Gains.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Seventeen of the alleged anarchists who were raided by the city police Thursday night were tried today. The incomplete evidence submitted to showed that Inspector Lewis had made a blunder and in looking for a gathering of blood-thirsty "reds" had captured a meeting of the stockholders of the Arbeiter Zeitung.

It Served Him Right.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Nathan Boyett, a well-to-do farmer and president of the local bank at Boyett, N. C., was swindled out of $300 by green goods men on Wednesday. He received the usual circular at his home about a month ago and early this week came to New York to get rich. He was fleeced out of his money in the usual method adopted by the green goods men.

IT IS ALL LOVELY.

Serenity and Peace Brood Over Affairs of Chile and the United States.

At Least so Say Senor Montt and President Harrison in an Official Talk.

Harrison Takes Occasion, However, to Nail Some of the Chilean Lies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Senor Montt, the Chilean minister, was this morning formally received as the representative of Chile.

With the usual ceremonies he was presented to this country by Sec. Blaine and Senor Montt spoke as follows to the President: "The object of my mission is to cultivate and maintain the relations of peace and friendship which have ever been close and cordial. For the accomplishment of this purpose I rely upon the kindness and good will which the United States government has always manifested for the representatives of Chile. Permit me to express my country's sincere wishes for the prosperity and welfare of this noble country."

The President said "by the presence of a representative of Chile we hope to promote a good understanding between the two governments and the early settlement, upon terms just and honorable to both, of the diplomatic questions now somewhat urgently awaiting adjustment. The United States particularly desire and rejoice in the prosperity of all its neighbors in this hemisphere. Our diplomatic relations with them have always been and will continue to be free from intermeddling with their national affairs.

"We hear with sorrow every fresh tale of war or internal strife and are always ready to give our friendly offices to the promotion of peace. If these are not acceptable or do not avail, it is our policy to preserve an honorable and strict neutrality, as was done done during the recent war in Chile. This government was quite as determined in its refusal to allow a war vessel of the United States to carry to a neutral port the silver of Balmaceda, as it was to give aid to the forces opposing him."

NOT FREE LUNCHERS.

North Dakotans Object to Free Lunch Invites From Minneapolis.

GRAND FORKS, Nov. 14.—The Daily News says this morning:

Minneapolis wheat sharpers, alarmed at the inroad of Duluth jobbers and merchants, telegraphed through the Associated Press (dead head) to North Dakota that they want the farmers to come down there and enjoy a free lunch. In the first place the farmers of North Dakota are not free lunchers, they don't need any free lunch and haven't time to go to Minneapolis and take it.

A Great Strike May Ensue.

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 14.—Committees representing all the trainmen except the engineers and firemen of the Southern Pacific system and General Superintendent Van Vleck have held a conference to adjust existing troubles. No progress was made although the meeting lasted all day. A strike is now threatened on the entire system, from New Orleans to San Francisco.

It Killed Him.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—James Charleston a terra cotta worker, fell 19 stories from the top of the Masonic Temple building at State and Randolph streets, shortly before noon today and was crushed into a mass of flesh.

It Was a Silly Canard.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The rumors that gained some credence in Shanghai following the departure from that port of the cruiser Charleston, that the vessel had been ordered to Honolulu to seize the Hawaiian islands in certain contingencies, have no definite foundation.

Were Finally Fired.

DANVILLE, Ind., Nov. 14.—At a small station west of here on the Big Four road, five fierce looking tramps got on a train and took possession of the ladies coach for a short time. A stubborn fight ensued between the trainmen and the tramps who were finally fired.

Blown to Atoms.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Nov. 14.—At Kingston, N. M., two men named William Hutchins and Richard Joy, were yesterday blown to atoms in a mine near here by the premature explosion of a quantity of powder. They were each about 20 years of age.

Robbery and Murder.

IRWINTON, Ga., Nov. 14.—Mrs. J. M. Knight, the wife of a prosperous farmer living four miles from this place, was yesterday murdered in her house, which was afterwards robbed and burned to the ground.

A Bank Wrecker Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14—W. F. Baird, the Madera bank official whose shortage was made known yesterday was arrested last night in this city on a charge of forgery.

BOTH FIRES UNDER CONTROL.

The Coal Fires Will Soon Burn Themselves Out.

Chief Smith says this afternoon that he has had the fire on the Northwestern dock under control for many hours, and that it is now only a matter of time when the fire will be extinguished. The burning space is 50 by 100 feet. Two tugs, two sand pumps and the big Duluth engine are working on the blaze. The Pioneer fire is still more under control and will be extinguished by tomorrow night. The St. Paul and Minneapolis engines are the only ones working on it.

Notice to Clansmen.

The funeral of Mrs. Wilson, wife of Clansman Robt. S. Wilson, takes place from West Superior tomorrow (Sunday.) As a mark of respect and sympathy, clansmen are requested to meet at the West Superior ferry, Lake avenue, at 1:30 p. m., and accompany the remains to Forest Hill cemetery. No regalia.

WHAT IS EXTENSION?

The Question Answered by an Able Address Last Evening.

There were nearly 500 people at Temple Opera last evening at the talk on "Universlty Extension" by Professor Judson. After Superintendent Denfeld had urged the importance of the new movement and after C. C. Towne had referred to the value of the movement as an educational influence for the masses, the chief speaker was introduced.

Professor Judson clearly explained the origin, objects and growth of the university extension movement. He said a desire for betterment mentally among the people had brought it into being. He thought its definition was that it brings the organization of a higher edution to busy adults. Here he emphasized the necessity of the American people taking more time for mental improvement. Most people cease intellectual work when they leave school. This is wrong. It makes us all young to keep up those things which make life beautiful. Intellectual unrest and a desire for learning something leads to gossip. Instead we should use our spare moments in study.

The movement dates from 1873 when it started on a demand from laboring men. Since then it has grown until there are now 45,000 people engaged in the work. In Minnesota it is nearly two years old and began in St. Paul, when a class in mechanical engineering was attended by many young men working in the railroad shops. He spoke of the growth of the movement at St. Paul and elsewhere and congratulated Duluth in starting on the road.

Chas. A. Towne read the following telegram of congratulation from William Pepper, provost of the University of Pennsylvania and the honorary president of the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching. It was to one of the members of the national society now a citizen of Duluth:

"To Frank M. Zeller: The American society sends the heartiest congratulations and best wishes for Duluth's success. University extension is the great educational movement of the time. We should all be proud of the privilege of taking part in it."

THE LAND CASE.

The Hearing in Section 30 Progesses Steadily Again.

Attorney Redington cross examined Professor Tallman, the expert on writing, this forenoon in the famous section 30 case. The professor stated that he came here in September by the direction of A. M. Miller. When he arrived Miller was not here and so Capt. Pressnell, representing Miller, took him over to the land office and asked him to examine the assignment of scrip filed by Hartmann on part of the land in question to ascertain whether there had been any writing in certain blank spaces. He said that there had been, not knowing what way Pressnell wanted to have the examination turn out. Indeed, the professor claimed that he didn't know whether his declaration was favorable or unfavorable to Miller and Hartmann's case until after he made his written report to Miller. When cross examined as to the results of the examination he testified that there were two of the indentations on the paper in which he could plainly see the marks of the ribs of a pen. He then went into the details.

The object of the professor's testimony is to show that the assignment of the scrip filed by Hartmann was properly filled out with Hartmann's name and place of residence when it was filed and that some one tampered with it and took off Hartmann's name, thereby rendering the assignment invalid. The professor is undoubtedly a very clever expert and makes an exceedingly good impression by his manner.

A Delicate Operation Performed.

The delicate operation of tracheotomy was successfully performed at 8 o'clock last night by Dr. Titcomb, assisted by Dr. Pillsbury, on Ruth, the 9-year-old daughter of Charles Piper. The little girl is suffering from diphtheretic croup and at the time the operation was performed her throat was so completely filled with membrane that it was believed for a few minutes that she was asphyxiated. The insertion of the tube gave her instant relief and she passed an easy night. She is very low with diphtheria and may yet lose her life, but the operation has been successful in prolonging it for some days at least.

Up for the Ninth Time.

The fight between W. E. Richardson and Street Railway company took its ninth turn this morning, when W. W. Billson appeared before Judge Searle and argued that the company ought to be allowed to obtain right of way over the land in question by condemnation proceedings. The judge took the matter under advisement, as he also did the matter argued yesterday.

The Trades Assembly.

At the last meeting of the Trades assembly, E. Applehagen was made delegate to the national convention of the Federation of Labor, to be held in Birmingham, Dec. 14. The Coopers union reported some little trouble at the Rices Point shop of G. H. Christian, but no strike ordered. The clerks reported that all merchants but M. S. Burrows were in favor of early closing. All other unions reported work good.

For Selling Whisky to Indians.

James Cameron, of Mora, was brought to terms last night by Deputy U. S. Marshal Beaulieu, charged with selling whisky to Indians. Court Commissioner Carey ordered him committed until the next term of the U. S., district court at St. Paul.

Marine Notes.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Nov. 14.—Fair weather is reported this morning from all sections. It is still cold in the Northwest several stations reporting below zero. While in the Southwest and West the temperature has risen highly. The coldest places are Miles City Mont. and Minnedosa Man., 4 below zero, and 2 below at Fort Assinneyome Mont., and Prince Albert and Battleford Nowy. T. The warmest place is Ft. Smith Ark., 42 above.

A little snow has fallen at widely scattered stations, the heaviest being along the lakes. A storm is forming over the entire Northwest and another over Texas, which will have the effect of warming up the Western States.

DULUTH, Nov. 14.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Nov. 15: Fair; slowly rising temperature.

B. H. BROSSON,
Observer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—For Wisconsin: Warmer; southerly winds and fair today; increasing cloudiness and local rain or snow Sunday.

For South Dakota: Cloudiness and flurries of snow; northwesterly winds; light changes in temperature.

For Minnesota and North Dakota: Continued cool, fair weather; fair Sunday, except in Southern Minnesota; possibly local snows.

THE BRAZILIAN SITUATION.

President Fonseca of Brazil has by this time thoroughly learned the old saying, "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." This is particularly true where the crown is that of a dictator. Leaving Rio Janeiro he has gone to San Paulo, the capital of a state to the southwest, that he may there prevent the forces of Rio Grande do Sul from joining those of the interior states of Matto Grosso, Goyaz and Para, now said to be in revolt, and prevent naval operations from Porto Alegre, the capital of Rio Grande do Sul, and only practical point of water communications for the insurgents. The city of Para, capital of the rebellious state of that name, is on the Para river, one of the outlets of the Amazon, and in one degree south latitude, where it would be rather warm for vigorous warfare, but Porto Alegre is in the more temperate climate of thirty south latitude and a good point for operations if it could be easily reached.

The trouble with the Brazilian republic is quite as much due to a lack of civilization and of homogeneity of its people, as to the government of Fonseca or all other causes. There are some populations not fitted for self-government, and it is yet an open question whether any people in the torrid zone can permanently maintain a republic. The Spanish temperament under such conditions seems to run more to jack knives than to justice, and the descendants of Don Quixote long for something that is about one part government and two parts gore. They like republics well enough, as is shown by their actions in all the South American countries. But not infrequently a republic is nothing but a name used to cover a sort of tyranny that modern monarchies would crush out as inhumanities to man. A republic must be based on respect for law and right, and where these sentiments are wanting it is as well to let the rivers of water flow on to temper despotism in a one man's country. We have hopes for Brazil, but with the character of her population and climate she can never become great in the sense that our own country is achieving greatness. Even our cool-headed President, cabinet and congress if transferred to the Amazon could not hope permanently to pacify her people.

A PLEA FOR MINNEAPOLIS.

For a young city, barring the grandeur of Duluth, Minneapolis, considering her suburban delights, is perhaps the most beautiful and attractive city in the United States, of which, with the close steam and electric car connections, St. Paul may now be deemed a part. We share the pride of her people in her wonderful growth and her charming summer resorts. We therefore join most cordially in the Northwestern chorus, which asks that the republican convention may be held in our sister city. There is in the Twin cities a population of over 300,000, or more than Chicago had in 1870, and yet ten years before that date when it was no bigger than Minneapolis alone, the convention that nominated Lincoln met there. To be sure the country has grown and the conventions now are more largely attended than they were then, but Minneapolis is incomparably superior to Chicago in 1860. It will be no strain on her to handle the crowd—except, perhaps, during the enthusiasm that would follow the nomination of Mr. Blaine—and she would afford them pleasures and entertainment of a kind that even Chicago cannot give. And then, too, when the heated tiger strife is over, the delegates and their helpers can go home via Duluth and be soothed and sustained by our cooling breezes. The Northwest has earned the convention with the votes that have been yearly thrown for a party that has not always deserved them, and this is the least that can be done to requite the constancy of her affection. Let Minnie have it.

By one of those errors that will happen now and then in the hurry of daily newspaper work, the mystic types yesterday made us say the value of a gas and water plant depends on "valuation" instead of "population," as was intended. The point to be impressed on the reader is that if the value of all other property has been enhanced by the growth and future prospects of our city, a gas and water plant with only one-third of its mains in use for the service of abutting property, should certainly share to some extent in this general appreciation. If the city buys the plant and extends it, we will never sell it for what it costs.

The Duluth excursionists to Dakota will return tonight or tomorrow morning and vote for the gas and water bonds next Thursday. After viewing for five days the wonderful resources of Duluth and being convinced of a necessary and marvelous growth for our city, they will have no hesitation in making an investment of this magnitude and kind. The future is just before us. The next twelve months will reveal many things to our people. The whole West is alive with interest in Duluth, and those who vote wrong next Thursday will have early cause to regret their action.

The Minneapolis Tribune says Kearney, Neb., is knocking for admission to the Minneapolis market, and advocates a direct connection. Whenever the Twin cities build a railroad they merely make another feeder for Duluth. As the seat of a university and a quiet place for study, Minneapolis is all right and serves a noble cause, but when it comes to commerce she is not in it with Duluth the solid, and in opening her market she merely lifts the top off a basket of grapes. We are the people.

The verdict of the jury in favor of H. W. Pearson in the damage suit brought against him for alleged defamation of character was the only one they could give after hearing the testimony and is the only one the public gave before hearing it. The lover who breaks off an engagement because of rumors, caused by himself, against the good name of her whom he adores, ought to do something for her besides testify against the alleged author of the rumor.

The eagerness with which the Dakota people sought copies of The Duluth Weekly Herald distributed at all points along the route of the pilgrims, betrayed their strong desire to know more of our city and the advantages it affords. The paper was the regular weekly edition of The Herald, but prepared with special reference to the wants of our wheat-growing neighbors. The several thousand copies thus disposed of will sow much good seed by the way side.

The lecture of Professor H. P. Judson at Temple Opera last night marks the beginning of university extension in Duluth. It comes under the auspices of the Round Table and the first lecture in the regular course will be given at rooms of that club, 22 East Second street tonight. This is the inauguration of a movement which if popularized will be successful here and do a work of inestimable good for our people.

The total number of deaths in the whole state of Minnesota for the month of September was 782—441 being males and 341 females—making a death rate 7.3 to 1000 by the census of 1890. The average in the ten largest cities with 30 per cent of the total population was 12.85, while that in the country with the other 70 per cent was 4.5. The chief causes of mortality were children's com plaint, 146; tuberculosis, 70; typhoid fever, 62.

Austin, Minnesota, is soon to have in operation a flax fiber mill for the manufacture of fine linen. Should it prove successful it will give immediate life to a great industry in this state and add much to the value of flax in the culture of which Minnesota ranks as the first state in the Union. It will put millions of dollars into the pockets of the farmers and make many thousand firesides glad.

The Stillwater street railway thought it owned the town, and so proceeded to pave the street along its line in a slovenly manner, but the authorities jerked the company up with an injunction and an application was made to have the injunction dissolved, but Judge Crosby sustained it.

Sam Small having held one Tom Minor up to public scorn in a temperance harangue at Atlanta recently, Tom met him in a barber shop a few days later and knocked out a few of his teeth. Tom now probably feels Small and Sam talks more in a Minor key.

Think of Joseph Benson Foraker, of Ohio, sitting in the senatorial chair once occupied by Salmon P. Chase, Thomas Corwin, the Old Roman, or John Sherman! Then imagine him posing in Daniel Webster's vacated seat!! O tempora!

Rio Grande do Sul in which there is so much disturbance, is the most southern state of Brazil. Its former name was Rio Grande de San Pedro, but after Dom Pedro was deposed the name of the state was partly changed.

Our excursionists arrived in Winnipeg on Thursday, the day set aside for Thanksgiving in the province, but they had a rousing time just the same and were entertained in a manner becoming even a queen's hospitality.

EGAN, it is rumored, will be succeeded by J. W. Love at the court of the junta. When the President of the United States sends his Love to Chile she can do nothing less than to fall in our arms, which is better than to go to war and fall by them.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Natural Gas" Monday and Tuesday at the Lyceum, "and you can't blow it out," is the way Manager Haycock is advertising Donnelly and Girard. There is probably no attraction that ever came to Duluth that pleased the people more than did "Natural Gas." This will be its third visit to Duluth and every time it seems to increase in popularity.

"The Burglar" is to be at the Temple Nov. 20. A. S. Lipman in his virile impersonation of Bill Lewis, the burglar, continues to assert his claim to being one of the leading character actors of today. Little Irene Franklin and Miss Helen Ottolengui are excellent in the respective roles of Editha and Alice, the burglar's wronged wife. The play has been here once before, as a benefit, and it will be remembered that it is not at all of the Hennessey-McCoy cheaply sensational order.

The story of "Incog," which is at the Temple Tuesday and Wednesday, is that of young Tom Stanhope, who falls in love with the companion of his father's ward. The father had set his heart upon his son's marrying the ward, and orders him from the hotel where they are staying. Determined to be near his Kate Armitage, Tom disguises himself and returns "incog" representing a photograph he had picked up. The photograph happens to be that of Dick Winters, one of a pair of twin brothers who bear a remarkable resemblance to each other. Dick has a wife and two children at the hotel, Harry, his brother, is also on his way to the house, to see his fiancee. Tom arrives first, introduces himself to his own father and claims to have fallen in love with Kate, and the general is just chuckling over getting Kate married off while his son is away, when Mrs. Winters enters with the children, and promptly claims Tom as the husband she is expecting. Miss Somers, Harry fiancee, next appears, and declares that he is her betrothed. The actual twin brothers soon arrive and both are made victims of the most ludicrous mistakes.

There are many worse farces than "A Knotty Affair" which is at the Lyceum tonight. It is as lively as if it depended upon song and dance men and serio-comic singers instead of a plot. There is a tendency among farce writers to abjure the variety stage methods, and several light pieces have been offered this year which are a decided improvement. This is one. The plot turns upon the incident of two men changing their names, afterward meeting and discovering that each has taken the name of the other. One has deserted his wife; the other is being sued for breach of promise; both have new love affairs on hand; and the various characters become hopelessly entangled.

There are several well-drawn characters or caricatures in the piece. A Portuguese nobleman is played in capital style by George Barnum. John C. Rice, an exponent of German dialect, is to be praised for the neatness of his methods. Efficient support is given by Marion Keith Mabel Florence, and Richard Jones.

Hail Duluth!

Grand Forks Herald: The meeting with the Duluth excursion party in the Opera house was one of the most unique and enjoyable ever held in this city. It was a communion of the representative business men of two important commercial centers, one being the great lake entrepot of the Northwest, the receiver and shipper of the products of hundreds of thousands of tillers of the soil, the other the queen city of the Red River valley, the Nile of America. It is well for both cities that this meeting was held. It means much to the business interests of the great lake port as well as to Grand Forks. A co-operation of these two great factors in the work of developing and enlarging the commerce of the Northwest is a consummation devoutly to be sought, and if this pilgrimage of the Duluth business men paves the way to a closer and more profitable trade relationship, their invasion of the Red River valley will prove a blessing to the people of the Northwest. Hail the day, then, when the great unsalted sea and the Red River of the North are bound together by the strong and enduring bonds of direct rail communication and consequent commercial reciprocity.

Luna's Time Table.

The following is the time table—Duluth schedule—on which the moon will run in its eclipse tomorrow:

Moon enters penumbra	3 35 p m
Moon enters shadow	4 35 p m
Total eclipse begins	5 37 p m
Middle of eclipse	6 19 p m
Total eclipse ends	7 01 p m
Moon eaves shadow	8 03 p m
Moon leaves penumbra	9 05 p m

The eclipse will begin on the lower edge. The event is of astronomical importance for the opportunity it gives to observe occulations of faint stars by the moon and thus the moon's diameter and distance from the earth. An extended article on this eclipse was given in The Herald early this week.

SUFFERING IN LYNN.

Three Women Prostrated in the Same House. Many in Distress.

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 14.—Mrs. E. A. Buck, Mrs. Sloman, and the latter's daughter, all living in the same house at 15 Tudor street, have been prostrated with an ailment that has become very prevalent in this and other places. Their experience has been made public in letters written by Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Sloman. Mrs. Buck says:

"I was so I could not walk any distance without a terrible palpitation of the heart and a dizzy, faint feeling. Whenever I did any housework I had to lie down every few minutes.

"Now, I can do my housework easily, and walk long distances without resting at all. I have a good appetite and sleep well. All this is due to my use of Paine's celery compound that I tried after everything else had failed. This medicine took me from the verge of nervous prostration and general debility, and made me feel like a new woman.

"I hope my experience will induce some poor, nervous friend to use this compound and be cured."

Mrs. C. M. Sloman and her family have suffered so much and have been relieved in so remarkable a manner that Mrs. Sloman says she considers it a duty to make public the following statement:

"For months my daughter has suffered with dizziness and fainting spells, some days having three or four. I do not know where this might not have ended had she not fortunately used a remedy under the influence of which the spells were completely cured. This remedy is Paine's celery compound. I do not know why it should possess the wonderful power it does, but I know that it restored my daughter's health after her nervous system was completely prostrated.

"I, too, suffered with a nervous trouble, and used this same compound with wonderful beneficial effect."

Why should there be so much suffering and sickness among men and women when there is a remedy like Paine's celery compound that cures?

The best physicians prescribe it, and as it was discovered by no less a man than Professor Phelps, of Dartmouth, every user feels that it is the perfection of curative and strength-giving medicine.

LISTEN TO REASON AND MAKE MONEY.

Splendid Opportunities.

The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this way however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your leisure, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or persons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

PLENTY OF BIG GAME.

The Woods About Duluth, North, West and South Full of Deer and Many Are Being Shot.

Back of Lakeside and on South Shore, Streams and Old Cuttings Are the Leading Hunting Grounds.

A Talk on Salt Licks, Deer Shooting and Prices and Shipments From Duluth Easterly.

"Deer" said that prince of sportsmen, Joe Dodge, "are much more numerous in these parts this year than last. In fact, I have never seen this kind of game so plentiful since I have been in Duluth. How do I account for it? Why, I think the forest fires of the late summer and fall drove them close to town.

"A well-known resident of Lakeside went a short distance from his house a few days ago and saw six deer. He brought two to the ground. Lawyer Benham has had good luck this fall, shooting five. Col. Eaton has killed a couple of bucks weighing over 200 pounds, Mr. Griffin has killed a couple, K. E. Little a couple and Ed Howard several. These were all about Lakeside. There is plenty of deer in this immediate vicinity to stock the local market with venison, so that most of the deer shot a few miles out go to St. Paul, where there is a better market. Then there is lots of good shooting back along the country roads, on the shore streams, close to town on both north and south shores, and on the Eastern, Northern Pacific and St. Paul & Duluth and in old pine choppings there is good sport.

"The people who send venison to St. Paul," continued Mr. Dodge, in a disgusted tone, "are for the most part pot hunters and kill simply for the money there is in it. It makes one mad to think of it, but you can't enact a law to prohibit it. The season in which the state allows the shooting of deer is only between Nov. 1 and Dec. 1, but an additional 10 ten days is allowed for hunters to get their game out of the woods. These 10 days many hunters use in shooting, so that the season may practically be considered as between Nov. 1 and Dec. 10. Very little shooting is done after Dec. 10, but for three or four months previous to Nov. 1 the law is to a great extent disregarded.

"Punishment for violation of the law is easily avoided by shipping in barrels. In July and August the deer always have a great longing for salt and their peculiar sense will detect licks in the soil at a great distance. They make their way to the licks about nightfall and once the hunter learns where these licks are, he is able to make a good haul by constructing a hiding place some distance above the ground, which will also make it impossible for the deer to scent him. Often disreputable hunters make licks by hanging bags of salt in the trees, which become saturated with the salt after a rainfall. Often a fallen tree is saturated with the saline fluid."

A visit to the various express offices revealed the fact that very few saddles of venison were coming into Duluth by train. The Northern Pacific has been bringing in six and eight a day since the season opened, but last year the number was much greater. Manager Corcoran, of the Adams, said that his company had brought in only a dozen altogether this year, whereas a year ago it had brought in as many as 19 in a day. He reported that large numbers were going from the Duluth & Winnipeg and points on the Duluth road to St. Paul. There is a law making it punishable with a fine of from $50 to $100 to ship a deer out of either Minnesota or Wisconsin. The express companies for that reason will carry no venison between Duluth and Superior. Undoubtedly considerable is smuggled between the two towns in barrels and in small boats. The law was made to prevent venison being killed for the money there is in it, but it does not prevent large quantities of it being smuggled from St. Paul to Chicago, New York and other cities, where it is less common than in the Northwest and hence is in good demand and at a good price. Some think the law unconstitutional, arguing that when the hunter kills the deer it is his property, and the state cannot say what he shall do with it. Besides, it is considered that the state law in this respect clashes with the interstate commerce law. Iowa, it is asserted, once had a test case in which a similar law was knocked out. An interesting incident occurred in this vicinity two days ago. A West Superior hunter killed a deer at St. Louis and took it out of Wisconsin in a boat, in order to put it on a train at New Duluth. No one happened to interfere. When he arrived at West Duluth he changed cars, intending to take the venison back into Wisconsin at West Superior. But the railroad men would not allow it.

Duluth butchers claim there is little satisfaction in selling venison, for the demand is rather poor. They buy it for six cents a pound by the saddle and sell the various parts for different prices, the best pieces bringing as high as 20 cents.

As showing how the deer have flocked cityward lately may be instanced the case of dwellers in the woods near Deerwood on the Northern Pacific road, who have come in towards Duluth and have established a camp at St. Louis townsite, from whence they are sending into Duluth a deer almost daily.

At Minneapolis Mills.

The Northwestern Miller in this week's issue complains of the gloomy outlook for the Minneapolis mills during the winter on account of the lack of water, which began to be felt last week. From now on all the mills will show curtailed production, and one mill which has no steam power will be obliged to shut down for the winter. It is worthy of note that last week the two Duluth mills again broke their record by grinding 18,448 barrels. In a few days they will be grinding nearly twice that amount. It will be but a matter of a few years when Minneapolis will not be in it with Duluth as a milling center, for cheap coal and low rates on flour must win over poor water power and high rates on flour.

Some Record Smashing.

"You newspaper men missed a good thing," said Col. C. H. Graves this morning. "When the City of Berlin came here a few days ago she made a record that has never been equalled in this world. Her crew ate dinner some distance out on the lake and when supper time came they were out on the lake again. Between the two meals the vessel took on 80,000 bushels of wheat at the elevators. The E. C. Pope made almost as good a record yesterday arriving at 10 a. m. and departing at supper time with 65,000 bushels of wheat. The load was taken on in less than three hours.

SOME SOCIAL MATTERS.

A Brief Resume of the Week Past and to Come.

Next Friday evening one of the most remarkable pianists ever in the West will play before a Duluth audience at the rooms of the Saturday club. She is Mme. Fannie Bloomfield-Zeisler, who is really a notable musician. The Cecilian society gets Mme. Zeisler here, as it has already brought several other artists, and it is a matter of congratulation that Duluth has a society ready and glad to keep us in touch with the best that larger and more centrally located cities enjoy. It is the intention of the society to continue this branch of its work if it finds continued appreciation on the part of Duluth people. Of the coming pianist the New York Herald says:

"The last symphonic concert last evening was made particularly interesting by the reappearance after a protracted absence of Miss Fannie Bloomfield, a pianiste of altogether phenomenal gifts. Miss Bloomfield first played Rubinstein's D minor Concerto, and later on Chopin's polonaise in E flat, achieving in both selections an unqualified popular triumph. Her performance of both pieces amazed the auditors. Such rapidity of execution, such virile strength and such nervous intensity as Miss Bloomfield commands could not fail of their effect."

Among the musical events of the winter season, not mentioned heretofore, will be a concert by Mrs. Loman, to be given early in the winter. She will be assisted by the Cecilian society, by whom, indeed, she has been prevailed upon to undertake the entertainment. It will undoubtedly be an exceedingly enjoyable affair.

In selling the tickets for the annual charity ball, the ladies of the Relief society have continued their practice of last year and have sent the little green pasteboards all over the city by mail. The ball takes place Nov. 24 and is for the raising of funds for the relief of the poor. It will take place at the Spalding and for it Mr. Emerson will take especial pains. It is hoped that there will be a liberal response to the tickets and that the society may raise a large sum.

It would be well, perhaps, for those who are patronizing the charity ball to know something of the history and work of the society. Eight years ago a few of our ladies seeing the great amount of unvisited destitution in the city, organized themselves into a society having the relief of the needy and the betterment of the poor for its object. Each year the society has been obliged to extend the work until every section of the city has its visitors who report and relieve in every way deemed best. Last year from November to June the ladies expended in various ways—groceries, provisions, hospital care, nurses' attendance, medicine, fuel and clothing, some $1200, 2500 garments were distributed, 30 tons of coal and 75 pairs of shoes—families were sent by rail to distant friends and 68 families were cared for, for a longer or shorter time, in every way the need suggested. In beginning the work of the winter now upon us the ladies find the treasury nearly depleted and they look for a large amount from this ball. The money is carefully expended and is held by the ladies as a trust fund for the poor. The present officers of the society are: Mrs. A. M. Miller, president; Mrs. Clinton Markell, vice president; Mrs. W. S. Birch, treasurer, and Mrs. E. E. Collins, secretary. An appeal for any case of need made to either of these ladies or to any member of the society will have an immediate response.

Mrs. H. B. Moore Wednesday afternoon gave a very pleasant party to a number of lady friends. About 40 ladies were present and a unique feature of the afternoon were the attempts to carry large apples across the room on a very small spoon. For this the lunch was called an apple lunch and for successfully doing it prizes were given.

The Ladies Literature class met Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Collins. George Eliot is the particular modern author now being studied by the class.

A very pleasant card party was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Dowse to a few friends.

The live-doll party to be given soon by the ladies of the First baptist society promises to be a very pleasant affair.

Tuesday the Railway Telegraphers give their second annual reception at Masonic Temple hall. A large number of invitations are issued and a pleasant evening is assured.

The Young Ladies sodality, of the pro-cathedral, has been notified that its society has been initiated at Rome.

The Unity club will meet in the unitarian church Monday evening at 8 o'clock, subject for discussion, "Commercial Reciprocity." Thomas Bloomfield and Chas. F. Towne are the speakers of the evening.

The Bethel is to be congratulated in securing Mrs. Dinwoodie to conduct the song service on Sunday evenings. Stephen Jones has for four years given his valuable services as pianist. The Bethel is very anxious to get an organ.

The thanksgiving Bethel festival will entertain a larger number of its poor than ever before—nearly 200 from its Sunday school and a large corps of newsboys who are again the invited guests of the school.

Miss Maggie Kline left Tuesday morning for Council Bluffs.

W. B. Silvey goes to Washington in a day or two to attend the wedding of his sister, who will be married in that city next week.

Miss Winnie Perry, niece of Mrs. Mary Swander, of the west end, has arrived in Duluth from Grafton, N. D., to reside.

Mrs. J. B. Richards and two little daughters leave for South Dakota to join her husband, who is absent on business. They will return soon.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bradley, who has been very ill with diphtheria is somewhat better. The mother of Mrs. Bradley arrived a day or two ago from her home in Michigan and is now here.

Miss Clark, from Glasgow, Scotland, arrived in Duluth Thursday to make her home here. She is a sister of Simon Clark, and was accompanied on the voyage by her sister, Mrs. Chalmers and her son John, who left Duluth a month ago to bring her here.

Mrs. F. D. Culver and children returned Friday from a visit of several months at their old home in Canandaigua, N. Y. They were accompanied by Mr. Culver's father, who is on his way to South Dakota.

The engagement is announced of Miss Katherine Woodbridge, daughter of W. S. Woodbridge, of the Duluth Book and Paper company, to Mr. N. J. Upham, a well-known young financial agent of the city.

Mrs. Horton, of St. Paul, daughter of Mrs. H. F. Williamson, of this city, was much more seriously injured in a recent accident than was stated at the time. It was feared she could not live, but seems now on the road to recovery, though there is some brain trouble and she may never gain possession of all her faculties. The skull was broken by the accident. Mrs. Horton is wife of the junior member of the firm of Ransom & Horton.

Bishop McGolrick will arrive in Duluth Monday evening on his return from his trip to Ireland. All the catholic societies of the city will meet him at the depot and escort him to Temple Opera, where a program will be carried out. Delegates meet the bishop at Hinckley and accompany him to the city.

S. W. Clark and family have returned from an extended visit to Orange, Mass., Mr. Clark's old home. They visited also Boston, Toronto and other cities and at Brooklyn called on Col. Chichester, a few years ago superintendent of the Duluth Gas and Water company. He found Col. Chichester suffering from paralysis to such an extent that he cannot move without help, while his aged wife, who broke a leg a while ago has never recovered. To add to their afflictions Mrs. Chichester is very deaf. Both require therefore constant attention.

The fight amongst the West Duluth coal dealers has ended by Sharp & Co. deciding to carry the $6 per ton nut and stove coal in stock. They now carry good nut and stove coal at $6; better at $7.25 per ton. Also all sizes of sawed and split hard wood.

FEELING FOR DULUTH.

How the People of North Dakota's Leading Centers Look on Duluth and This City's Business Men.

The Reception Accorded to the Duluth Delegation That Returns Tomorrow Morning After a Week's Jaunt.

"Stretch Out Your Hands and Get Our Business" is the Sum of the Dakota Feeling Nowadays.

The Duluth excursionists to the Red River Valley will be home tomorrow morning. The trip was extended twelve hours longer than the original plan because of the trip to Winnipeg. They will reach Fergus Falls this evening, leaving there in time to reach Duluth early Sunday morning. The trip has been one round of entertainment from the time the party reached the first station, St. Cloud, until today. Over one hundred cities large and small were visited, and not one in which something was not done to call observation to Duluth, to show Duluth's advantages and its relations to the cities visited.

The trip was a revelation to most of the Duluthians, if not all, for even those best acquainted with the Red River Valley were astonished at its rapid growth, its marvellous richness and substantial prosperity. The course taken by the excursionists begun at St. Cloud thence Northwest to Fargo, along the West bank of the Red River to Winnipeg, passing through Grand Forks. Then down the East bank of the river to Fergus Falls. This entire stretch is practically one farm, one endless prairie, so level that in some sections there is a fall of less than five inches to the mile, not a tree to be seen except such as have been planted before farm houses or would cluster on the bank of a small stream, no fences, and every inch of land under cultivation.

The farmers and merchants of the Red River valley are alive to the situation. "An air line to Duluth" is the battle cry heard all along the line, with an unanimity that is as startling as it is gratifying. "Give us a short route to Duluth and we will give you every bushel of wheat we raise." Farmers all along the line illustrated their experiences of shipping wheat to Duluth and to Minneapolis, in every instance coming out the gainer by from two to four cents per bushel by shipping it to Duluth. At Hillsboro one prominent farmer said: "What you people of Duluth should do is to send representatives here to teach our farmers how to ship their wheat direct to Duluth. One farmer here who shipped a carload to Duluth on his own responsibility received 24 cents per bushel more for it than he could have got by sending it to the elevator or to a promiscuous market." At Brandon, Minn., a large delegation of farmers had congregated at the depot and their spokesman presented the excursionists with a neat little bag filled with No. 1 hard, bearing the inscription: "Compliments of the Citizens of Brandon to the Business Men of Duluth, 1891."

One speaker at Sauk Centre said: "So great was our desire to have direct communication with Duluth that we bonded every man, woman and child in the county to the amount of $20 to build the road we have. When the proposition to build a second road was made, we bonded ourselves for a like amount, and although the road did not materialize (Duluth, Huron & Denver) we stand ready to do it again at any moment. By Duluth's enterprise our farmers are today enabled to get from two to six cents more per bushel for their wheat. We have heard much of Duluth as the Zenith city of the unsalted sea—we are beginning to think you are the great unsalted city by the sea."

Space here will not allow a detailed account of the reception accorded the Duluth party along the line. The Herald will from time to time give a more extended account. The itinerary had to be changed twice while on the road, which put many of the cities to much inconvenience, as they had made preparations to receive the party on specified days. But they were equal to the case in every instance and a warmer, heartier and more enthusiastic reception could not have been given. It was an evidence of more than mere good will—it was the expression of an unanimous and a universal desire to come into contact and close business relations with Duluth.

As one speaker put it, if Duluth wants the earth all she need do to get the very richest part of it, the Red River valley, is to come out and take it.

In the Herald's account of the coal dock fires yesterday there were some rather remarkable juggling of figures for which in one place the total loss was, put at $150,000, in another the total reached $250,000. It was a typographical error on the part of the $250,000 total.

Some months ago The Herald stated that the Chandler mine had been bought by the Minnesota Iron Co. Attorney Chandler and others vigorously denied the statement, in other papers. Since the accession to the presidency of the Chandler of D. H. Bacon, president of the Minnesota, nobody denies The Herald's earlier statements.

MANY MORE CARGOES.

Shipments of Wheat for November Will be Nearly 12,000,000 Bushels.

Secretary Welles, of the board of trade, has ascertained that the owners of the largest vessels on the lakes have contracted to carry about 75 loads out of here before the close of navigation. This will easily bring the month's shipments up to 12,000,000, or 3,000,000 more than last month, which was the largest on record. Thus far 5,200,000 bushels have been shipped from here this month. For the 10 months ending with Oct. 31 the Duluth wheat movement was nearly 25,000,000 bushels, and the 11 months ending Nov. 30 will see it reach 37,000,000.

Grain men expect to see as large receipts as ever in December, because the farmers will have nothing else to do but ship grain.

SUCCESS.

This Was the Motto That Inspired Us When We First Arrived in Duluth.

We were told from all sides that a first class business college would supply a long and much felt want in this city and that such an institution would undoubtedly be liberally patronized. We are pleased to state, that we are realizing the truthfulness of these assertions, for, although scarcely two months have elapsed since we opened our college, we find that today 78 students are in regular attendance. We do not advertise or profess to qualify persons for the bar, the bench, or the legislative halls of this progressive republic. We have too much regard for the intelligence of this community to try thus to impose on the same. But we do most emphatically claim, that we have a college, whose facilities for qualifying persons for accountants, stenographers and telegraph operators, are unsurpassed by any similar institution in the United States. We extend a cordial invitation to all interested in business college work to call at our school when in session and judge for themselves of the effectiveness of the work being done. Young men or women now is the time to enter for the winter term. Remember the location, 105 and 107 West Superior street.

The close was dull but steady at ¼c below the opening for cash wheats and ¼ advance for December and May.

Estimating that shipments today will be 430,000, shipments for the week will foot up to 2,770,000, thus indicating an increase in stocks in Duluth of 230,000.

Late cables came weaker and brought reselling orders. English farmers' deliveries during the week average 7d higher in price than last week. THE CLERKS UNION

Expects to Have an Early Closing Fight on Its Hands.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The retail clerks of this city may soon have to return to the old custom of having to remain behind their counters until late at night. Two or three merchants whose ideas are so contracted as to lay the dullness of the past year to the fact that stores have closed at an early hour have been agitating a return to the old system.

The Clerks union, looking upon the communications of these gentlemen from a business standpoint, thoroughly discussed a plan of compromise, feeling that to close at 8 o'clock for a few busy months would cover the field. This plan was submitted to nearly every clothing and boot and shoe dealer on Superior street, the majority of whom were not in favor of making a change from the present earlier hour. The plan was in line with the suggestions of a leading clothier who has been urging the union to declare in favor of opening stores evenings. When the plan was verbally presented to him he agreed to give it his signature. When prepared for signatures and submitted to him he positively refused to have anything to do with it. His chief objection to signing it was that he was asked to close on legal holidays. He objected to being asked to give his clerks an hour for supper on nights that he would close at 8 o'clock. He said he would close early for only two months out of the year, January and February. Thus after giving his word that he would close at 8 o'clock during six winter months and at 6 o'clock for the other six months.

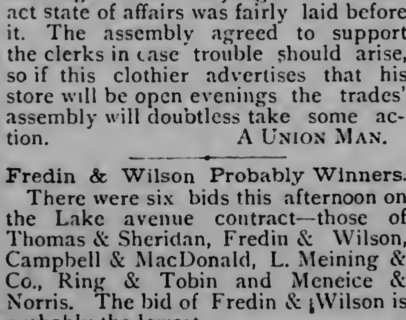

There is a central labor assembly to which grievances of the various unions are reported. This assembly held a meeting last Thursday night and the exact state of affairs was fairly laid before it. The assembly agreed to support the clerks in case trouble should arise, so if this clothier advertises that his store will be open evenings the trades' assembly will doubtless take some action.

The Calendar.

How many men who have a calendar of the year hanging beside their desks—how many of the people who can't keep house without an almanac—know that about 300 years ago a very important change was made in our reckoning of time? Up to the time of Julius Cæsar, the Romans divided the year into 10 months, of very unequal lengths. One of the chief purposes of a calendar is to mark a fixed date as the beginning of a year, and to do this, it should be always at the same distance from the spring and fall equinoxes. In the time of Cæsar, the science of astronomy was not very exact, and the small error of 11 minutes in the length of the year was made. In the Sixteenth century the churchmen, who had a great many religious festivals, found that whereas the equinox was on March 25 when the Julian calendar was made, in 1582 it had fallen back to March 11. The great festival of the church, Easter, was thus getting back into the winter. Pope Gregory XIII, came to the rescue, and after consultation with the learned of the day, issued, in October, 1582, a brief by which the date was arbitrarily advanced ten days—and that is our present calendar. Russia, under the Greek church, did not follow this, and still keeps the old style. To always have the correct date in your home or office, get one of the calendars issued by "The Burlington," and to meet your engagements in other places, buy your railroad tickets over that line. All further information will be given by agents, or can be had by applying to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

MAKEWATERWAYS

Many Leading Detroit Business Men Call an Important Lake Convention.

It Will Consider and Push Projects for Improving the Lake Waterways.

Middle of December Set for the Time and Washington for the Place.

DETROIT, Nov. 16—The different commercial bodies of this city, the board of trade, manufacturers exchange and vessel owners association have decided to call a convention of all lake interests to consider the further improvement of lake navigation. Secretary Lane of the board of trade has received letters from nearly all commercial bodies on the lakes and from many congressmen favoring such a convention and it is believed much good may result in increased depth of connecting channels on the great lakes.

It is decided to hold the convention at Washington city about December 15. Washington was found to be by all odds the preferable place and was so regarded by leading congressmen, commercial bodies, newspapers, etc. Among the organizations already on record in favor of the convention are commercial bodies of Bay City, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Duluth, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Superior, Toledo and others.

The Detroit committees are as follows: Board of trade—W. C. Maybury, Wm. Livingstone, jr., Geo. M. Lane; Merchants Exchange—W. S. Crane, J. N. Bagley, J. B. Howarth; Vessel Owners association—Eber Ward, E. M. Peck, James Mellen.

FROM BRAZIL.

The Insurgents Gaining Ground Very Rapidly.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Herald's Valparaiso dispatches this morning say that the Chilean minister at Buenos Ayres wires his government that the provisional junta recently organized in the state of Rio Grande do Sul, is composed of five leading citizens. Dr. Assiz is president of the junta.

The junta has issued a proclamation of protest against the acts to Fonseca, and has made a general demand upon all the cities of Rio Grande do Sul to appoint revolutionary committees whose duty it will be to enlist men and secure arms for the revolutionists. The junta declares in favor of an impartial government as substitute for the dictatorship, and it is to proceed to the election of a new president in place of Fonseca.

Latest advices from Rio Janeiro say that Fonseca is augmenting his forces and the city is in a state of great excitement. Fonseca is reported to have 8000 men at Rio. It is the general belief in Buenos Ayres that Fonseca will be successful in suppressing his enemies.

A report reached Valparaiso last night that the Brazilian navy is divided in its sympathies.

The news from Brazil is of a still more alarming character. It indicates the rapid spread of revolution all through Rio Grande do Sul. Governor Castilho resigned on Saturday, leaving the government of the state in the hands of provisional junta. From all accounts the revolutionists so far have been entirely successful. The garrison at Itagui, on the Uruguay river, surrendered without a battle. Porto Alegro, the capital of the state, is in the hands of the revolutionists. It is believed that several Northern provinces will join the movement against the dictator.

SHOT AT GREAT FALLS.

How the Citizens of Montana Celebrate New Railways.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Nov. 16.—A serious shooting affray took place here last night, by which one man will die and three others are wounded. An excursion train was run from Helena and here to Neihart, celebrating the opening of a new road. On the return trip several drunken rows occurred. In one, Chief of Police Treat, of this city, separated the rowdies and slapped one named Jacob Harris, alias Jew Jake, a gambler of Helena, and put him off the car. When the train stopped at this city Harris approached Treat and fired three shots at him, mortally wounding him. Treat fired two shots at Harris, breaking his leg. Joe Lessard, a prominent mining man, was shot in the face. Stray bullets wounded two others.

BISMARCK'S SPECTER.

It Was Before the Crazy Kaiser at the Reichstag.

BERLIN, Nov. 16—It is reported that the Kaiser will be decidedly pacific in the tone of his speech tomorrow at the opening of the reichstag, while at the same time upholding the ability of Germany to defend the imperial interests.

Trouble is feared berween the Kaiser and Bismarck who is expected to defend himself fully and perhaps to explain before its body his rupture with the boy king. Bismarck will openly oppose many of William's ideas.

The socialist members of the reichstag held a meeting to consider their course as to the case of socialist deputy Schmidt, held in imprisonment under sentences by the tribunal. It is said they will have the support of a considerable number of deputies, irrespective of party.

BY A TORNADO.

The Force of the Wind Shown in a Terrible Tornado.

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 16.—A terrible tornado passed over the province of Santa Fe, 30 miles from Rosario, Friday night, causing great destruction to property and loss of life. The town of Arroyo Seco was entirely destroyed. The number of deaths is reported to be 40 and of wounded 30.

A train of 18 coaches was at the station when the tornado swept through the town. It was overturned and many of the passengers were buried in the wreck. The details of the disaster are meager.

BISHOP M'GOLRICK.

He Will be Given a Reception Tonight at Temple Opera.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 16.—[Special to The Herald.]—Catholic Bishop James McGolrick, of Duluth, arrived here Saturday night, and after conferring with Archbishop Ireland, left for his home this afternoon. He arrives in Duluth at 7:15 this evening. The bishop has been gathering a lot of young Irishmen for the priesthood and they arrived in St. Paul some weeks ago.

He expressed himself as pleased to be in the United States again, as the monarchies of Europe possess no attractions to equal it. The appearance of those places is too warlike. Affairs in Ireland are better than he thought, the people better off and the election fights not nearly as bad as published. "Indeed," he said to a Herald correspondent, "in one case where your dispatches showed 92 persons treated in the hospital at the Cork campaign, there was actually not one. That is about the way the reports were spread." The schools are maintained by the government and are of a high standard. The teacher is paid by the grade each individual pupil attains, receiving a per capita income for the number of students attaining a specified standard. Cash prices are awarded pupils for proficiency.

In general talk he had little more to say than when interviewed a few days ago [published in The Herald last week.]

Today will be a memorable one for Duluth catholics. The reception committee has arranged the order of march for the bishop's reception as follows:

Societies will form in the following order: First division: Pulaski band and Polish societies, Division No. 1 and 2, of Douglas county, A. O. H., Division No. 1, of Duluth and Division No. 4, of West Duluth A. O. H. in charge of W. Walkowalk, marshal. Second division: French band, St. Jean de Baptist society, St. Boniface society, Father Mathew Total Abstinence society and Cadets in charge of T. J. Monaghan, marshal. Mounted guards in charge of Capt. DeWitt. Bishop and clergy. Committee of arragements and citizens in carriages.

The program at the Temple has been arranged by Rev. Father Corbett and will consist of a musical concert by members of the pro-cathedral choir, assisted by Hoares orchestra. During the intermission T. M. Helinski will deliver an address of welcome, which will be responded to by the bishop.

IS NOT SIGNIFICANT.

Donnelly Expresses Himself on the Falling of the Alliance.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Ignatius Donnelly is in Chicago today. He talked politics and told why the alliance vote had fallen off at the last election.

"I don't think," he began, "that the falling off of the alliance vote is at all significant of any breaking down of the movement. In South Dakota the election was simply for one officer, and it is hard to get out a full vote, especially a party that has no funds. In Kansas the alliance was beaten by a union of democrats and republicans. This is all very well for one election, but a dangerous game to play in the future. The result will be to demoralize the rank and file of both parties. Next year there will be a presidential election, and such a fusion cannot be renewed without one or the other of the old parties giving up its organization.

"I think the principles of the peoples party are steadily growing in public favor. There is a strong feeling that politics has been run in the interest of the dollar rather than the man. The tidal wave is bound to come sooner or later. Whether it will come next year depends upon a great many considerations concerning which no man can prophecy."

THE MAILS ARE SACRED.

Officials May Not Read Letters Passing Through Their Hands.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—First Assistant Postmaster Whitfield said today that the statement which appeared in several newspapers that under the rules of the department any private letter could be opened and read and that the United States mails were no more sacred than the mails of Russia, so far as government espionage was concerned, is erroneous.

He said that as a matter of fact no right is conferred upon any postoffice official to open or break the seal of any private letter. He added that if information was furnished the postoffice department that one of its officials opened any letter not addressed to himself without authority, the department would immediately take steps to cause his arrest and prosecution, the penalty for such offense being a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both.

A BIG CONSPIRACY.

The Throne of the Czar of All the Russias in Danger of Destruction.

The One Hundred Persons Arrested for Treason Not the Only Ones Concerned.

A Popular Parliament Was One of the Chief Objects Sought by Them.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Since the arrest at Moscow on Thursday last of about a hundred members of noble families, litterateurs and others, charged with being concerned in the movement looking to the creation of a popular assembly or parliament similar to the temsby labor assemblies under the early czars, it has become known that this alleged conspiracy was of much wider extent than at first supposed and it is said that several hundred people have been taken into custody, in addition to those referred to.

It is almost impossible at St. Petersburg to get or send facts regarding its arrests of nobles and others who have been planning the creation of a parliament elected by the people. All information is refused. In this city one of the most prominent of these refugees was questioned last night in regard to the large number of arrests now being made in Russia. Never in the history of the Russian empire has the situation of affairs within the dominions of the czar been se desperate and so weighted with danger to the regime. In some sections, the distress is as great as when the cholera or the plague swept down upon villages and towns nearly wiped all their inhabitants off the face of the earth. Even were the government so constituted that an honest attempt could be made to relieve the sufferers, even had the government at its disposal the immense sums of money which would be necessary to relieve the distressed, thousands more of them would perish before help could reach them even supposing that the inclemency of a Russian winter would permit the free transportation of supplies.

FOR THE TREASURY.

World's Fair Officials Preparing for Their Campaign for Funds.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—There is just starting a general movement eastward among the forces of the Columbian exposition. It is the intention to lay siege to the treasury department and consequently there is a general gathering for the coming campaign. Some of the exposition generals are maneuvering in the neighborhood of Washington already learning the layout of the general situation and preparing for the attack.

The World's fair in its various branches has lots of favors to ask of congress. The greatest demand is to be made by the Chicago directors, who will ask a loan of $500,000. The national commission commitee on awards will ask for about $800,000 to carry out the system that is being studied out. The national commission itself will have to have a great deal more money for its support than it ever had before, and the lady managers must also be provided for.

The local directors are to hold a special meeting soon to arrange their plan of campaign in the $5,000,000 matter. It has been decided to get before congress as early as possible. The aid of the national commission has not been asked beyond their endorsement of the measure next October. The directors and commissioners probably will get together, however, and make a joint appeal for the loan. At present there is a good prospect of getting the loan and liberal appropriations. The farmers' national convention has resolved that the loan should be made and the political organizations are deemed not unfavorable.

Gen. St. Clair and Mr. Marsey, of the board of contest, today gave a printer in Philadelphia copy of a pamphlet showing why the appropriations should be made. They have been going over the proceedings of the national board since its start and have a mass of facts and figures.

THE MAFIA TROUBLE.

Minister Porter Spotted by Correspondents Who Always Scent a Fuss.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Porter, United States minister to Italy, arrived yesterday on the Normannia and proceeded to Washington. This sudden and unannounced arrival leads many to believe that he has been hurriedly summoned to Washington to confer on the present situation of the controversy with Italy, growing out of the old Mafia troubles.

It is more than probable that Italy has taken advantage of the trouble between the United States and Chile to make a demand for an apology and a money indemnity for the killing of two of her subjects in New Orleans. Minister Porter refused to give any reason for his basty and secret trip to Washington.

Arrest United States Soldiers.

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex., Nov. 16.—On Wednesday last Capt. John G. Burke, of Fort Ringgold, and Deputy United States Marshal John Jordan crossed into Mexico from Carrizo in a government wagon with a permit from the deputy collector at Carrizo, Tex., and were arrested, held as revolutionary suspects. Capt. Burke wired to Consul General Sutton at Laredo, who immediately took prompt measures for their release.

The Pope Recovers.

ROME. Nov. 16—The pope has fully recovered his health and, notwithstanding the cool weather, takes daily exercise in a hall specially fitted up for the purpose in the vatican. It is reported that the pope has not yet come to a decision on the question of leaving Rome, but that there is no reason to believe that the idea has been abandoned.

A. C. Dunn, formerly in the Omaha office of this city, has been figuring in the Minneapolis papers the last few days. One of them claims that he has skipped out of town, leaving his affianced in the lurch, while another says that he was suddenly called away on business and that he will return.

It is the doctor's intention to combine business with pleasure, and he will spend most of his time in the large hospitals to pick up all that is new in his profession. He is expected home about December 15th, and hopes to return fully restored to health, which has been greatly impaired by close attention to business.

In "Incog."

Charles Dickson, the star of the Lederer Model company though still a young man has firmly established the title by which the New York Dramatic Mirror hailed him in its issue of Aug. 30th, as the cleverest comedian on the American stage. He has been a member of Robison and Crane's company, and leading comedian of the famous Lyceum stock company of New York, while with them he created the part of Jack Dexter, the college boy in "The Wife" which with Bean, the correspond ent in "Held by the Enemy" are considered his greatest pieces of work in the stock line. During the past two years Mr. Dickson has staid in New York confining himself exclusively to the creation of the comedy roles in important productions which are given in what are known as star casts in order to insure their metropolitan success.

Ore For The Furnace.

Ten carloads of Chandler ore were received at the blast furnace yesterday and about twice that number of cars of Gogebic soft Besemer. Five cars will be the daily requirements of the furnace after this week from the Chandler alone. The absurd statement of contemporaries that the furnace had sold its entire output "for a month" to the Superior steel plant is too silly to need denial. It has sold its output for a term of years.

"Natural Gas" at the Lyceum.

"Natural Gas" with Donnelly and Girard, the comedians, will be turned on at the beautiful Lyceum tonight at 8:15 and it would be well for all those attending to see that their buttons are on fast. For an enjoyable, entertaining and mirth-provoking team Donnelly and Girard are a hard pair to beat. Miss May Howard is in the cast this year at a great expense and the company entirely is far ahead of anything these young gentlemen have ever had. Crowded houses are the rule everywhere throughout the country where this company appears.

Wheat Rates.

The wheat rate out of Duluth today is 7½ cents, a few charters being make at that. There is no demand whatever for toonage for next week, but it is expected it will spring up in a day or two.

A MASS MEETING.

That is a good suggestion made by Alderman Long that we have a mass meeting of citizens, to be held perhaps in one of the opera houses, at which the pilgrims now returned from Dakota could explain at greater length the wonders they there beheld, and enthuse our people with the spirit of our neighbors. The farmers and business men of the inland Northwest have long been burdened with railway tariffs, have studied the problem of emancipation far more than we have, and are more awake than our own people to the marvelous advantages of Duluth. They want railway connections with the head of the lakes, and they want it before they raise another crop like the present one. They are eager, earnest and enthusiastic in the cause, and the least we can do is to join hands with them in such a desirable undertaking. The proposed meeting would at once inaugurate an aggressive progressiveness on the part of our city, which has long taken second place without a protest, arouse our people to their own great interest, and give to the movement something more than a shadowy form. Such a meeting heralded abroad through the press would give new spirit to the cause in the realms to the westward and make Duluth first among household words. All Duluthians need do is to act in the matter and the record of their deeds will be spread before the outside public. If our citizens would in this and other ways cooperate with the local press it would help beyond the measure of their expectations in the upbuilding of Duluth the solid and superb. The press may day after day declare this or that sentiment exists, but if it speaks as the mouthpiece of a mass meeting its words penetrate the subsoil of the understanding. Go to. Let us meet.

NO CAUSE TO HESITATE.

Some voters may be disposed, because of the report of City Engineer Keating, to oppose the purchase of the gas and water plant at the price now under consideration. But those who have time to study the subject carefully will hardly do so. Even if there were a half million dollars between the reports of Engineers Keating and Davis, or between the price offered and the cost of duplicating the plant, who would have our streets torn up again, our business houses hid behind a rock and mud levee and their fronts boarded in during one or two seasons for even that princely amount? Who does not believe that the quarrels and litigation between the city and water company that would result from an effort to parallel the plant, the practical confiscation of property in the minds of outside capitalists, and the increased rate of interest required to float bonds under such conditions would cost and harm us more than half a million? And, then, too, does anyone doubt that this sum would be more than offset in the earnings of the present plant and the losses on the new one while the latter was being built and placed on a paying basis? This difference of estimate does not indicate that the stockholders are making anything out of the sale at the figures offered, and the question to be answered next Thursday is not so much. What did the plant cost? as How can we do any better?

There are many who were disappointed in not being able to secure copies of the special edition of The Weekly Herald, and some can see no reason why enough for all were not printed. It was thoroughly advertised in The Daily Herald that the edition would be limited to those who sent in orders before the first form went to press. When The Herald says limited it does not mean unlimited. An edition of this kind cannot be published for less than $500. This risk the paper took upon itself with the expectation of securing enough subscriptions and advertising to cover the expense. If the publisher were obliged to depend upon those who "will wait till it's out, and if it is good, we will buy a copy," he would soon be obliged to draw on some of his banks in the orient to defray expenses, or shut up shop. The Herald intends to let the world know all about Duluth and will publish such editions at stated intervals, but those who would be with us must not wait till the procession has gone by.

The democratic majority in Maryland this year is 30,076, although Cleveland carried the state by only 6182 in 1888. The legislature has twenty-six senators and ninety-one representatives, making a total of 117. The present legislature is composed of seventy-eight democrats and thirty-nine republicans, a democratic majority of thirty-nine. The legislature just elected has 103 democrats, eleven republicans and three fusionists. Maryland is a great canning state for oysters, fruits, etc., and the tin schedule of the new tariff bill hits where it hurts. The change is attributed very largely to this cause, as two United States senators are to be elected.

Speaking of the Duluth gas works, Expert Chester B. Davis in his report to the finance committee of the city council said the average increase of gross revenue for the past three years has been 30 per cent and net revenue 46 per cent. This is a pretty good showing, and is about in keeping with the average growth of the city. The works on Rices Point are said by the same authority to be well located. There are over twenty-eight miles of mains, and the capacity with a complete Mee system and two Flannery generators is 500,000 cubic feet a day.

Engineer Keating's report on the gas and water plant estimates the cost of duplicating them to be $1,065,007. If to this be added $60,000 for real estate, $23,000 for materials on hand, and $275,000 for expenditures, interest and operating expenses, as estimated by Expert Davis, before the new plant could be made self-sustaining, we have a total of $1,422,207.

If the present congress would propose an amendment to the constitution requiring that presidential electors be chosen by districts as in Michigan, or what perhaps would be better, that the electors from each state be apportioned among the parties according to their total vote, the last year's upheaval at the polls will not have been in vain.

Suppose a capable and competent engineer should estimate the cost of the gas and water plant at less than the debt of the corporation, would anyone expect the stockholders to pay the city something for taking it off their hands? Its present debt in round and somewhat mournful numbers is $1,600,000.

How many voters have carefully read Expert Davis' report on the gas and water plant which has been published a half dozen times in the official paper? Probably not 100 out of 8000, and yet who is there who hasn't a vigorous opinion of that same report.

Very thick ice has formed on the Superior side of the bay and navigation there will close in a few days if the weather continues cold. Duluth has a month more open harbor each season than our thrifty but handicapped suburb.

The practice of giving prizes in packages of tobacco, which has been quite extensively practiced by manufactures, will no longer be permitted by the internal revenue department. Hereafter, tobacco must be nothing else.

The ho for Dakota crowd returned pretty well tired out at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and rumor says Rev. Geo. H. Kemp went to sleep in church, while Rev. C. C. Salter was preaching a most excellent sermon for him.

The New York Sun is busy building a presidential boom for Arthur Pue Gorman, of Maryland, who, like David Bennet Hill, of New York, can lift up his voice and without any qualifications say, "I am a democrat."

Ex-Gov. J. B. Foraker, in a Washington interview, extolls the services of Senator Sherman and declares there will be no fight but an honest rivalry for the seat John now so fully and satisfactorily occupies.

The Brazilian bloodshedders are getting together and goring each other. The rebellion seems to be steadily spreading and apparently gaining ground against the dictator.

Some republicans want their next national convention held in Gotham to meet the tiger in his liar and redeem the state to the party of protection. It is a sensible suggestion.

The theory that electricity will entirely supersede gas is not very well founded. It will be recalled that railways superseded horses. There is room for both.

Allan G. Thurman, who has been reported very ill, says he is good for about ten years yet. Let the Old Roman abide with us till he is full of years.

Wm. K. Vanderbilt, feeling slightly indisposed, decided to take a six weeks' trip to Europe and gives a New York doctor $10,000 to go with him.

The alliance members of congress will put up a candidate for speaker of the house and stand by him till the last darned foe expires, if need be.

THE Pennsylvania constitutional convention was knocked sky high by the senate the other day. Matthew Stanley Quay vaulted in the arena and the convention blue away.

W. F. Dalrymple, of Pittsfield, Pa., president of the Bayfield Harbor and Great Western railroad, a brother of the famous wheat raiser Oliver Dalrymple, leaves here this evening for his brother's farm. "We have just completed the survey of 40 miles of country between Bayfield and the Brule river at the Northern Pacific crossing, and it is our expectation to co-operate with that road to divert some of the traffic of the Northwest to the lake through our city. You have a great start here in the city building, but Bayfield is bound to become a magnificent city also. No portion of the country has ever developed so rapidly and substantially as this. It is not only attracting the attention of all parts of the country, but it is gaining the confidence of capital, and that is what assures success.

Hon. John H. Miller, ex-governor of North Dakota, was on the board of trade this morning. His home is at Dwight and he was, when elected governor, foreman of the John W. Dwight farms.

"Dakota farming lands are good property now," he said. "In our section we are not apt to be troubled with drought. We do not need irrigation. Yet large as our crops are we cannot compete in quantity with those sections where irrigation systems are in successful operation. The record this year with artesian irrigation is 53 bushels of wheat to the acre."

Fred Reynolds, who once lived at Crookston, was among the excursionists to Dakota, and his old friends wanted him to talk at their banquet on "The Prodigal's Return." So Fred spent a half day on the train writing out a speech, said a pilgrim to a Herald reporter this morning, and memorized it on the rear end of the train, but when the hour of merriment arrived Fred was overcome with feelings of emotion at seeing again the loved ones of the years gone by, and left the banquet hall as soon as the fatted calf had disappeared.

By the Typographical Union.

At a meeting of Duluth Typographical Union, No. 136, held Nov. 15, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas; it has come to the knowledge of this union that M. S. Burrows & Co., proprietors of the Great Eastern Clothing house have announced that hereafter they will keep their store open evenings.

Whereas; the Clerks union had presented an agreement signed by all the leading business men agreeing to close at 6 p. m. for six months of the year and at 8 p. m. for the remaining six months, said agreement being in accordance with a proposition made by said firm, and

Whereas; said M. S. Burrows & Co. have refused to sign said agreement, thus breaking faith with the Clerks union, therefore, be it

Resolved, that this union do most heartily condemn the action of this firm and all others who keep their places of business open evenings, and that we pledge ourselves to give the Clerks union all the aid in our power, and ask the public to aid organized labor in their struggle for what all fair men believe to be just, and that they do not patronize firms which keep open evenings.

It is ordered that these resolutions be published in the Duluth Evening Herald and the Union Workman.

Modern Magicians.

Among the wild tribes of Africa, and equally so among the aborigines of America, the magician, or the medicine-man, is looked upon as endowed with supernatural powers. Some are specialists, and among these the most valued and respected are the "rain makers." Rain being indispensible to the maintainance of either animal or vegetable life, it is not to be wondered at that those supposed to have the power to bring the welcome showers should be reverenced as almost divine benefactors. These are regarded as savage superstitutions, but strange to say, "rain makers" have appeared in our day and country. The United States government had a corps of rain makers in Texas last summer, who with a series of terrific explosions, produced rain—with some exceptions. One Melbourne, of Ohio, deluged Cheyenne with water from the clouds, without artillery, balloons, or other visible means. These reports may be exaggerated; they may not be true; and the magicians may be only humbugs. One modern magician, however, has demonstrated a clear title—and he is the inventor of the railroad. Transportation is easy, swift, and even luxurously comfortable—provided your ticket is bought over "The Burlington," the great scenic and vestibuled line of the Northwest. For tickets, maps and timetables, call on any of its ticket agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

The One the Front and the Other the Rear Door to the Commercial Avenues of the Country.

Wichita's Mayor Talks of the ex-Boom City of the Central West and of Purchasing Water Plants.

G. W. Clement, who has just finished serving the people of Wichita, Kas., as mayor, has been in the city for the past few days seeing what he can see.

"I was in Chicago on my way East," he said to a Herald reporter, "and while there I talked with several persons who seemed to think that Duluth was going to be a second Chicago. Traffic Manager Sage, of the great Rock Island system, said to me: 'Duluth is the back door and New York is the front of our commercial structure and the products of the Northwest must pass through both doors on their way to Europe.' I found one Chicago wholesaler who confessed to me that Chicago would have to divide the wholesale business with your city.

"My trip has been a most profitable one in the way of educating me as to the advantages and prospects of your city. We have some fine buildings in Wichita, but there isn't a hotel there that will compare with the Spalding or a theater with the Lyceum. You have a half-dozen business blocks that are finer than anything in our city. But Wichita is not by any means dead after its bad boom experience. We have now established things on a much more solid foundation than before, and prosperity is assured us. Fine houses that were built away out in the country during the boom are now being moved a couple of miles in toward the center, and the city is being made compact. Our crops this year were very heavy. We have quite a wheat country down there. On this crop Kansas raised 60,000,000 bushels of winter wheat and the country in the vicinity of Wichita raised its share. The Kansas corn crop this year will touch 225,000,000 bushels. Prices are good and good times are assured.

"You ask me what Wichita depends on for her prosperity. Well, sir, she is the supply depot for Southern Kansas and Oklahoma. The boundary line is less than 100 miles away and Purcell is only 160 miles distant. We hear seven railway corporations throwing 10 lines out from our city in all directions. We are right on the direct highway to Oklahoma. Our population is about 24,000 and we estimate that when the territory was opened we lost 10,000 people. But the opening of the strip increased our wholesale business wonderfully, so that our loss was turned to gain. The next land to be opened is the Cherokee strip and that will bring us immense returns. We have a half dozen wholesale groceries, two wholesale dry goods concerns, two selling boots and shoes and one wholesale drug warehouse. Duluth ought to afford big opportunities for a wholesale drug concern. All your jobbing houses are doing well.

"I notice that you are agitating the question of city ownership of gas and water plants. We are agitating the same thing. We have about the same mileage in mains, but our water rates are much lower than yours. We have by the terms of our charter the option of buying the plant at an appraised value next year and we are getting informed on the matter beforehand. We have no provision in our charter for adding 10 per cent to the appraised value and I don't believe that would hold good in yours in the courts."

DID LOTS OF GOOD.

Travelers Unite in the Belief That Their Trip Was Good.

The recent trip to the Red River valley will do more for the real interests of Duluth than $20,000 in spasmodic advertising. This is the universal opionion of those who returned yesterday.

The party was essentially a business one in its aim and working. Note books have been brought home filled with hundreds of names of business men whom our jobbers have met and conversed with. Suggestions as to the varied requirements and necessities of the towns visited were noted and will receive speedy attention. We have linked ourselves in bonds of the closest intimacy with the prosperous cities of the Red River valley. Farmers snatching a few hours from threshing came into the meetings and showed that they fully understood the position of Duluth. Not less urgent and pressing were the words from leading men in the larger towns, that they must have to be brought into closer union with Duluth.

Our city appeared brighter than ever when we saw the vast territory which is tributary to it. The farmers appeared embarrassed with the yield of wheat. The business men were quite ready to trade with Duluth if they could get equal prices because they could get higher prices for their wheat. Page Morris emphasized the fact that true commerce is an exchange of commodities, and if we give more for wheat and can duplicate prices of St. Paul and Minneapolis we should have the trade. Only at Fargo was there any contrary view. There they wanted the long end both ways.

Grand Forks did itself proud. Rev. G. H. Kemp, a former pastor of that city, had been booming it in what was somewhat considered extravagant language, but he was pronounced a true prophet when the city was reached. All agreed that there was no city forging ahead at a greater rate of speed than Grand Forks. The party was in great danger of losing its chaplain at this point so pressing were the invitations of friends. The "Bull's Eye of the Northwest" was reached on Thanksgiving day. Mayor Pearson and his associates utilized every available moment to show the resources and points of interest in Winnipeg. Consul Taylor was never more genial or eloquent. Crookston had an extra opportunity and spread a banquet which was only equaled by the extraordinary welcome accorded.

While it may appear invidious to mention individuals, Secretary Thompson and others certainly will not be forgotten as contributing to the success of the trip. Ald. Long did grand service and Page Morris, C. E. Lovett, Maj. Baldwin, Dr. Barrett, with a score of others kept the object well before the people. Duluth's band covered itself with glory. The railway officials were courteous and attentive, and the trip was without a hitch.

The Passenger Whaleback.

The current number of the Scientific American contains an excellent full-page engraving of a proposed passenger whaleback and a column article descriptive of the same. It is not the McDougall ship, but another style, the idea of one Harold Avery. Vessel men do not believe it possesses the stability or strength of the McDougall vessel.

LONG AND COSTLY BRIDGE.

Plans for the New $100,000 Bridge Over the St. Louis Complete.

Engineer C. E. Russell of this city has completed the plans for the St. Louis river bridge to be built below New Duluth, a charter for which was granted by congress to the Duluth, Red Wing & Southern railroad and the Superior Belt Line & Terminal. The bridge will be built by the latter corporation. The crossing is about 10 miles above Duluth. The structure will be 3400 feet in length from ground on the Wisconsin side to the point of meeting with the Duluth & Winnipeg on the Minnesota side. The base of the rails will be 25 feet above high water mark, and on the Minnesota side will pass over the tracks of the St. Paul & Duluth road.

The draw span will be 270 feet in length, giving a clear passage way for vessels of 115 feet—the distance reqired by the government engineer. Under the draw span the stream is 12 feet in depth. The raft truss span is 150 feet in length and will be over water about 30 feet in depth, though not over the main channel. On either side of these channels the bridge will consist of trestle bents. Its cost will be about $100,000. It must be in course of construction within one year from the date of the charter.

TO DEER RIVER.

Passenger Trains Now Run Into the Union Depot.

Saturday morning connection was made at New Duluth between the tracks of the Duluth & Winnipeg road and those of the St. Paul & Duluth, and this morning at 10:55 came in the first Duluth & Winnipeg passenger train from Deer River, the end of track 20 miles beyond Grand Rapids.

Trains are so arranged that people up the line can spend the best part of the day on business here. The service will be:

	A. M.		P. M.
Leave Deer River	5:40	Leave Duluth	3:00
Leave G'd Rapids	6:40	Leave Cloquet	4:10
Leave La Prairie	6:47	Leave La Prairie	7:10
Leave Cloquet	9:45	Leave G'd Rapids	7:15
Arrive Duluth	10:55	Arrive Deer River	8:15

It is probable that a very large passenger business will be done over the line all winter.

Water Power by Electricity.

A number of schemes are being proposed on the continent for supplying power from waterfalls, especially since the late exhibit at Frankfort. Several important plants have recently been started. A paper mill at Wolfegg, in Wurtemburg, is driven by 80 horse power and it is probable that a 600-horse power plant will be put down at St. Lorenzen, in Austria, to transmit power to works 18 miles distant. A 1200 horse power plant is proposed for Herisan, Switzerland. A number of towns in England and Scotland are waking up to the fact that they have water power, from falls 10 to 20 miles away, at their disposal, and Inverness, Aberdeen, Bristol and other places are obtaining advice from experts on this subject. The Yorkshire seat of the marquis of Ripon has been provided with a turbine running 300 lights.

Lumber Notes.

The H. M. Stocking mill will close in a day or two after having turned out 20,000,000 feet since spring. This company has also been greatly inconvenienced by having logs hung up, and would have sawn until the bay froze up had logs been plenty.

C. S. Murray & Co. will continue sawing until the bay closes. Their cut is likely to reach 16,000,000.

A heavy fall of snow and much colder winter weather is looked for by lumbermen this season, which prophesy will have the effect, if it proves trne, of increasing the cut of logs.

Why don't you stop paying rent and own your own home? One month's rent will make the cash payment on the $150 lots offered for sale by the Highland Improvement company and you have three years in which to pay the balance. The incline road is completed and you can ride to these lots in 10 minutes. Buy before the price is advanced. Come to our office and we will show the lots to you. Don't miss this opportunity.

New Clothes Without Money.

"We can always have new clothes without buying them, thanks to Diamond dyes," writes a correspondent of the Ladies Journal.

These reliable dyes are great money savers, and have helped many a woman to come out in new clothes at small expense. They are true to name, color anything any color, and are very simple to use.

Dollars for Your Thoughts!

A CHANCE FOR ARTISTIC AND LITERARY TALENT.

We need TWENTY or MORE original and striking designs for Newspaper Advertisements of SANTA CLAUS SOAP. The manufacturers, Messrs. N. K. Fairbank & Co., authorize us to pay for approved drawings with appropriate reading; or $5.00 each for designs or reading matter only. This offer is open to all who have facility in illustration. The competition will close December 10, 1891. About January 1, 1892, we will pay for accepted designs, and return the others.

Directions.—Make drawings with black ink on heavy white paper, or card board. Do the work in outline. Elaborate shading will not print well. Space in papers will be about four inches square. Draw to larger scale if you prefer, but have design square. The idea is most important. If that is good we can have it redrawn and still give you credit. Avoid doggerel in which soap rhymes with hope, &c.

Points.—Santa Claus is a pure, high-grade Soap—made for laundry and general household use—a favorite wherever known. Generous praise will be well bestowed. Sold by all grocers, wholesale and retail.

Do your best, and send results promptly. Address (only)

AGAINST THE PURCHASE

Mayor Davis Finds Many Considerations to Weigh Against a Present Water Works Purchase by the City.

And He Says So at the Special Meeting Held in the City Hall This Afternoon.

Engineer Keating Presents a Full Detailed Report that is Cold Water on the Davis Figures.

There was a large assemblage of citizens and aldermen at the city hall this afternoon when the council was called to consider Engineer Keating's report on the gas and water plant valuation.

After the meeting had been called to order Mayor Davis said, in a communication, that he had called the council together to consider the proposed purchase. "When I signed the call for a a bond election," he said, "I believed and said the proposed price was too high, but we could not afford to refuse the offer without giving the citizens a chance to vote. The first of the chief hindrances to the purchase is the shortness of time to negotiate the necessary bonds. The proposal for the bonds must be received as late as November 28, while the purchase by the terms of the arrangement must be completed two days later. You cannot obtain the funds to complete the contract. It has been suggested that if the bonds were issued they could be placed as collateral with some bank. The objections to this procedure are of a serious kind. The moment that bonds are so placed our needs are exposed and the financial world will not be slow in taking advantage. In the second place from advices that I have received from financial centers, it will be impossible in the short time before the holidays to dispose of the proposed 4½ per cent bonds. From all quarters reports are that the bond market is extremely dull and that it needs considerable time to negotiate a 4½ per cent bond, if it can be negotiated at all. A careful consideration of these matters has led me to believe that it is quite possible that the result of the coming election will be that the purchase of these plants will be completed at the stipulated price and that the city, by reason of not being able to sell these bonds, will not be able to complete the purchase. Should this happen the city would not secure the plants, but would simply become liable to Mr. Sargent for failure to comply with the agreement. In addition should it appear from the engineer's report that the price is even higher than we anticipated in proportion to the actual cost and value of the works you will need promptly to consider such measures as may be necessary to put the city in the best shape regarding these matters.

The report of City Engineer Keating was as follows: I may say that owing to constant interruptions occasioned by the routine duties of my office and the limited time allowed me, the task has been found one of no small magnitude or difficulty.

My first obstacle was the refusal of the gas and water company to afford me any assistance or information, which, however was subsequently withdrawn, and latterly the superintendent has done all in his power to aid me. Another serious difficulty and cause of delay was the fact that certain important tabulated statements which had previously been prepared in this office were taken away and have not yet been recovered, so that for several days I found myself unable to make any headway.

For the sake of brevity I will refer to Mr. Davis' report hereafter as "the official report," and so far as my investigations have extended I have been greatly disappointed at its result in some particulars. It could not, of course, be expected that any two engineers would agree very closely in estimating on work of such a complicated nature where most of it is buried or hidden from view. I might, however, remark that while I value some items higher than Mr. Davis does, there are others where the difference between us is large. The financial statements of revenue and operating expenses in the official report I have had checked over by an accountant from this office, and he reports them practically correct. His method of checking was to copy off and add up the various items entered as receipts or expenditures for each month in the company's ledger. The sums in each case agree closely with Mr. Davis' figures. To carry the investigation any further into the company's accounts would involve months of patient study and examination by a qualified accountant.

Attention has been directed chiefly to the estimated cost of construction, assuming the works to be new and in first rate condition. In order to check the prices I wrote and telegraphed to various manufacturers. The figures given in the following estimate are based upon the replies received. The Holly company wrote that they would duplicate the 5,000,000 gallon engine including pipe connections and foundations for $30,000. The maker of the 3,000,000 gallon Worthington engine wired that he would supply a similar machine with condenser on cars New York for about $7,000, and the Blake Manufacturing Co. wired that they would duplicate their 1,000,000 gallon pump, air pump and condenser for $1760. The sizes, lengths and weights of the cast iron pipes were furnished by the Duluth Gas and Water company. I have no means of checking the various sizes reported in use except from plans in this office, all of the information upon which has been furnished at various times by the same company. The figures do not agree with those in the official report The weights per lineal foot of the various pipes were also furnished by the gas and water company and have been taken as correct as they are usual standard weights and appear about what they should be.

It will be noted that there is considerable difference between my figures and those in the official report as to the total tonnage of cast iron pipes in the Duluth system. I cannot account for this difference satisfactorily. The official report gives the length of the 20-inch cast iron intake pipe as 600 feet. Its actual length from the best information I can gather does not exceed 475 feet and is probably somewhat less. Both the 18 and 20-inch intake pipes are included twice in the official report, that is, they are estimated under the heading "intake pipe" and are included also in the pipe laying. The over estimated portion of the 20-inch intake also appears on the company's schedule of stock on hand. My estimate for the reservoir has been made up from actual measurements and from data furnished by the company. My prices for Kalamein pipe are in advance of quotations received by telegrah, and the prices for wrought iron pipes are also in advance of an offer made by the Cyide Iron company, of this city. As I had no means of checking the tonnage of iron in the special castings, I have assumed that the quantity given in the official report is correct. The number of valves and hydrants in use was furnished by the gas and water company. There has not been time to check them over, so I have assumed the count correct. The prices I have given are in advance of what I have paid for similar articles. The prices for pipe laying, I have placed at liberal sums, very much in advance of what I have had similar work done for elsewhere. The rock excavation I have valued at the same price per cubic yard as that stated in the official report which is a very liberal allowance. In estimating the probable cost of replacing the pavements I have been guided by information gathered in this office during several years past and I have allowed for an average uniform width of six feet, which, under ordinary management is greater than necessary.

The meters have been taken by me to be the same in size and number as stated by the company and my prices are taken from published catalogues furnished by the same company, without making any allowance for the discounts which are usually given. The contingencies, engineering and superintendence account I have placed at 10 per cent which is usually considered liberal. I have had neither the time, the means nor the opportunity of checking the item of $120,000 allowed in the official report for the gas "machinery and connections, holders and tanks." I know of no way of checking this item except by communicating with the makers. I have therefore placed in my estimate the same amount as is given by Mr. Davis. The greatest difference between my estimate and that in the official report is in the item of gas pipe laying which the official report pats at $1 per foot, or $140,639. I do not think there can be much doubt that this is a mistake. I have not in a single instance, knowingly, cut down the price on any article or item below what I believe it could be readily replaced for new. In fact the prices I have given are in nearly every case very considerably above what might be termed "market rates."

Regarding the stock on hand, while I have the company's detailed statement, which is a lengthy one, comprising hundreds of small articles, no prices have been appended, and there has not been time to have the various items satisfactorily valued. I have therefore placed in my estimate the same amount as appears in the official report.

There is one other item which, although not specially mentioned in the official report is included in the estimate accompanying that document, viz: the submerged pipe laid to West Superior. This pipe, I am informed, is 18 inches in diameter and 1491 feet in length. Through some misunderstanding, or for some reason or other, this pipe is not connected with the present water works system and is of no service or value in its present position. I have, therefore, omitted it from my estimate of the Duluth water plant, but while I have allowed for it in the summary as so much iron pipe in stock, it has not, as a matter of fact, so great a value.

Here follow the engineer's detailed reports and they are itemized to the last degree. The Lakeside plant he puts at $55,860, including 10 per cent for contingencies and engineering. Of the Duluth plant The Herald can give but a summary of his figures. He estimates as follows:

Engine house, pumps, boilers, etc.	60,300
Reservoir in present condition	30,000
Kalamein pipe in mains	24,307
6618 tons cast pipe	139,440
Wrought iron, 225 hydrants, 250 tons of special castings	25,358
Laying 164,300 feet pipe, including 130,000 yards earth excavation, 35,000 yards rock at $5	298,640
Relaying pavements	53,923
Water meters	3,812
Engineering and contingencies	65,362
Total	$724,482

For the Duluth gas plant Mr. Keating estimates, total value of $283,665, of which $120,000 is on machinery, etc., (this on the Davis estimate), $80,304 on mains, gas valves, special castings, etc., $32,151 is for laying mains, $5000 for lampposts, $7832 for meters and $25,788 for contingencies.

The summary, therefore is this:

Lakeside water plant	$ 55,860
Duluth water plant	724,482
Duluth gas plant	283,665
Stock on hand	23,200
Submerged pipes	3,000
Total	$1,091,107
Real estate appraised by Pearson, Claypool and Little	76,790

Mr. Keating adds: In the above estimates no deduction has been made for placing the works in proper condition and for completing unfinished work, to cover which $20,000 has been allowed in the official report. It should perhaps also be stated that some of the figures of the Duluth water plant estimate, in the recently published copies of the official report, have been altered and are not the same as in the first published copies, nor are they the same as in the original report. The item "contingencies" has been changed from $165,041 to $171.156 and the value of the plant from $999,972 to $1,026,936.

MORALS AT SEA.

A Disguised Detective Discovers Immoralities Among European Immigrants.

He Makes a Trip as a Steerage Passenger and Claims to Have Seen Much Sin.

One Hundred and Sixteen Passengers Charged With Wickedness But Make a Denial.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A sensation that threatens to be far more than a nine-day's wonder occurred at the barge office yesterday. It came as the culmination of a detective trip of Special Commissioner Schulteis and in the shape of the broadest charge of grossest immorality that ever was levelled at immigrants to this country. It attacks 116 of them and implicated some of the crew of the Servia. Schulteis, it appears, disguised himself as an immigrant and took passage on the Servia to this country in the steerage. When the vessel arrived yesterday he made known his identity to Superintendent Webber and demanded 116 of the immigrants be retained, charging them with immorality and with being assisted paupers. Col. Webber asked the commissioner to make specific charges of immorality against any one of the immigrants and he would at once investigate the case. Mr. Schulteis then made formal charges of immorality against Ingoberg Peterson, a 17-year-old Swedish girl. He mentioned some of the crew of the Servia as having been her accomplices in vice. The girl denied the charge with great vehemence, made affidavits as to her innocence and requested an examination by a physician. Col. Weber promptly released her as well as the other immigrants on Mr. Schulteis' failure to prove any of his charges. The Peterson girl has been advised to bring action for criminal slander against the commissioner. Mr. Schulteis says he will press the matter at the meeting of the commissioners today.

FIRE IN ST. LOUIS.

The Flames Consume $2,000,000 Worth of Property Today.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 17.—The "Famous" dry goods, clothing and boot and shoe house, and Sonnenfeld's millinery house and Penny & Gentles dry goods house on North Broadway between Franklin avenue and Morgan street, burned at 4 o'clock this morning. The loss will foot up over a million dollars.

Later—8:30 a. m. A high wind from the west prevails. The fire has now spread to the east side of Broadway. In this block is situated the large dry goods store of D. Crawford & Co. and the Freeman house. Unless favorable changes take place soon, there will be no hope of saving this block. Several people have been severely injured by jumping from windows. The loss on this block, if consumed, will aggregate over $1,000,000.

Cleveland and Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—In an interview last night Congressman Livingston said that neither Cleveland nor Harrison can carry the alliance vote next year, and it would be folly for the parties to nominate them expecting such support. "If the tariff were the only question," said he, "Cleveland would be supported by the alliance, but there will be other issues on which his position is objectionable. Campbell would receive a hearty support because of his position on the silver question."

Florence Very Low.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—Wm. J. Florence, the great American actor, who lies stricken with pneumonia in his rooms at the Continental hotel showed slight improvement today, though the critical stage has not yet passed. Two consultations, one at noon, and another tonight ended with the physicians much in doubt. While the hope of their patient's recovery is brighter, they are compelled to announce that any moment the change may come.

Dakota Wants More Cars.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 17.—Three hundred towns in this state are suffering for want of cars to move the grain to the markets. A special meeting of the commissioners will be held in Huron today to take decisive action in regard to the petition of the grain buyers who have filled every vacant building, elevators, barns, sheds and stores and have temporarily ceased buying. The commission estimates the shortage of cars in the state at 2500.

Cotton Record Broken.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—The cotton exchange figures its receipts from noon to noon and the result today at noon will be the largest receipts in the history of the port. There are 47,000 bales already in sight and the figures will reach fully 50,000 bales. With all the talk of a short crop, cotton continues to pour into the ports in a profusion before unheard of, and there seems to be no sign of cessation.

The Czar's Despotism.

HELINGSFORS, Nov. 17.—Much excitement has been caused in Finland by the announcement of the imperial ukase extending to Finland the prohibition prevailing in Russia as to the export of cereals, excepting wheat. The ukase entirely ignores the Finnish diet and in so far abrogates the constitution of Finland which Alexander the First and his successors swore to support.

Revolutions of Two Kinds.

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 17.—The tornado which swept over Santa Fe Province on Friday night played havoc with property and crops. The loss, it is said, will amount up into millions of dollars. The number of persons now reported killed is 10 with 70 injured. Besides Arroyo Seco, several other villages in the vicinity of Rosario were destroyed.

Ball News at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 17.—The company which controlled the destinies of baseball in this city last year is no more and the new company is now on its feet. The property of the Louisville ball club was yesterday sold at auction for $6359, the amount of the mortgage held by the Falls City bank, the new company being the purchaser.

Munich—There is a strong movement among the city councillors to compel the erasure from the Golden book of the kaiser's autograph entry on the occasion of his recent visit to the effect that "the will of the king is the supreme law."

Employes of the Kansas City & Memphis road threaten to strike unless certain demands are conceded. The conductors and brakemen have several grievances against the road and among other things demand an increase of their wages and a reduction of the number of hours.

The strike of the switchmen in the Wheeling & Lake Erie yards at Toledo has taken on a new phase by Norwalk switchmen refusing to switch trains made up by the new men. The demands are for an increased force of brakemen on freight trains and for higher wages.

President Phelps, of the American association, was in St, Louis yesterday, but declined to be interviewed. From a reliable source it is learned that the association will consist of 12 clubs next year. Where the other three are to be located has not been definitely settled upon, but Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and Kasas City are said to be behind five points.

Indianapolis.—Everything connected with agitation in favor of the farmer is represented here waiting the session of the supreme council of the farmers alliance that begins at Tomlinson hall today. At the same time the national meeting of the F. M. B. A. will be held in the court house, but taking together the representatives of both organizations now in the city including the 100 delegates to the council, there are not more than 500.

Washington—An echo of the case of Capt. Howgate, who embezzled a large amount of money from the government while chief of the signal service, was heard in the supreme court yesterday afternoon in the announcement of a decision by the court for the southern district of New York in the case of Lebbens H. Rogers, one of Howgate's bondsmen, from whom the United States recovered judgment for $115,000 to cover Howgate's peculations.

Toledo—The interview with ex-Treasurer Turner in Philadelphia as published in Sunday's papers has created a deal of indignation among the general officers of the Knights of Labor. Mr. Turner's charges are vigorously denied. Secretary Treasurer Hay says: "I have never had a house to furnish, not even a rented one, since I have been in office. I have never had any time to live anywhere. I have a wife, but no other family, and we board in Philadelphia."

The New York agency of the Nevada Bank of San Francisco will close on Dec. 1. The announcement caused surprise on Wall street. Manager Platte said to a United Press reporter this afternoon that he did not know why the New York office was to close out business. He had received orders from San Francisco several weeks ago, and had notified customers that all settlements of accounts will be made before Dec. 1.

B. & O. Earnings.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 16.—The reports submitted to the annual meeting of stockholders of the Baltimore & Ohio railway show the total earnings of the year to be $24,730,393; total expenses, $17,078,231. A comparison of the fiscal yesr 1891 with 1890 shows the following: Increase in gross earnings, $118,299, or 48 per cent; increase in operating expenses, $111,365, or 66 per cent; increase in net earnings, $8925, or 9 per cent; decrease in earnings from freight, $178,626, or 1.05 per cent; increase in earnings from passengers, $360,290, or 6.42 per cent; increase in tons moved, 782,498, or 5.59 per cent; increase in passengers carried, 139,450, or 1.42 per cent. The Philadelphia division shows an increase in net earnings of 23.05 per cent. A large majority of the shares were represented. The annual reports of the present and general manager were adopted.

His Whiskers Turned White.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—John Craig, a young newspaper man who was recently appointed secretary of the California World's fair commission, went to bed one night last week with a luxuriant growth of whiskers and woke up with one side pure white. He thought some one had played a practical joke on him and altered the color with dye, but after shaving off his beard it came out again half red and half white. Craig left a good newspaper job to accept the secretaryship and has not received a cent of pay for several months, and the annoyance he has suffered has affected him so much that his beard has changed color.

John Hoey in Court.

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—John Hoey, the deposed president of the Adams Express company, accompanied by his counsel, Elihu Root and three associate attorneys, appeared in the United States circuit court yesterday, when argument was begun before Judge Green on the cross bill filed by Mr. Hoey, in which he denies any wrong doing, asks the court to enjoin the company from disposing of the Southern Express company stock and parting with other securities deposited by him as collateral for loans. The argument yesterday was not concluded, and the matter was adjourned until Dec. 1.

BROOKLYN BLAZE.

Six People Perish in Tenement Flames and Many More are Believed to be Dead.

The Police and Firemen Make Heroic Efforts, But are Driven Back by Tongues of Fire.

A Score of Buildings Add to the Conflagration and Many Families are Homeless.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 17.—At an early hour today a fire occurred in the 4-story tenement house at No. 120 Nostrand avenue. The building was constructed mostly of wood and the fire spread to all portions of it wih marvelous rapidty. cutting off the escape of those lived in the upper floors. Six persons are known to have perished while many other persons were badly burned or had narrow escapes from death. The dead so far as known are: Mrs. Schnabel, her two children, and Mrs. Skellenberger and her two children.

The fire spread from No. 120 to adjoining buildings and destroyed 20 of them. At least families were burned out and it is probable that other persons besides those given above have lost their lives. There were scenes of wild excitement and panic during the progress of the flames. The inmates, aroused from their slumbers by the police and others who happened to be in the vicinity, rushed wildly from their homes in scanty attire. Others would remember that some of their children were forgotten in the hasty exit and could only be prevented from rushing back into their burning homes by force.

The police and firemen worked like heroes and many daring rescues by them are recorded. Mrs. Annie Bowers, aged 26, was carried in an unconscious condition from her apartments by a brave fireman, who risked his life to save her. A family living on the top floor of this building were unaccounted for and, an effort was made to reach them, but the smoke and flames drove the rescuers back. The flames were first discovered at 2 o'clock this morning and at five o'clock were not yet under control, although the whole of the fire department was on the scene. It was impossible at that hour to get a correct list of the dead and missing, owing to the excitement that prevailed and the fact that the inmates of the burned dwellings had, in many instances, been taken in and cared for by neighbors. Probably the greatest fatalities occured in the building No. 120, where the fire originated. There were six families living there, and all were rescued alive exccpt some members of the Schnabel and Stellenberger families. Mrs. Schnabel and Mr. Stellenberger and one child were rescued with great difficulty, but the remaining members of the two families were burned to death. The family of Mr. Ashworth, consisting of himself, wife and two children, who lived on the first floor of this building, had narrow escapes. As it was, the two children were badly burned and were unconscious when rescued. They and others who were injured were removed to hospitals in ambulances.

MURDER NEAR MINNEAPOLIS.

A Bloody Deed Committed in the Suburbs of the City.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—A bloody murder mystery came to light this morning and is now being investigated by the police. Fred Henrick, a saloonkeeper at Golden valley, just west of the city, found a man lying in the feed box in his barn shed. His head was covered with blood and he was frozen stiff. Life was not yet extinct, but he died on the way to the hospital. The coroner's examination showed that the head was covered with contusions and the fore arm had a wound, received in warding off blows. Apparently the man after receiving the blows wandered in a dazed condition into the shed and laid down. The mercury was down to zero and the cold soon finished the work. The body was identified as that of Thomas Muldoon, a teamster.

Telephone Patent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Today the United States patent office issued a patent to E. Berlinger, assigner to the Bell Telephone company for a combined telegraph and telephone, which has been pending in that office since June 4, 1877. It is understood that the Bell Telephone company believes that this patent covers features which are necessary to the practical use of telephones. Inventors do not take this view of the patent. The issue of this patent is the second step taken by Commissioner Simonds, and possibly the last which it will be necessary to take, to practically dispose of a long existiug tangle of telephone liitigation in the patent office today.

COLLISION IN MICHIGAN.

Two Are Killed and Ten Seriously Injured in a Railway Smash.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 17.—A special to the News from Cadilac, Mich., says: A head end collision took place at 7 o'clock this morning on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad at Gilbert, 10 miles north of Cadillac. A freight going north and the morning passenger train from Traverse City came together.

James Smith, of Grand Rapids, engineer of the passenger train, was fatally injured, and his fireman, whose name is unknown, was killed. Dennis Murray, engineer of the freight train, was seriously injured, and his fireman, Tom Pickle, was killed. Ten passengers are reported seriously injured. All the doctors in Cardillac have gone to Gilbert on a special train.

The freight train consisted of 23 loaded and three empty cars and the passengers of one baggage car and two coaches. All were badly wrecked. There were but few passengers and all escaped serious injury.

Spain's Finances.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The finances of Spain have so long been shaky that the sudden move of that government in the direction of slashing economy has not aroused much stir in the London market, although everybody approves the boldness of the queen regent in stopping the addition to the navy when maritime powers are laying on taxation right and left, or issuing loans to build new ironclads. A dispatch from Madrid says that the new policy was determined upon only because the queen regent resolved that it should be. The ministers earnestly objected, but the queen insisted, and Spain will have to be content with the respectable, but not formidable fleet which it now possesses. The queen is also, it is said, urging another economy and that is the stoppage of the pensions of ex-ministers after a certain period.

They Make Their Marks.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—In addition to the regular estimates contained in the ordinary budget which will be submitted to the reichstag there will also be submitted supplementary estimates amounting to 8,895,000 marks. Of this amount it is proposed to devote the sum of 7,751,000 marks to the use of the commissary department of the army.

No regularly elected delegates are present, all churchmen who desire to attend being permitted to do so. The congress has no legislative power, but is held for the purpose of interchanging religious thought and ideas. The sessions will last four days.

SAD INDEED.

Two Deaths Occur Last Night in M. H. Alworth's Household.

The home of M. H. Alworth, of Fifth avenue west, has been sadly devested by that dread disease, diphtheria, within the past 24 hours. At 4 p. m. yesterday, Occiva Shell, the servant girl, died, and at 8 p. m. her body was interred. At 11 p. m., Walter Henry, Mr. Alworth's 12-year-old son, passed away. His funeral, which was private, occurred this afternoon. The girl was 19 years old and had been sick but a very few days, undoubtedly catching the disease from the other patient. Some cousins were the only relatives that she had in Duluth.

The western part of the Fourth ward appears to be the present stronghold of the disease, from which many people argue that it is due to the sanitary condition of the sewer. There is no doubt that the disease can come from sewers and so everyone should see to it that his house is thoroughly disinfected. Druggists say they are selling large quantities of chloride of lime and sulphur as disinfectants just now. The cost is but a few cents. Some physicians say that a liberal diet of onions is also an excellent preventive of the disease.

The 11-year-old child of Mr. Rathbone, 1029 Sixth avenue east, died this morning of diphtheria. The disease seems to be becoming quite prevalent, the new cases averaging more than one a day.

Tried to Bribe Him.

In connection with the revocation of the Timlin license, it may not be amiss to state that this is the first time that a license was ever revoked in Duluth. One of the Timlins on the night of the council meeting last week left a $10 bill at the house of Alderman Cox, while he was away, "just as a present for the baby." That was the night on which the committee reported against Timlin. Timlin would have received bad treatment had the alderman been around when the money was left there. The west end may well feel proud of the man who secured the revocation of the license.

CHANGE OF FRONT.

Since the report of Engineer Keating was made public, the mayor, the candidates for mayor, the city attorney, and no doubt some others, have come out against the purchase of the gas and water plant under the present offer, their action being based on what they believe good and sufficient reasons. To us their grounds seem untenable to one who believes, as they all do, in municipal ownership.

As their change of heart and action is based on Engineer Keating's report it has no other real ground than that of the cost of duplicating the present plant. All other conditions existed when the election was called and were foreseen. But so long as all admit there will be no duplication, what has such an estimate to do with the question? The point really to be considered, so far as estimates are concerned, is, what is a fair price for the old plant on its prasent and prospective earning capacity? We shall never duplicate, so to buy or not to buy is the question—and the only one.

But taking Engineer Keating's report and adding to its total other items not included we arrive at the following:

Value of gas and water plant	$1,091,000
Real estate, appraised value	76,780
2000 Service connections owned by company	125,000
West Duluth contract	60,000
Interest and operating expenses for five years till plant is on paying basis	300,000
Net earning of old plant, above interest and operating expenses, for five years.	150,000
Damage to business interests and inconvenience of tearing up streets during two years of construction	200,000
Total	$2,002,780

In making the above estimates we have drawn somewhat on Mr. Davis' report. He states that there are 2000 service connections and estimates it would cost from $125,000 to $150,000 to duplicate them. We use his lowest figures. His figures on the West Duluth contract are also taken. He estimates that allowing two years for construction, and considering the competition of the private company, it would require from four to five years to place the plant on a paying basis. It is hardly to be believed that it could be done in less than the longest time mentioned. He also places the expenditures for that period at from $275,000 to $325,000. We use $300,000 for five years. The present increase of the earning capacity of the gas and water plant, which for three years past has averaged thirty per cent annually, is most likely to continue, and as its present net earnings, not deducting interest, is $101,191.52 while 4½ per cent of $1,050,000 is only $87,750, leaving a balance of $13,441.52, it is fair to estimate the average net revenue for the next five years at $30,000 a year. The present interest rate is somewhat higher than this, but as the $295,000 of 6 per cent bonds have only thirteen years to run, and the remaining 5 per cents only seventeen years, there is little doubt that both series would be exchanged for our 4½ thirty year bonds because of the longer time and better security they afford. There are suits now pending against the city for guaranties amounting to much more than our estimate of the $30,000 they are likely to cost us, and if any one thinks $200,000 too high an estimate for the loss to business interests and the public inconvenience during two years of blasting along our streets, we should like to hear from him. The figures given we believe to be fair and honest, and if they are not so we shall be glad to have them corrected.

To float bonds for a duplicate plant would surely require a 1 per cent higher rate of interest than for purchase bonds. We have seen that the total cost of the new plant would be about $2,000,000. One per cent interest on this amount for thirty years would be $600,000, which is an item to be considered, especially by those who are frightened at the price. In view of such facts as these does anyone presume we shall build a new plant or that the company will be coerced by threats that have no bottom to sell the old one at a loss? We can't make them read that way.

The Pioneer Press will entertain its country correspondents on Tuesday, Nov. 24. It will show them how to make a great paper, give them a drive around the city, banquet them sumptuously, and take them to the theater later in the evening. Transportation from their homes will also be provided. This is a pleasing sort of hospitality that will keep alive gentle recollections as "far thrcugh memory shine the happy days."

ONLY A BLUFF.

All talk of duplicating the present gas and water plant is insincere. Were the question seriously considered the citizens of Duluth would rise as one man and oppose it. The most ardent advocate of the idea does not expect it will be carried out, nor does he desire such a consummation. The proposition is put forth merely as a bluff, and its champions openly declare it will never be acted on, but assert if we make a few false motions in that direction the company will be glad to sell at a much lower price than that now offered.

This seems to us like childish prattle. The gas and water company can see a bluff as far as we can. Its stockholders know as we know, and as no one doubts, the local sentiment on the proposed undertaking. It may as well be set down once for all that duplication is beyond the range of possibilities, and that a constantly improving money market is a poor thing to bluff on. By the first of February and before the spring election, at which time it is said we might vote to purchase the plant, the market will be so relieved that the company can float its bonds and the stockholders will not be eager to sell. During the stringency of the present season the company rather than sell twenty year bonds at a high rate of interest has used them as collateral for a temporary loan at 8 and 10 per cent which can be met with the sale of bonds at a lower rate when the money market becomes normal in the spring. Therefore, although the present is an unfavorable time for the city to negotiate its bonds, it is a good time to buy the plant, and only $225,000 is required on Dec. 1. It ought not to be difficult to secure a temporary loan for this purpose and not force the sale of bonds for sixty days, within which time advantageous terms could be made.

Let no voter be misled by an unmasked bluff like this, nor imagine that although some of the stockholders of the company may be a little fresh, the city can take them all in on a green goods game. If we don't buy now, there is but the slightest possibility that we can secure the plant before '93, and then only by paying 10 per cent more than its value based on its earning capacity, as provided in its charter. Any voter who believes in municipal ownership of gas and water plants need not falter now. Don't be dismayed by desertions from the ranks of the faithful. Let the faint-hearted fall by the wayside, let the ninety-days' men go home and stay there, and let the opponents of progress vote as they will, but the veterans who are in till the end of the war should be at the polls on Thursday and see to it that the bonds are carried and the incessant local strive blotted forever from the records of Duluth.

If the city should determine to duplicate the present gas and water plant, it would have to pay a higher rate of interest than 4½ per cent. If it paid 1 per cent more on the estimate of Engineer Keating plus the $300,000 of estimated expenditures before the plant could be placed on a paying basis, it would be equal to a $325,000 additional loan at the lower rate.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was apparently against the present purchase, but not all the people were there, and it is doubtful if half of those who were there are registered.

The chamber of commerce had a lively meeting this morning, the gas and water purchase being the subject of discussion. Nine members were present.

This is a great year for record breaking. The cotton receipts at New Orleans were the largest yesterday of any day in its history. This is a great country.

There is only one day between this and the gas and water bond election. Better make up your mind which side you are on pretty soon.

Engineer Chester B. Davis, of Chicago, is in the city today going over the gas and water plant estimates with City Engineer Keating.

Rev. G. H. Kemp will make the Dakota pilgrimage the subject of his discourse next Sunday night.

Chicago people are eating lumpy jawed steers but it is said they save the brass knobs from their horns.

When the bond election is out of the way railway terminal matters should receive immediate attention.

It was a little unexpected yesterday to see a good prohibitionist like Z. D. Scott oppose cheap water.

When shall we have that mass meeting and start the ball rolling for direct railroads to Dakota?

LOGS CUT, NOT SAWED.

An Invention Capable of Turning Out Forty Boards a Minute.

[New York Sun.]

A new lumber cutting machine was tried yesterday afternoon at the works of the Brawlaw Draw Cut Lumber Cutting company, Greenpoint, L. I. The experiment was highly successful. The machine, upon which Dr. Bradley and Thomas S. Crane, of Newark, have been working for the past five years, is 42 ft long, 15 ft wide, and 8 ft high. Its weight is 45 tons. The object of the invention, which may largely do away with the use of the buzz saws, is to economize time and the lumber itself. The machine will take a log eight feet long and cut boards from it at the rate of 40 a minute of any width from one thirty-second of an inch to one inch in thickness. There is not the slightest waste of material in the cutting. It is calculated that when saws are used one-fourth of the wood is wasted in sawdust and planing if inch boards are being cut. In sawing boards one and one-sixteenth of an inch in thickness the loss is 215 per cent of the boards turned out.

The knife is three feet long and it weighs 500 pounds. It works with a draw motion, a sort of combination of knife and saw, which prevents the fibres of wood from breaking. A roller preceding the knife compresses the wood and aids in this matter, which the inventors found was the most difficult of the ends to be attained. The knife is moved by a wooden connecting rod fastened to a wheel 10 feet in diameter. Every revolution of this wheel makes a board.

The machine is fed by an apparatus which is controlled by two screws set in babbet metal. A chain gear connects the two screws so that they move with absolute accuracy, thus making the boards exactly the same width from one end to the other. A system of cogs is so arranged that by changing the size of the cog wheel the width of the board to be cut is regulated. The total output of the machine when in running order will be from 80,000 to 100,000 feet a day.

The new invention, it is said, will revolutionize the making of boards for cigar boxes, backs of pictures, butter boxes, and the like. Yesterday afternoon ash, cherry, birch and basswood logs were cut. The boards dropped from the blade as smooth as if rubbed with sandpaper.

Red Cars and Green Lights.

People say, "oh no, I wouldn't live in the suburbs and vegetate and become bucolic;" but that's all they know about it. You just move into the suburbs, say on an electric line, and see if your mind isn't made active, your legs nimble and your every thought a question. The mere question of getting to and fro will cover all conditions of an active mind in an active body, for you haven't ceased to wonder how you ever had the luck to catch a car and get home, before you begin to wonder how in thunder you'll ever get to town again. That's easy, of course—just look at the time card, but it will take a Philadelphia lawyer to "get onto," that card, and if he wasn't pretty sharp he'd never "get onto" a car by its help! On one point, we in our favored suburb have no anxiety; a "red" car is ours sure, and we watch its approach with severity and feel with the anarchists that red is the color for us! But don't get fooled at night, for the red car has a green light and if you run after a red light you get left on the corner swearing that the whole motor line is color blind or worse.

Do you think we have nothing to talk about after we have really and truly collared a red car with a green light and got aboard of it? Nothing to talk about I say, but calves and cabbages! Didn't we get our heads together and wonder and wonder if the McKinley tariff was so high on glass, that one car had to run with three windows out, and then we fell to wondering why the company didn't have the "motor man" and the guileless conductor without a motive chop wood at the end of the line while they were resting. Of course we didn't want to break the men's rest, but the company had a little timber, don't you know, and some of us delicate ones wanted a fire in the stove and there was no coal in sight.

One day a passenger said that he had raised a turnip on his place, and we all came near becoming bucolic, when something occurred which has since happened frequently and we haven't yet fathomed the mystery. The motor man walked into the car, raised the floor, got down on his knees and spat upon the machinery! This done, he got up, looked wise, and went back to his place! Now, was he showing contempt for the machinery by doing that, or was it simply a rule of the company against his spitting over the dasher? I tell you, these things keep us thinking and we haven't had time to get back to thank man and his turnip yet.

We all walked into town this morning, but then we didn't mind a little that like that. By jingos tho', I wonder if we'll have to walk out tonight!!

Modern Magicians.

Among the wild tribes of Africa, and equally so among the aborigines of America, the magician, or the medicine-man, is looked upon as endowed with supernatural powers. Some are specialists, and among these the most valued and respected are the "rain makers." Rain being indispensible to the maintainance of either animal or vegetable life, it is not to be wondered at that those supposed to have the power to bring the welcome showers should be reverenced as almost divine benefactors. These are regarded as savage superstitutions, but strange to say, "rain makers" have appeared in our day and country. The United States government had a corps of rain makers in Texas last summer, who with a series of terrific explosions, produced rain—with some exceptions. One Melbourne, of Ohio, deluged Cheyenne with water from the clouds, without artillery, balloons, or other visible means. These reports may be exaggerated; they may not be true; and the magicians may be only humbugs. One modern magician, however, has demonstrated a clear title—and he is the inventor of the railroad. Transportation is easy, swift, and even luxurously comfortable—provided your ticket is bought over "The Burlington," the great scenic and vestibuled line of the Northwest. For tickets, maps and timetables, call on any of its ticket agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

BISHOP M'GOLRICK HOME

He is Given a Royal Reception by the Catholic Societies of the City With a Good Contingent From Superior.

A Procession Forms at the Depot and Escorts Him to the Temple Opera Where Addresses of Welcome are Made.

The Bishop Responds in an Address Touching National and Local Affairs; Farmers For Duluth.

It was certainly a most cheerful experience that Bishop McGolrick had after a long European tour on his return to Duluth last night. The catholic societies of Duluth and about 50 residents of Superior formed a procession at the depot and escorted him to the Temple Opera where a more formal and most cordial reception was given him.

The exercises included a concert of a very interesting character. The soloists were Misses Margaret McDonald and Annie Farrell and Frank Porter, all of whom sang in a very pleasing manner, Miss McDonald being very heartily encored. Miss Farrell's selection was sung with much taste. Mr. Lahey and Miss McDonald sang a duet, Campana's "I Live and Love Thee," in excellent style. Mr. Lahey has a good basso voice. There were several quartets and Mr. Sydney Brown charmed the audience with several selections on the violin.

Mayor Davis for the city and T. M. Helinski for the diocese of Duluth appeared upon the stage with the bishop and made speeches of welcome, to which the bishop fervently and eloquently replied, touching also upon his trip, its experiences and successes. In his remarks he stated that through the munificence of a man who is not a catholic, a great catholic seminary and college for the future young catholics of Minnesota and the Dakotas is about to be built. It was necessary to provide a staff of profeseors, and the bishops had obtained for that purpose young men born in Minnesota who have exhausted the treasures of knowledge in Europe, at Oxford, Cambridge, Edinburgh and Paris, and now come back to give us the results of their studies and bring up our young men so that we may be proud of them. He had been led to believe that the old prejudices existed in England, but at Oxford and Cambridge he found catholics and protestants together seeking knowledge and all the dividing lines broken down. In future all the young men of the diocese will be sent to these institutions at St. Paul, so that men may be turned out capable of teaching the people.

It is no longer possible for the priests to say only that they bring a God-given message, but the people now demand reasons for the faith that is in them, and the priests must be learned men, able to give those reasons. He dealt with the old saying that it was the province of the catholic church to keep the people in ignorance, and denied that it was true. The keen struggle to obtain a living was responsible for any ignorance that existed in France and Ireland.

The stories published of fighting in Ireland were exaggerated by enemies who wanted to create the impression that the Irish are not capable of self-government. He was present at the recent trouble in the cities where elections were held. They were caused by young men taking liquor and throwing a few stones and using blackthorns. He would tell them, however, that feeling in England toward Ireland had greatly changed, and no matter what government was in power, whether Gladstonian or Balfourian, the people of Ireland were about to obtain a fair measure of liberty and a form of self-government. There is a new spirit in Ireland. There is a good education given in her schools, and the young men why are educated in them will tolerate no man between them and the liberty to which they aspire. The tendency in Ireland among the young people is that, if they cannot make a living there, they come here and be good citizens under the stars and stripes. They are not found waving a red flag. They do not curse the country of their adoption. They are not the enemies of the authorities of the country. No people have a better future than the Americans. While the countries of Europe are preparing for war, we are peaceful, and it is the duty of every bishop and priest of every denomination in this country to cultivate peace and to educate our people to serve God and to do well to themselves, their families and their followers. There can be no limits to education these days. There is no more prescribing as to what women shall learn. We must give opportunity to all, whether catholics or non-catholics, to become educated. The justice of the American people will recognize that now the time has come when the growing demand of the catholics in this country, who have maintained parochial schools for years, that they may participate in the benefits of the country's school system, can no longer be resisted. The time has come when we can leave to the schools the study of secular subjects only, and can leave to the bishops and priests and parents and other outside influences the inculcation of piety and religion. Duluth he discovered was known abroad and he had sounded the city's praises. Duluth will necessarily be a great commercial center, and with the assistance of those owning land around Duluth, he hoped to be able to secure the settlement of the good farming lands that are to be found in this vicinity. People supposed it was all rock here, but his priests informed him that there was excellent agricultural land which could support prosperous farming communities. He was sure he would receive the warm support of the chamber of commerce in this undertaking.

WHAT WE EAT.

Armour & Co., Sue to Recover Nine Tons of Oleomargarine.

The Armour Butterine company, otherwise known as Armour & Co., have brought suit against J. A. Lawrence, state dairy commissioner, in the United States circuit court for the recovery of the oleomargarine recently seized by the defendant in this city. The property taken is itemized as follows: Nineteen tubs, 30 pounds each; 119 tubs, 50 pounds each; 66 tubs, 52 pounds each; 5 tubs, 30 pounds each; 50 tubs, 54 pounds each; 103 tubs, 54 pounds each; total 18,364 pounds, valued at $2852.19. The plaintiff also wants $50 damages.

Council Meeting.

Last night's session of the city sires was a short one, the chief action being the revocation of Tom Timlin's saloon license.

An ordinance excluding block 9 of Portland division from the fire limits was passed to its first reading. The petition of the foreman of the street gang for a supply of mittens, rubbers and shovels was referred. A report was received from the city comptroller, accompanied by schedules of street assessments, and asking that the assessments be delivered on the installment plan as provided for in section 11, chapter 5, of the city charter. A resolution to that effect carried. Estimates for street sprinkling were allowed. The city clerk was instructed to draw an order in favor of Fred J. Voss, assignee of Bell & Anderson, for $147.13, for damage to the pavement on the corner of Fourth street and Lake avenue by the washout last summer. A resolution permitting the street railway to increase its speed from six to eight miles an hour between Third avenue east and Sixth avenue west was unanimously carried.

Superior Notes.

The Thayer Investment company was organized yesterday for the handling of real estate and pine lands.

City Treasurer Barbideau has divided the sinking funds among the several local banks, in accordance with a recent arrangement for the deposit of city funds. The total was $121,105.09.

Frank Ruger is back from the East, where he has conducted a six weeks' campaign for Superior.

Two new street cars have just arrived and will soon be followed by several more.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic freight depot is just completed and will be used in a few days.

Miss Henrietta McKay will bring a suit against the city for $5000 damages for internal injuries by falling on the sidewalk several weeks ago.

The Contemporary club, of Old Superior met last night at the home of Col. Hiram Hayes. Miss Jessie Evans read a paper on the political and commercial relations between England and Ireland, and Professor A. J. Hogan one on Parnell and his work in Ireland. The papers were exceedingly interesting and the meeting a most instructive one.

The library executive committee have decided to purchase a large number of books, among them the Peoples cyclopedia. J. T. Dodge has presented the library with five volumes of the American Society of Civil Engineers, two volumes of the American Railroad Gazette and two maps of the water distribution and sewer system of Milwaukee.

Trouble Brewing on the Nemadji.

The Nemadji River Boom company, which is composed to a large extent of local lumbermen, is likely to have trouble in getting logs down that river during the coming years. Hitherto the people owning the lands on either bank of the river have been under contract with the company to allow rafts to be tied up to the banks wherever it was found necessary. The contract has expired and it is not likely to be renewed by the land owners very soon. The boom company is about to contract with some individual for bringing the logs down during the coming year, and it will be difficult to close such a contract when it is known that there are fresh hindrances in the way of rafting.

"Incog" at the Temple.

"Incog" presented by Charles Dickson supported by the Geo. W. Lederer Model company, will make its initial bow to a Duluth audience at the Temple Opera house tonight. Its success in West Superior last night was phenomenal and it claims to be the best and funniest comedy of the season appears to be well established. "Incog" will be preceded by a curtain raiser, a different one being given each night. The one selected for tonight is "Book III, Chapter I," a dainty 30-minute comedietta from the French and the one for tomorrow "The Salt Cellar," a domestic glimpse, adapted from the German by Henry Doblin, both of them exquisite bits. "Incog" will have a big house.

New Trial Granted.

Judge Nelson, of the United States circuit court, has granted the request of the defendant in Malcolm Campbell vs. Gustav Herman for a new trial. The verdict given was $2000. The court's reason is as follows: The charge to the jury did not direct their attention with sufficient particularity to the evidence given by Mr. Marsh. He was the chief witness aside from the plaintiff to establish the right to recover. His cross examination was exhaustive, but the manner of giving his testimony did not impress the court."

Plates Drove Him Crazy.

P. C. Peterson, for some time back a Duluth printer, was sent to the Oshkosh insane asylum yesterday by the Superior authorities. When arrested he held a knife in his hand and his words signified that he had a mission in this world, which mission was to cut out plates. The newspapers using plates should be indicted by the grand jury for bringing misfortune upon Peterson.

New Dress for Ten Cents.

For three years a woman living on Third street has had one best gown that did duty on all dress occasions.

She surprised her friends last week by appearing in a new black dress. But she surprised them still more when she said it was the same old dress, only she had colored it with Diamond Dye fast black.

THE CHAMBER CONVENE

The Chamber of Commerce With Nine Members Present Held an Important Meeting This Morning.

A Public Meeting to be Called to Hear More of the Great West From the Dakota Pilgrims.

Rousing Resolutions on the Water Plant Carried by 4 to 3; Another Meeting Called for Tomorrow.

At a meeting of the chamber this morning. There was a small attendance at the chamber of commerce meeting this morning, just a quorum being present. A committee of two was appointed to arrange a public meeting at the earliest day possible, at which those who took part in the Dakota excursion will tell what they saw and heard. The meeting will probably be arranged in one of the opera houses some evening of this week.

The question of the chamber taking some action on the gas and water election was brought up and elicited considerable spirited comment. Alderman Long introduced the following resolution, which was adopted after some discussion on the advisability of doing so at this meeting or postponing action on it until tomorrow forenoon, when a special meeting of the chamber is called to discuss the matter further. The amendment to postpone, however, was voted down and the resolution passed.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this chamber that the city ought not at this time to consummate the proposed purchase of the plant of the Duluth Gas and Water company for the following among other weighty reasons:

First. It means a city debt of nearly $1,000,000.

Second. It means in twenty years the payment in interest of a total of nearly $800,000 in excess of the rate at which the city could float its own bonds.

Third. Engineer Keating's report shows the value of a new plant to be only about one-half the estimated value of the old plant and it is poor business policy to misuse public money by paying two dollars, for one dollar received in value.

Fourth. The city has no present use for a gas plant, and if the amount allowed for this portion of the plant is deducted from the total estimate, it leaves us a new water plant for about $750,000 as against nearly $2,000,000 demanded for the old plant with gas plant included.

Fifth. To furnish fire protection and a supply of water to the territory not now supplied, will involve an expenditure of nearly $500,000 on top of the purchase price of $2,000,000- and the bonds for this purpose cannot be floated as a second mortgage on a plant already mortgaged for nearly $1,800,000, and which a competent engineer has pronounced worth now only about $1,000,000.

Sixth. If the people vote to purchase the plant at $1,950,000, the city must raise over $500,000 within two days time, which is a simple impossibility and the city thus invites a suit against itself for damages for non-fulfillment of contract.

Seventh. It is no proof that an article is worth $2 because you can make 10 cents out of it every year. Actual values and cost of replacement is the true basis to figure from and any court will so hold, and

Resolved, that unless the reasons outlined above are successfully combatted, this chamber cannot but look upon the proposed purchase as a waste of public money.

Alderman Long read the following comparative statement of figures, one column giving the report of Expert Davis, the other the estimates of Engineer Keating. The latter's figures are higher in one instance, the mains, hydrants, etc., of Lakeside plant, by $2256. In other instances where Engineer Keating had no access to the official documents or figures like those of rock excavations, gas plant building and machinery, he accepted Expert Davis' figures.

Alderman Long also stated that the city was under contract with the option holders within a few days of the election, and that it would be impossible for the city to do so even at half the price. That the council in this matter had been urged as with a whip.

A special meeting of the chamber has been called for tomorrow forenoon, when the matter will be aired further. It is expected there will be some lively times.

THE PUBLIC PULSE.

Feeling Everywhere Runs High Against Buying the Plant Now.

The revelation made yesterday of City Engineer Keating is the sole topic of conversation today, and some declare that the proposition to buy at the present time the plant of the gas and water company, will be overwhelmingly defeated. Even some of the members of the council, one of whom is a member of the committee that recommended the purchase at $1,950,000, have signified that they are now agrinst it. City Attorney Allen, Secretary Thompson, of the chamber, Collector Johnson, each of whom has represented a different phase of the question, but all in favor of it, have turned squarely about. In all the travels of the scribe this morning he did not find a single man who did not admit that there was something wrong somewhere.

Expert Davis, it was stated by City Attorney Allen, had been sent for by Mr. Sargent on Saturday night when he discovered that an adverse report was to be rendered. He arrived last night at 7:20, although for over a week the city engineer could not get a word from him in answer so numerous telegrams. Mr. Davis is said to be at the Spalding werking for all he is worth in his shirt sleeves, but he has not mado a move to meet the city engineer, who waited patiently at his office for him all the forenoon. It is thought that a report will be made by Mr. Davis tomorrow. If he does not explain away some things his reputation is blasted.

One thing that counts strong against the expert is the fact that he is said to be the consulting engineer of the Lakeside Water company. Assistant City Engineer Lewis said this morning that with a couple of weeks more time he was sure the present low estimate of Engineer Keating could be reduced $100,000. Owen Fargusson this morning told a member of the board of trade that he had been offered a large block of the Duluth company's stock the past fall at 10 cents on the dollar and even at that he was afraid to touch it.

A union meeting of the divisions will accordingly be held on that evening.

While the procession which honored the return of Bishop McGolrick last night was marching from the depot to Temple Opera, John Keough fell from his horse, bruising his face and dislocating his shoulder. He was taken to the hospital and will be all right in a few days. He was one of the visiting Superiorites.

Superior Leader: "Incog" drew a small audience last evening, and yet it is one of the best legitimate farces that has ever been presented at the Grand, and is one of the funniest as well, for it is brimming over with mirth. The most startling and comical situations follow each other so rapidly that the audience is bewildered to know what is coming next. The entire company is of the best, and deserved a larger audience.

The ladies of the different churches of the city have united through the Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M C. A. in an effort to secure funds to help furnish the new association building, now rapidly going up. Lunches will be served each day this week, beginning from 11:30 to 3 o'clock, in the large vacant store No. 16 East Superior street. Each denomination will take pride in making its lunch an attractive one, so that a very good dinner may be expected each day. The presbyterians serve Tuesday, the methodists Wednesday, the congregationalists Thursday, the baptists Friday and the christian church Saturday.

A Pleasant Party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hardy, of the Ingalls block on East Fourth street, were agreeably surprised last evening by a party of young friends. A most enjoyable time was spent all. Music and games were a pleasant feature of the evening. The party broke up at 11:30 o'clock. Among those present were: Misses Nolan, Numrow, Steinson, Engeland, Hood, Dunoon, Hilda, Flannery, Greene, Hagen and Hardy: Messrs. McDonald, Mathson, Swift, Lerch, Robinson, Eriner, Brenton, Scott and Master Harry Hardy.

In District Court.

Peter Dohm was found guilty of larceny. The case against Ed Stapleton is on trial.

Judge Baxter arrived from St. Cloud this afternoon.

A $50,000 DEAL.

The Merritts of This City Secure Valuable Iron Lands.

Geo. S. Shaw, the big lumberman of Cloquet, yesterday consummated a deal with the Merritts of this city, which is indicative of the strong feeling in regard to lands on the Western Mesaba. He sold to them over 1000 acres of land for $50,000 reserving the pine to himself. Mineral has been found on some of it and two forties are close to the rich Biwabik mine. Following is the description of the property:

Lot 1 and se¼ of ne¼ and s½ of sw¼, sec. 2; sw¼ of nw¼ and nw¼ of sw¼, sec. 4; e½ of ne¼, sec. 5, and se¼ of sw¼, sec. 5; w½ of ne¼ and all se¼, sec. 7; n½ of sw¼, sec. 10; e½ of se¼, sec. 9; lots 2, 3 and 4, sec. 14; se¼ of nw¼ and lot 3, sec. 15; lots 3 and 4, sec. 18, all in town 58, range 16.

Was About to Skip.

Matti Longii, the man who was robbed by Joe Clendenning, and who was wanted as a witness in the case before the district court, was, with several other Finlanders, about to depart on tonight's South Shore train for New York. Detective Decoursey became aware of the fact and this morning took him to police headquarters, where he can be found when wanted.

THE MARKETS.

They Are Nominally Higher and Firm, With Later Cables Lower.

Our posted receipts this morning make another fine showing of the liberal movement of grain to this market, bringing yesterday's inspection into store, amounting to 722,080 bu of wheat, 18,403 bu of flax seed and 454 bu of rye, our shipments having been 311,613 bu of wheat and 19,684 bu of barley. We have 414 cars of grain on track this morning. No doubt considerably more would have arrived had it not been for the henvy snowstorm of Sunday and Monday.

The local market started with a spurt of firmness at ½c above yesterday's closing prices, but there were such large offerings and so many free sellers that prices immediately dropped back to last night's quotations. The market ruled dull, frequently fluctuating back to the opening prices and ½ to ½c below. Late cables generally lower with limits reduced.

Official figures of the Australian wheat crop shows a decrease of about 10,000,000 bu from previous estimates. Wheat on passage increases 2,496,000 bu over last week. The close was easy on cash wheats and about steady at the opening prices for December and May.

Cash No. 1 hard opened easy at ⅛c below last night's close at 91½c, declined to 91c, recovered to 91½c, closed dull at 91¼c.

Cash No. 1 northern opened at 90c, broke to 89½c, ruled fairly active, sold up to 90c, eased off to 89¾c and closed with sellers at 89¾c.

No. 2 northern opened ¼c off at 85c, ruled steady with good sales. Closed firm at 85c. No. 3 spring opened unchanged at 82c, declined to 81½c, closed dull and ½c lower at 81c. Rejected wheat, good business in car lots at 70c. No grade selling at 69½c. Regular closed steady at 70c. November wheats dull and neglected. Both grades closed ¼c lower for the day. No. 1 hard at 91¼c. No. 1 northern at 89¾ sellers. December 1 hard closed nominally at 91½c. December No. 1 northern opened nominally higher and closed firm and higher with sellers at 90c. May No. 1 hard small trading at ¼c advance at $1.00, ruled dull and closed at $1.00. May No. 1 northern opened ½c up at 98c, broke to 97½c, ruled active, advanced to 97¾c, spurted up to 98¼c, declined to 98c, then to 97¾c, with last transactions at 98c, closed steady at 98c. Flax seed firm and ½c higher, fair business at 89½c. Closed firm at 89½c. Mill feed unchanged at $14.00 for bran and $15.00 per ton for shorts in sacks.

Minneapolis Wheat.

Minneapolis—No. 1 northern Dec. opened 87¾c; closed 88¼c. On track No. 1 hard, 91c; No. 1 northern, 89½c; No. 2 northern, 85@87c.

The Close Elsewere.

Chicago—Wheat: December, 94⅝c; May, $1.01¾@½. Corn: November, 51⅝c; Decembe. 45¼c; May, 43c. Oats: November, 32¾c; December, 31¼c; May, 32⅜c. Pork: December, $8.60; January, $11.50; May, $11.80. Lard: December, $6.22½; May, $6.65.

Grain Inspection.

Following is the movement of grain at Duluth for the past 24 hours: Inspection: 1125 cars, of which 1106 is wheat, 2 barley, 46 flax, and 1 rye. Last year, wheat, 531. New York Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Money 4 to 5 per cent. The stock market was excessively dull this morning. Only 65,100 shares were sold up to noon. Most of the stock was made up by transactions in Reading, Tennessee coal, Atchison, Erie, St. Paul and Delaware & Hudson. The first prices were irregularly changed, some being ⅛ to ⅜ higher and others lower to a similar extent. At 11 o'clock there was some strength developed by the Reading at the hour named. Values were generally fractionally higher than yesterday. Tennessee coal was an exception, declining 1 per cent. During the hour to noon the only important change was advance of ¾ in Delaware & Hudson to 120¾. The rest of the market presented no feature and at noon prices were only slightly chngaed.

HEADS OFF.

Four Conductors on the Iron Range Lose Their Jobs.

There was a thunder clap today when it was announced that Conductors A. P. Dodge, Joseph Griffiths, Tom Sincyr and Tom Hannon, of the Duluth & Iron Range, had lost their jobs. No one seems to know the reason for it. Mr. Smith, ex-private secretary to General Manager Carpenter, is temporarily punching tickets. All of the discharged men were very popular, especially Conductor Dodge.

Bauder's Weather Strip

AND SASH HOLDER COMBINED.

I would call the attention of residents to this invention for holding sash, as it does away with all side stops, it holds the sash at any position and keeps it tight so as to exclude all dust and cold, stops the sash from rattling in windy weather, and is perfectly safe, as it cannot come down to catch fingers and break glass.

A Great Tonic For Trade This!

Furs Vanishing Like Magic!

We considered our trade on Furs extra good in October, but yesterday they disappeared from our Fur Department like magic.

"$14.25 buys a Hudson Bay Black Marten Cape and Muff, full satin-lined and of the very best shapes. They are going very fast.

"Those $2.25 Persian Lamb Muffs are selling like cakes. They are in good form.

"Those Real Alaska Seal Muffs, selling at $4.25, are meeting with wonderful success. How quickly knowledge of low prices spreads.

Heavy Cloaks Selling With a Vim.

"Our $15 Astrakhan-trimmed Jackets seem to just "fill the bill" for many. They are extremely stylish, of the nobby shape, and are good and warm.

"Those $10.50 Natural Opossum-trimmed Jackets are wonderful sellers for a novelty. And for a good, warm, low-priced Ulster try to beat our $5 Museler. If you could come in the morning and avoid the usual afternoon heavy trade we could more properly serve you.

Blankets, Flannels and Comforts

ARE ASSERTING THEIR IMPORTANCE.

Our 25c all-wool Red Twilled Flannel is a big seller. The $5.98 White Wool Blankets are selected from the entire stock by many; they are extra heavy, of the largest size made, and very fine wool. Those heavy all-wool "Amana" Flannels walking away at 45c. You don't need glasses to see they are good. Our $2 Comfort met with large sales yesterday. They are very soft, well stitched, and of extra size. Our 42c Comfort sells mostly by the stack. You'd be surprised to see how quickly a stack of 50 Comforts at 42c melts away. Blankets as high as $25 a pair. Comforts up to $15.

Important Notice!
